How to Control Cockroach Pest

The cockroach, one of the worst pests of the housewife, can be successfully controlled. Here is the remedy given by George A. Dean, professor of entomology in the Kansas State Agricultural college, and used not only in homes, but in many big flour mills in Kansas.

Get a large pan or a deep jar, the deeper the better, and place a foul, damp dish rag in it. Set up sticks or laths on an easy slant from the floor to the pan or jar, so that there will be no difficulty for the roaches to get to the edge of the jar. The roaches will run up these laths or sticks and be attracted to the damp dish rag within the jar, for they congregated in such places.

Place this trap in the pantry or kitchen or wherever the roaches are found and leave it overnight, as the roaches hide and are quiet during the day and make their odious raids at night. The first thing in the morning pour boiling water over the rag to kill the roaches hiding in it, for they will surely be there if they are in the house.
