

WAR OFFICE STOPS BOMB DISTRIBUTION

Treasury Department's Plan to Award Hand Grenades Blocked

The War Department has cancelled its contract to supply the Treasury Department with 15,000,000 hand grenades which were to be converted into savings banks to stimulate the sales of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, according to a telegram received by C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the War Loan Organization in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, from Washington. Banks and Trust Companies of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District had ordered nearly 100,000 grenades before news of the cancellation was received.

The telegram to Farnsworth read: "As the War Department has determined that the distribution of hand grenades as souvenirs should be discontinued, and has cancelled its arrangement for supplying grenades to the Treasury Department to be manufactured into grenade savings banks, the Treasury is unable to continue the distribution of the banks.

"In order, however, to recognize the efforts of the children in working and saving during the vacation time, each one who would be entitled to a bank will receive a certificate of achievement from the Treasury in appreciation of his industry in saving and buying government securities."

The hand grenades were known as Mills bombs No. 11 and were ready for shipment to American forces in France when the armistice was signed. "I am deeply disappointed as I know the people who looked forward to receiving one of these war souvenirs will be," said Mr. Farnsworth. "However, I feel sure that thrifty, patriotic folks who are investing regularly in War Savings Stamps will continue to help the government."

AMERICA'S MILLIONAIRES

By the income tax returns for 1917 it is shown that there were in the United States 3362 incomes between $100,000 and $150,000 each. If the average was $125,000, the total incomes in that class were $427,500,000. There were 2347 incomes between $150,000 and $300,000 each. If the average was $200,000 the total incomes in that class were $469,400,000. There were 553 incomes between $300,000 and $500,000 each. If the average was $400,000 the total incomes in that class were $223,600,000. There were 315 incomes between $500,000 and $1,000,000 each. If the average was $750,000 the total incomes in that class were $236,250,000. At the top of the heap were 141 incomes of $1,000,000 or more. If the average was $1,500,000 the total incomes in that class were $211,500,000. The grand total for all classes given would be $1,643,500,000 income among 6664 individuals.

What is your income? You haven't any? Neither did those millionaires until they started to save and invest.

Begin now and build up an income. Buy a five dollar United States War Savings Stamp. It pays 4 per cent, compounded quarterly.

If you haven't got four dollars and twenty cents—that is what a five dollar stamp costs—buy a twenty-five cent Thrift Stamp.

Get started. Get an income. An income from War Savings Stamps is not taxable.

THE PITH OF IT

President Wilson, in tackling the high cost of living, said:

in the burdensome cost of living which now weighs us down."

Despite the fact that the Department of Justice is scurrying about investigating high prices and throwing profiteers in jail, the President's cure for high prices is the only one. He has with him in his opinion the best economists in America and Europe. It is most elementary economics that as long as the public persists in its spending "jag," buying unnecessary and fastening upon industry a demand for more than industry can produce, exorbitant prices will prevail.

There is only one way out. That is the President's way. The people have got to save. In order to save they must do without high priced luxuries and live simply. They must invest their savings that the means of more and greater production may be accumulated.

Economists know that the Treasury Department is doing more than the Department of Justice is to bring down prices. The lowly Thrift Stamp and War Savings Stamp is the weapon. Buy them and hold them. Put them first on the family budget. They bring 4 per cent interest compounded every three months. Get the habit of buying them every pay day. They will solve your high cost of living problem.

DISHWASHER SAVED FORTUNE ON $12 A WEEK

Never Earned More than Two Dollars a Day, But Saved $12,500

A dishwasher who died recently at Albany, New York, left an estate valued at $12,500. He never earned more than $12 a week. Now an income of $12 a week, if saved in its entirety would mean about $12,000 in twenty years. Out of $12 a week the dishwasher had to live. But out of that sum he succeeded in saving. He saved steadily, something out of every pay envelope. And the first savings, laid aside in the hard early days when his pay was frequently less than $12 a week, were well invested. Soon they began to earn something of themselves, in interest, for the patient, hard-working plodder.

The dishwasher was no financier. He undoubtedly missed opportunities for investment that would have increased his savings vastly. But he was steady and sure, and he accumulated enough to insure himself against adversity. He had something solid and substantial to show for his years of patient effort. And he was forced to study the investment of his savings carefully to insure their safety.

Today the government has provided the means for enabling every small saver to invest his savings, however small, and to put them at work earning money, at an attractive rate of interest. From the dishwasher up, in the scale of financial ratings, every individual can now place his savings in War Savings Stamps, guaranteed by the government, and earning interest at the rate of 4 per cent compounded quarterly. If the dishwasher had had this opportunity his $12,000 would undoubtedly have grown to a great deal more. Buy War Savings Stamps every pay day.
