ORDER OF CALL

List of North Marion County Men Showing the Order in Which They Will Be Called.

Below are given the names of those registered for military service, who are well known in this part of Marion county. The number at the left is the serial number and the one at the right is the number that shows the order in which the registered ones will be called for physical examination in the Northern Marion county district. Thus L. E. Swan will be the fourth man called for examination, Chas. Fowler the seventh, P. E. Gibbins the twenty-first, E. M. Zimmerman the thirtieth, and so on. The numbers omitted, like 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, etc., are the names of those not living in this immediate part of the county.

Names of the registered men of Clackamas county, living near Aurora, have not been obtained, though this newspaper requested a list from the county clerk of Clackamas county—one of the members of the exemption board. No Marion county men were called up for examination on the first call, but the second call includes Marion county men.

AGENT MILLER STATES VIEWS ON CAR SHORTAGE

Station agent Geo. Miller makes an earnest appeal to local shippers to help out the government by heavier loading of freight cars. He says much of his company's trouble comes from the practice of using a whole car to carry a shipment that only half fills it. "The national welfare demands the complete use of every freight car," says Mr. Miller, "and if the public will co-operate by getting together and ordering goods (whenever possible) in carload lots, by loading cars 10 per cent above market capacity, and by loading and unloading promptly, working Sundays and holidays, if necessary, there will be no such thing as a car shortage. Such action will also assist Uncle Sam in a 'war measure' of no inconsiderable importance."

TWO ACCIDENTS DISABLE BENDSHADLER, HARNACK

Arthur Harnack was seriously injured Saturday while working at a clover huler at the D. S. Miller farm, the bones in his forearm being partially crushed and the flesh stripped from his hand and wrist. Dr. Dedman who was called to attend him, took the injured man to a Portland hospital where the wound was treated, and pieces of bone removed from the arm.

George Bendshadler was painfully burned by electric current while working on an electric light pole at Hubbard. Coming in contact with live wires rendered him unconscious and he hung by his safety belt across the wires which burned his arms and wrists. Mr. Robinson, of the Molalla Electric company, who was present, quickly ordered the current shut off at the power house, summoned help, and Bendshadler was assisted to the ground. He was somewhat dazed and rather painfully burned, but is still in the ring.

HOW TO CAN CORN

Can as soon after the corn is gathered as possible. Remove husks and silk. Blanch by placing in boiling water for five minutes. Remove and dip quickly into and out of cold water. Cut the corn from the cob and pack directly into hot jars or cans to within one fourth inch of the top. Pour in enough boiling water to fill the container. Add one level teaspoon full of salt to each quart. Put rubber rings and caps of jars into position, but do not tighten the wire clamps. Seal tin cans completely.

Place containers on a false bottom of wooden slats or wire mesh in a vessel of water deep enough to cover the containers completely. Keep the water boiling for three hours.

Remove the jars, tighten covers, invert jars to test seal. Do not invert in drain, as jars might crack.

Tins may be placed in cold water

FARMHOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE SUNDAY NOON

The house, woodshed and milkhouse on the Trevette farm (the old Stephenson place) was completely destroyed by fire about Sunday noon while the tenants, the McNamee family were at dinner. Only a little furniture was saved. The fire caught on the roof which was all ablaze when first seen by Mrs. Stephenson a near neighbor. The buildings were insured in the Farmer's Fire Relief Association for $600, but there was no insurance on the household goods. The McNamees lost practically everything except the clothes they were wearing. With the assistance of kind neighbors they have been fitted out with clothes and necessities.

Whether the house will be rebuilt, it has not been learned, as Miss Trevette's home is in Portland. The McNamees were renting the place.
