As those mentioned for the governor job are on the increase, it begins to look like politics were being played from most all corners of the state. Each new man mentioned has something to say about taxes, knowing that to be a popular topic all the time. But it is an old, awful old, gag to spring year after year. How many officials we have elected to reduce taxes. They will have to change the subject to catch us any more.

After a week of eating warmed over gavy and picking turkey bones, the family table is gradually coming back to regular ratios.

As a location for the proposed Knights of Pythias Home to be erected in 1922, Aurora claims to be the ideal spot. The Aurora K. P. lodge and all Aurora citizens are eager to see this place designated as the "Home" location, and if advantages, conveniences and location count, the question can be considered solved.

From Secretary of State, Sam A. Koser, we have just received a copy of State of Oregon Election Laws—very valuable at this time, and a good volume to study.

Stayton must be a good little town, a busy town. You can generally pick the good towns by reading the advertising columns of the local paper. The Stayton Mail looks prosperous.

Aurora is awakening, thank you! Better build now; get on the ground floor. It's the best point, best location on the highway between Portland and Salem. The Halfway Point. All main lines go through Aurora.

Baker for Governor

Oregon is on the threshold of a wonderful awakening and immense possibilities. We must keep moving, must get more newcomers to locate, more industries to improve and help pay taxes; we must not sit still, spend our money and let the other states on the coast reap the benefits. We want men that are leaders, men at the helm of public affairs that abandoned the cloak of mossbackism. We want a governor who is proud of his native state; who is awake and who is not afraid to express himself as the ideas are born in him. Geo. L. Baker is that sort of a "go-get-em" man that the state needs and must have just now. Without any authority we would nominate Mr. Baker as a candidate for Governor, whether he wants to accept or not.

Us people outside of Portland will pay One Dollar on each $1000 assessed valuation. That's fair enough, and cheap enough for anything as big as the World's Fair. Our benefits will be ten-fold this, not to speak of the untold educational benefit and pleasure.

Albert Beale, editor Cottage Grove Sentinel and President of the Oregon Editorial Association, called recently. President Beale is responsible for the farewell banquet for E. E. Brodie, in Salem this week. Mr. Brodie sails soon for his new duties as Minister to Siam. The banquet promises to be largely attended; we're to gather at the Marion Hotel and we hope to see many editors of the state in attendance.

A special session of the Legislature next month to give the state the legal right to vote taxes for the 1925 World's Fair. Our county of Marion is the next largest in the state and we predict Marion county to go Portland one better in majorities on this question. Outside of the Capitol Journal we are all for it big, and here's betting the C.-J. is also in favor, but likes to argue awhile first.

"Wonder if Gardner will again ask for a pardon?"—Banner-Courier. Sure thing! This time it will be insanity or lapse of memory. Within a year he will undergo a slight surgical operation for bone pressure or gout and the second year star in the movies with Fatty Arbuckle.

After what is declared to have been one of the most constructive gatherings in the history of the grange the 55th national grange convention passed into history at Portland with the installation of the incoming officers. Several deer killed by sportsmen in Grant county showed symptoms of "lumpy jaw," an ailment peculiar to cattle, according to Stanley G. Jewett of the United States biological survey, who states that the meat is unfit for food.

A number of cattle and sheep in the Lorane neighborhood have died recently from some mysterious cause, which the owners suspect to be the eating of poisonous toadstools, that have been numerous in the woods of that section.

Otto R. Hartwig was re-elected president of the Oregon State Federation of Labor as a result of the vote by mail taken throughout the state membership of the organization. This will be Mr. Hartwig's sixth term as president. William E. Kinsey, secretary-treasurer of the organization for the last year, was chosen vice-president. E. J. Stack was elected secretary-treasurer.

According to law you must NOT write your name on butter wrappers. Be cautious, go according to law; play safe. Law says butter wraps must be certain kind of paper, printed with regular butter wrapper ink, such as the Observer uses. We print them complete and furnish proper paper at $1.50 per 100.
