Advises from the various leagues indicate that there will be a large crowd of people in attendance at the Luther League convention to be held in Aurora next Monday.

G. F. LONG, OF SOUTH DAKOTA VISITS SON AT MACKSBURG

O. B. Long, prosperous farmer of Macksburg has been entertaining his father, G. F. Long, who last Thursday arrived here from Oelrichs, South Dakota. He motored with a party of three, including a nephew, to Livingston, Montana, where he left the party and came via the Northern Pacific to Spokane, thence to Portland over the S. P. & S. While in Montana Mr. Long spent nine days visiting in the Yellowstone National Park, which, he says, is wonderful to see. One thing he mentioned was that there was a group of cars parked side by side at the entrance of the park, one being from Augusta, Maine, one from Miami, Florida, one from Duluth, Minnesota, one from Los Angeles and another from Seattle. This is something that might not be seen again—five cars parked close together, from the four corners and center of the United States.

Mr. Long is in the mercantile business at Oelrichs, S. D., a small town 30 miles from Hot Springs, the county seat of Fall River county, having been thus engaged for more than 35 years. In an interview by the writer, he said that the grain crops of South Dakota this year were bumper and that everyone is prosperous. The farmers there, he says, are going to be in better financial shape this fall than they have been for several years. Mr. Long left Monday for Livingston, where he will join his party and return via the twin cities in the automobile. He was very favorably impressed with Oregon and Washington, and commented particularly on this part of the Willamette Valley and the wonderful, mild climate and the grand crops. His son, O. B. Long, has lived in Clackamas county more than ten years, and has farmed nearly all that time at Macksburg.
