EDITOR AND PUBLISHER

Entered as second class matter March 28, 1911, at the postoffice at Aurora, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

I pledge allegiance to my flag and the republic for which it stands, one Nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice to all.

PRINTING

Many people base the value of printed matter on the cost of the paper used, the labor of composition, the press work, the ink and materials used, the labor of assembling for delivery. But these items are not the entire value; they are the foundation of value. Printing is not merely merchandise. It is influence, persuasion, reminder, a creator of good will. It is salesmanship of the highest order—the best and most economical.

The printer who magnifies costs of the above items and ignores these values in his work has not the proper conception of his business. The weak-kneed price-maker is not respected by buyers of printing or of any other product. No business can be carried profitably (or even respectably) which habitually makes cut prices and inducements to customers. We all despise the "Easy Mark"—the "man afraid of his customers". Many a printers is selling his product at gravel prices because they themselves do not know that their products have diamond values.

The Roosevelt highway measure, on which the people will vote June 3, authorizes the issue of $2,500,000 in bonds, provided the Federal government will appropriate an equal sum to build the Roosevelt Highway along the Oregon Coast. If the United States fails to put up the $2,500,000, then the state cannot issue its bonds. But if the Federal government appropriates that amount, then the state of Oregon will have a $5,000,000 road at a cost to the state of only one half that amount. Of all the road proposals made this one—as a state wide proposition should receive general support.

May 4, seventy-five thousand Methodist "minute men" in America will present a forceful appeal for employment and service in behalf of the unemployed man, secretary of Labor Wilson having designated that day "Employment Sunday". The Methodist have responded by naming 75,000 "minute-men" to urge every employer in every church gathering to list any and all jobs open with the nearest U. S. Employment office. This is real "constructive religion" and deserves the approval of every denomination and sect.

THE COSMETIC OF THE INANIMATE.

I am the savor of surfaces.
I am the world-old preserver.
Noah knew me, for he pitched the ark within and without.
The Pharaohs sought me as an adornment for their tombs—their mummies endure because I conserve.
I am the woad of the ancient Britons: their blue battle hue.
Because of me the treasures of the Sistine Chapel defy effacement.
I am the keeper of the antique.
I am the servant of progress.
Columbus found me bedecking the savages who watched him plant Ferdinand's banner on the shores of New Spain; and the very sails of his caravels resisted the elements of the West through my aid.
The pioneers westward wending their way daubed the prairie schooners with my protection.
I am the royal robes of civilization's monarchs, Steel and Lumber.
The taut wings of the airplane gleam under my protective veneer.
The sullen dreadnaught and the homing transport plow the seas impervious to corrosion because of me.
I waterproofed your agents of destruction, the bullet and the shell.
Then I drew the mercy of my concealing camouflage over your hospitals.
I glisten on the homes, and on the barns, and on the cement surfaces.
Where life is, I am alive.
Where death and decay set in my absence hastens them.
And my mission is to preserve.
Saver of Surface, I am PAINT!
