There is no more reason for a man removing his head piece in an elevator occupied by the fair sex than there is for a man to take off his hat in a street car, taxi or other public conveyance.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Dan Goodwin were held on Sunday last. Rev. Alfred Bates conducted the services at the Tualatin Methodist Episcopal church and at the cemetery. The flowers were very beautiful and the music was arranged by Mrs. R. H. Heinbach and the Pastor.

The Aurora Observer has been sold to Paul Robinson, a live wire from Banks, Oregon. May he have the best of success. Mr. N. C. Westcott, who retires, will enter a larger field. He has been a successful factor in Aurora and has the Independent's hearty good wishes for greater success. Woodburn Independent.

Won't all our readers please consider the Observer their own personal mouth-piece for community happenings, and kindly phone us, write us or tell us of any little news events of your family or community. We are not personally acquainted with all of you and will appreciate every little news item you thus give us. Visitors, parties, births, weddings, accidents, crops, callers, improvements, etc. We want them all. Our phone is number 21. Thank you.

Large and appreciative audiences enjoyed the church services at Tualatin and Wilsonville churches on Sunday last. At the Tualatin church the Quartet sang "Rock of Ages" and the pastor sang a baritone solo, "Trust in the Lord" Rev. H. P. Blake preached a fine sermon. Following the luncheon Dr. John D. McCormick in a very interesting little speech paid tribute to the noble work accomplished by the pioneer men and women of the church and the pastor presented Brother Blake with a beautiful gold watch fob sent by A. H. Melonis from Portland and a small gift of money also contributed by others. It was interesting to note that among those who attended, seventeen states of the union were represented. This birthday celebration given Rev. Blake was the best attended and most enthusiastic meeting ever held in Tualatin.
