Marion County News and Comment

About a dozen rural schools of this county are still without teachers, and Jefferson, Turner, and Scotts Mills still lack one or more high school teachers. Opening dates for some of the schools will be as late as October 4.

The Salem Journal reports a bathtub shortage in Salem. Does this indicate that Salem is going Democratic? This matter is respectfully referred to "Judge" Peter D'Arcy.

Thirty one alien insane at the Oregon state hospital left Thursday on a special car for New York City for deportation to their native countries in Europe. The car and the patients are in charge of R. B. Goodin, secretary of the state board of control, and five attendants. The deportation will cost the state $6000.

Nearly 125,000 applications for driver's licenses have been filed by the secretary of states office, and hereafter any one driving a motor vehicle, without an operator's license is liable to a fine of not more than $400, or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year. The court may also revoke such license. Drivers must carry their license with them at all times.

Al Kader temple (Shriners) with its famous band, Arab patrol and chanters will be at the Oregon State Fair October 2, arriving at 1:20 p. m. A. H. Lea, secretary of the state fair, is potentate of Al Kader.

Judge Bingham, W. C. Winslow, Chas. Vick and Oscar Gingrich of Salem have returned from a three-weeks hunt in the North Umpqua district east of Roseburg. Each one shot two bucks, and Winslow shot a bear "in the rear feet", according to a Salem newspaper.

T. E. McCroskey, for 18 months manager of the Salem Commercial Club, has accepted the position of manager of the promotion department of the Phez Company. McCroskey's chief work has been the organization of the Marion county federation of community clubs.

Henry Ziegler shipped one of the largest cars of oats last week to San Francisco, that was ever sent from this station. The car contained 100,000 pounds. Loading thus heavily is extra labor, but is the proper way to help reduce the freight car shortage.

U'Ren Opposes Four Per Cent Amendment

A letter from U. S. U'Ren of Portland to the Observer says:

Dear Mr. Wescott:—
"A few days ago a friend sent me a copy of your paper, which accuses me of supporting the four per cent interest constitutional amendment. I am not guilty and never was; I have never said anything that would justify the charge.

The adoption of this amendment would be a calamity for the people of Oregon. Hundreds of such laws have been tried, and always increased the burdens of the farmers and wage workers. The rates of interest can be reduced by increasing the supply of money for loans on safe security faster than the demand increases, and not in any other way. Congress could do this, but it is beyond the power of any state.

I hope you will give this letter as prominent space as you gave the false charge, and I forgive you this time because you are a friend of mine, but please do not accuse me again of doing anything so foolish as advocating a usury law.

The only reason the Oregon law reducing the interest rate to six per cent had any favorable influence was that the state had several million dollars of school funds loaned at that rate. I advise all my friends to vote 315, No.

Dr. Hewett of Independence one day last week drove up to Shimm Bros. Garage and was surprised to find Bob Shimm, one of the members of the doctor's company at Camp Lewis, in charge. During the war Dr. Hewett was a medical officer at that camp.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

—is maintained by the state in order that the young people of Oregon may receive, without cost, the benefits of a liberal education.

The University includes the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, the Graduate School, the School of Physical Education, and the professional Schools of Law, Medicine (at Portland), Architecture, Commerce, Journalism, Education and Music.

High standards of scholarship are made possible by an able faculty, well equipped laboratories and a library of nearly 100,000 volumes.

Supervised athletics are encouraged and every attention given the health and welfare of the students.

With a heightened confidence gained by the recent expression of public support, the University is now entering upon an era of large development and extended usefulness.
