WISE SAYINGS

The will does it.—Italian.

A voluntary burden is no burden.

No man is at all times wise.—Pliny.

Where there's a will, there's a way.

A good knight is not at a loss for a lance.

A thing done perforce is not worth a rush.

It is more easy to be wise for others than for ourselves.—La Rochefoucauld.

One may lead the horse to water; but fifty can't make him drink.—English.

What we call wisdom is the result, not the residuum, of all the wisdom of the past.—Beecher.

Our best institutions are like young trees. Growing upon the roots of the old trunks that have crumbled away.—Beecher.

Young men are apt to think themselves wise enough, as drunken men are apt to think themselves sober enough.—Chesterfield.

A marriage license was issued Saturday at Salem to Guy Kunkle and May Savage, both of Hubbard. Both being under legal age, the young man's father and the young woman's mother appeared to aid in securing the license.

The Pacific Telephone company, during the strike of its city operators, called in its country-town telephone girls, to keep the lines in operation. Miss Marie Bowers, chief operator at Hubbard was called to Salem.

L. D. Marsh arrived Sunday from Mineola, New York, where he received his discharge from the army. He was in France 19 months, and is glad to get back to the U. S. A. During all the time he was in France he had but one leave of three days (to visit Paris.) Dan has a multitude of friends here who are greatly pleased at his return.
