PROCLAMATION

It has come about that the people of the United States find themselves compelled to take arms against a foe that threatens the liberties of the people of the world, the lives of women and children, particularly, and of all free man. To help establish a freedom from this oppression that the word demands, it is necessary that millions of the best young manhood and young womanhood of America must go overseas and separate themselves from their accustomed vacations and domestic influences. This, naturally, means a mental and spiritual hunger for those ties of family, society and church that are dear to the hearts and close to the deepest feelings of every American. To supply this void in the lives of millions of our soldiers and sailors, the United States Government has authorized these seven organizations to look after the welfare of the men in service.

Young Men's Christian Association.
Young Women's Christian Association.
National Catholic War Council—K. of C.
Jewish Welfare Board.
War Camp Community Service.
American Library Association.
Salvation Army.

These seven organizations have accepted and discharged this trust in a manner that has commanded the admiration of the world, and the eternal gratitude of every man under the service of the flag.

And, whereas; the privilege of giving moral and financial support to this wonderful work, so closely interwoven with the lives of the men in the service, has been given not to an institutional government, but to every individual man, woman and child in the United States:

Now, therefore, I, J. W. Sadler, mayor of the City of Aurora, do hereby proclaim to the citizens of the city and vicinity that, during the week beginning Sunday, November tenth, 1918, they bestow attention, lend effort and strength, and give liberally to the fullest extent of their means, to the appeal for funds that shall be made by the United War Work Campaign for $170,500,000, to 'carry on' this wonderful work so auspiciously begun. During the next year, which is undoubtedly to be the most critical year of the war, our men in the service must experience no interruption or modification of the extent to which this morale-making work has entered into their lives and brought happiness and courage. To see that this does not happen is the part of those of us whom our boys have left at home.

And I further request that this Proclamation shall be read aloud in every school of this section that may be in session before or during the week of the United War Work Campaign, November 11-18, 1918, in order that the children and their parents may all join in this vital work of the war.

Signed by me at Aurora, Oregon, on this sixth day of November 1918.

(Signed) J. W. SADLER, Mayor.

American farmers planted and cultivated 32,000,000 more in 1917 than in 1914. They have done this in spite of the steady decrease in former labor; while other industries have constantly increased their man-power, mostly at the expense of agriculture. They have thus accomplished something that no other industry has been able to do—increased marvelously their products and at the same time have done with less men. This achievement has not been so spectacular as the launching of a few hundred ships, the manufacture of airplanes, or the transport of millions of men overseas, but their work has done more toward winning the war than any other one factor. Without American food for our soldiers and our allies the war would have been lost.

The world's record for potato production, according to the department of agriculture, is 825 bushels per acre, grown in southeastern Utah on land owned by the Mormon church.

Did one of these 200 letters come to you?

A DUSTY courier slid off his motor-cycle at the big double hut in a French town and tramped up to the canteen.

"Got a note for the secretary from my commanding officer," he said. He handed a piece of paper across the counter to a smiling middle-aged man.

This is the note the Secretary read:

We landed here three days ago—miles from anywhere. Can you send us some supplies, especially writing paper? This is the first chance the boys have had to write home and we have no paper to give them.

The older man looked up and grinned.

"Got you away off in the woods, have they?"

"I'll say they have!"

"Can you carry anything?"

"All you'll give me!"

From the shelves the secretary took big packages of paper and envelopes.

"Too much?" He asked.

"It will be gone ten minutes after I get back!" said the boy.

"Tonight," the secretary went on, "I'll drive out a truck with more supplies and a man to stay with you. And tell the boys that if their letters are finished, I'll bring them back with me tonight, and get them into the mails."

An hour later that motor-cyclist whizzed into camp, loaded down with writing paper, and in ten minutes letters were being written to 200 American homes.

The United War Work organizations know what letters mean to American soldiers. They know that fighters want to get letters and want to write letters.

So in every hut and on every ship your boys find writing paper, envelopes, ink, pens and pencils, and tables where they can get off by themselves and tell the folks back home how things are going.

Millions of sheets are given away free every week to American boys overseas. That is why the letters you get from your boy are written on the stationery of one of these organizations. It is one of the plans to bridge the Atlantic. Help keep the letters coming! Your dollars will supply a whole Company for several days. Dig deep today; help to bind together France and here.

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

The need is for a sum of 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000. By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.

Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3,600 Recreation Buildings	2,500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
1,000 Miles of Movie Film	85 Hostess Houses
100 Leading Stage Stars	15,000 Big-brother "secretaries"
2,000 Athletic Directors	Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul!

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs.

Now give to maintain the Morale that is winning the war!
