HAVE NEW MARK OF IDENTITY

Breakfast Coats Have Begun to Dispense With Ruchings; Lace and Chiffon Taking Place.

Breakfast coats have begun to dispense with ruchings, which have long been an inseparable part of this boudoir garment; at least 'tis so among the more exclusive mode. Instead, little ruffles of lace or chiffon, or narrow flat lace insertions are giving these long popular breakfast coats a new characterization. More frilly fluffy are these essentially feminine garments, which is as it should be in the realm of negligees.

The more tailored boudoir garments, however, have a large and devoted following and these are being trimmed with self-material in narrow fold, applied in scrolls, rosettes and lattice work.

When warm weather comes, the breakfast coat in the sheer cotton materials will give summer comfort. Fancy

Lingerie Frocks.

Amusing little lingerie frocks of printed voile have been imported, and they are not only decidedly smart, but are also very low in price. The voile has a white ground and the figures are in red, blue and dull yellow, little futurist flowers that look quite wide awake. The sleeves and the hem are bound in a narrow piping of red orga-ndie and a red organdie belt with red rosettes gives just the proper color emphasis.

Dainty Negligees.

For spring some dainty cotton crepe negligees are being shown, and the low waistline so much featured in outer apparel enters the negligee field.

A DOUBLE EXPOSURE

KIDDIES SIX

JUNE TIME

SINGIN' o' June, when the roses blow;
Liltin' a song when the sun hangs low; Whistlin' away
Through th' livelong day—Singin' an' whistlin' a merry tune To the rosiest month of them all—that's June.

Watchin' the clouds as they hasten by, Catchin' the gleam of the bright blue sky; Lazyn' 'round
On th' sun-kissed ground—Hearin' th' wind through the woodland croon
Her songs, to the rarest of months—
that's June.

Off through th' meadows cool an'
sweet,
Where th' violets bloom in their dim retreat;
Dreamin' dreams
By the purlin' streams, As they hasten by with their rhythmic rune
To the rosiest, fairest month—that's June.

Home at eve when the moon hangs low
And the sky gleams bright with a silver glow;
Just lazyn' there
In the old arm chair A watchin' th' man who lives in the moon
And laughs at th' fairest of months—
that's June.

The Friendly Path

By Walter L. Robinson

EVERYONE MUST PAY

EVERYONE must pay for what he gets.

There is a law of recompense which cannot be evaded or ignored.

If one prizes his happiness he must expect to pay. Eventually the bill collector will demand his toll. Unless payment is made a rough pathway lies directly ahead.

Many constantly fear the bill collector who comes and demands money toll. But he is the most harmless of all the collectors. The real collector to be feared is the one which takes the form of conscience. It is impossible to dodge this one or to frighten him off with a double-barreled gun.

Those who imagine they have ended the collector when in the form of conscience are foolishly deluded. But even though they may get some enjoyment out of life because they think they have satisfied themselves that their consciences were wrong, they can always expect another collector which takes the form of law to hound them until the debt is paid.

In this age when many fathers and mothers are worried concerning the future of their children, there is good reason to impress upon the young people the importance of being on the square—as with themselves. Too many start into their world's pathways bent on getting as much as they can—both in material value and pleasure—without paying for its worth. If parents allow boys and girls, when their characters are in the making, to get this false impression of the way best to get on, sorry days are likely to be ahead not alone for the sons and daughters and their children, but for the fathers and mothers as well.

"The law of compensation is inexorable."

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

WHO WANTS TO KNOW

IF YOU are sincere in your desire to know how to achieve, how to make yourself worthy of the highest confidence and thus become competent to hold a place above the ordinary, you will lose no time in acquiring the necessary knowledge.

You will not waste a single hour in idleness or unproductive effort, the basic cause of disappointments and failure.

You will go to your task seriously with unyielding determination to win.

In your pursuit, which in a little while will have become an exhilarating pleasure, you will discover that all the men and women who are holding the prominent places did in the beginning of their careers just what you are doing.

They squandered no time in the foolish chase of rainbows, choosing instead the companionship of wise teachers and the pursuit in their spare time of instructive books, seeking truths and principles upon which they could build a substantial foundation for the erection of their lifework.

They tossed the chaff to the winds and stored with utmost prudence the golden grain.

The greatest men of today, the conspicuous leaders in the professions, the arts and the crafts, struggled hard in their youth to get a foothold upon the hills. They knew what they were seeking and never relinquished their high purpose or slackened their pace, though they often slipped and went to bed hungry.

Their experiences with the world gave them an understanding of men and affairs with a fullness impossible otherwise.

Their present wealth, power and influence are envied by the thoughtless, who sneeringly talk among themselves of "chance" and "luck," those misnomers for work and pluck.

Being envied is a high distinction.
And this is especially true when it is obvious that the real cause of envy is based on the admitted ignorance and regret of men and women who covet distinction but invariably lack courage to take a place in the front and bear the brunt of battle.

The youths of the present who want to know, who are brushing aside obstacles, who are exerting every effort to learn, will in the future be found among the foremost workers and thinkers in the world's great activities, simply because they have with their resolute hearts the spirit and faith, without which no man or woman can hope to win a glorious name.
