HOT WATER BOTTLES AND SOME POETRY

The Observer sadly acknowledges the receipt of a gallon rubber hot water bottle—EMPTY. Under other circumstances what a paragraph might be penned, but "the saddest words of tongue or pen, IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN"—FULL, but was not, though the odor of that hot water bottle is so strong, the blamed thing might have walked all the way from California to the bridge across the Pudding River, where A. M. Fry picked it (and four comrades) up—EMPTY and mailed it under six covers to the Observer—still EMPTY. And the Observer is full of grief because it (the hot water bottle) is not full—of anything.

But just lamp the poetry that came along with that EMPTY rubber thing. It's good poetry, too:—

"What e'er is nature is my own,
Floating in air, or pent in stone,
Shall cleave the hills and ride the sea,
BUT THAT MY OWN WILL COME TO ME."

"What e'er I claim that's not my own,
Though hidden deep in chests of stone,
Buried 'neath hills or held at sea,
SHALL KNOW ITS OWN AND FLEE FROM ME."

WOMEN OF WEST AGAIN CALLED TO THE COLORS

By MRS. A. S. BALDWIN, Chairman Woman's Liberty Loan Committee of the Twelfth Reserve District.

We have at the present time about two million men in Europe who must be provided with all that is necessary to keep them in good spirits and condition; and when their work shall have been finished, they must be brought home and demobilized. The Government must make good the contracts it has entered into for the construction of all war munitions, and for food supplies already bought.

Having responded to the Government's calls in the past, and having loaned our money ungrudgingly to hurry forward the men and supplies, and victory having come to us because of this, shall we hesitate for a moment to respond to the last call—the Victory Liberty Loan—when we can do so by pledging our credit, perhaps with some little personal inconvenience, sacrifice or small discomfort?

The blood of the young manhood of America is not now required. That was generously given before the armistice was signed, and now we may give thanks that no more will be taken.

The credit and good faith of our country is at stake. We have won the war, and the cost is small compared with what has been won. The men of the West with red blood in their veins will not need to be appealed to, because they will subscribe to this last call of the Government as ungrudgingly as they did in the past. There are others, however, who may not be so keenly and conscientiously alive to the duty of responding to the Nation's call, and it is to those that the women must direct their most untiring efforts.

This last call is truly a Victory Loan. What greater pride can men and women experience than in contributing to it? A Victory Bond will be worth more than its price expressed in dollars. Every one will be a badge testifying that the holder has helped his country to fulfill its pledge to those who have been spared as well as those who have made the supreme sacrifice.
