

THE AURORA OBSERVER

THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1920.

N. C. WESCOTT

EDITOR AND PUBLISHER

Entered as second class matter March 28, 1911, at the postoffice at Aurora Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The Hubbard Enterprise has picked General Wood as the best qualified man for president of the United States. If we are going to have military candidates for the presidency, what's the matter with General Pershing?

The Marion County Corn Show has been postponed to Jan. 19-24. There is still time to make an exhibit. Good corn was grown here this year. Clackamas county farmers tributary to Aurora may exhibit as well as Marion county farmers. Any one with good corn should make a display. Ask the Aurora State Bank for a premium list.

The Southern Pacific Lines north of Ashland have been awarded the much coveted Safety Banner awarded by the Regional Director of the U. S. Railroad administration, for the best record made in preventing accidents. The banner was won through the efforts of employes. During the period October 18 to 31, 1919 not a single accident occurred on the Southern Pacific Lines north of Ashland.

The sale of War Saving Stamps will continue throughout 1920, and will probably become a permanent method for the promotion of thrift and investment. The 1920 war saving stamps will be larger than the 1919 stamps, carmine in color, and will bear the head of Washington instead of the bust of Franklin. Thrift stamps will be the same. Begin the New Year right by saving something every week—in thrift a war savings stamp.

A vast amount of work now remains to be done which the intervention of war has necessarily delayed and accumulated, and the result is that very large capital expenditures ought to be made to make up for the interruptions inevitably due to the war, and to prepare the railroads to serve adequately the increased traffic throughout the country.
WALKER D. HINES,
Director General of Railroads.

*Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—*

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can grow only as fast as the railroads grow.

BUCKWHEAT CROP VERY IMPORTANT

Of Particular Benefit to Thin Soils Where Climatic Conditions Are Favorable.

EXCELLENT CROP ON OLD SOD

Because It Makes Dense Growth, Keeping Land Shaded, It Is Valuable for Eradication of Quack Grass and Other Weeds.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Buckwheat has a definite place in American agriculture, limited when compared to the staple crops, but none the less important in a large area of the country. While less exacting as to soil than almost any other crop, it is more exacting as to climate. Therefore, its principal production is confined to the northeastern portion of the country and to high altitudes farther south. However, buckwheat can be grown with at least fair success over a much wider range, according to Farmers' Bulletin 1062, recently issued.

Benefits of Buckwheat.

Buckwheat, according to the bulletin, is in general the best grain crop for poor, thin land, and succeeds well on acid soils, climatic conditions being favorable. It is a good crop on new land and on old sod land being again brought under the plow. It loosens and makes friable even the hardest soil, and therefore is a good crop preceding potatoes. Because it makes such a dense growth as to keep the soil shaded, it is valuable as a destroyer of quack grass and weeds. It has considerable value as a soil renovator, being able to use insoluble phosphorus and potassium to better advantage than other grain crops. It is useful, also, as a summer cover or green manure crop and as a source of honey for bees. These benefits are, of course, in addition to its value as human food and stock feed.

Buckwheat Is Excellent for Poor, Thin Soils.

Useful in Rotations.

Buckwheat is less frequently used in rotations than most other crops, but it is pointed out that good rotations may be devised for soil that is too poor for most accepted rotations. One of the suggested rotations is alsike or crimson clover the first year, buckwheat the second year, potatoes the third year, and rye, oats, or wheat, seeded to clover, the fourth year. There is a discussion of the varieties of buckwheat, seed preparation, time of sowing, methods and rate of sowing, fertilizers needed, diseases and insect enemies, harvesting, thrashing, milling, and uses.

Copies of the bulletin may be had free from the division of publications, United States department of agriculture.

The Portland Telegram and the Aurora Observer both one year for $5.50. No more "Bargain Day" prices until next fall—one year hence.
