PRICE—FIVE CENTS.

WHAT THE BEAVERTON ENTERPRISE PLANS

How It Will Function And What We Plan to Do in The Near Future

WILL BUILD PLANT

A Paper That Will Publish All The News of Eastern Washington County.

In its second issue The Enterprise is glad to announce to the people of Beaverton that it has its plans ready for a complete printing plant for the town in the near future, a modern establishment that will be a permanent industry, and from which will be printed not only The Enterprise but the Multnomah, Tigard and Aloha papers. The present chain family of the company.

The plant will be located in Beaverton because the management has all kinds of faith in the future of the city. It believes it will be the fastest growing town of any surrounding Portland and it wants to make its home here and become a part of, and to help on the growth.

Go into almost any real estate office in Portland and ask what surrounding section of the city is considered the best bet for growth and future investment. Try it, and see what the reply will be. "Beaverton is the locality that is looking best just now," is the general reply. The land around Beaverton is noted for its fertility; the land lays right; good roads traverse the county and more are coming. There is little more to be desired that Beaverton cannot offer.

And the general growth is going to make Beaverton one of the best little cities in the Portland radius. That's why The Enterprise is going to locate its central printing plant here. We are coming to live with you and when we get a few hundred more population added to the city it is going to be some good town to live in.

And industries and business places follow population. Every time a new house goes up there is one more family demand created. When enough of them are erected, then the demand for business places is supplied, and so it goes on.

Beaverton has had the experiences and the lessons that all towns must have. The people here have backed some losing ventures, as all towns have done before. But now it has reached a size and it has the inducements where it does not have to graze at hazardous projects. With a chamber of commerce and level headed business men there will come substantial propositions.

Manufacturing industries are looking for the suburban towns these days, where labor is reliable, strikes less likely and overhead less expensive. With our live business men on their toes industries can be located here.

And once more, and many times more, we are going to state that The Enterprise is here to help get things coming Beaverton way. We have full faith that they will come—faith enough to put good money into a complete printing plant here.

The Enterprise needs the help and good will of Beaverton and it will come back for all it is worth in helping the city.

Let's go.

BUSY WITH ROAD WORK.

J. M. Thompson, Aloha's jovial and efficient road boss, is again busy with the usual maintenance work. Under his able supervision and the earnest cooperation of its residents, the Aloha district has made wonderful progress in road work the past five years, and this season will get practically everybody out of the mud.

The county court last week re-appointed Mr. Thompson for another term, and we would be pleased at this time to place him in nomination for the same position in 1928.

If you don't get your paper, be sure and notify us at once, so we can find the reason for it.

Beaver Theatre Will Put on New Feature

Again the Beaver theater filled the house for Country store night. Everybody had a wonderful time, especially when the call came for men to stretch the muscle developer. This little innocent appearing machine, which has just five little rubber cables, came as a big surprise to some of the strong men. It was a real kick. Twelve entries were made for this contest and Mr. Olson, of Progress, won the prize. He pulled the exerciser 21 times. That is some record.

The feature prize, a beautiful Spanish shawl, was won by Mrs. Harry Johnston. Beaverton best department store, Spragues' donated, a very fine dress. It was won by a young lady who refused to don it on the stage. Mr. Schilling, progressive feed store man of Aloha, donated a large amount of chicken feed.

When the show ended many people had so many groceries that they could hardly walk to the waiting cars at the curb. Happiness and laughter are mighty fine things and you can be assured of finding them every Tuesday night at the Country store.

The Country store has reached such popularity that Mr. Hicks and Mr. Stipes will put on something entirely different every Thursday night. This new entertainment will be called Treasure night and it will live up to its name. Many beautiful blankets and prizes will be given away. You can't afford to miss it.

Restrictions Are Removed on Day and Night Letters

Removal of all restrictions on the use of code in day and night letters accepted for transmission over lines of the Oregon Telephone company has been announced.

Heretofore night letters and day letters were accepted only if written in plain English. Code language was not permissible. These restrictions are lifted in the order issued by Earl W. Gates, general manager and the deferred day and night letter service at lower rates than the straight message rates, is available for many classes of messages that have previously been confined to straight telegrams.

A BOY'S TRIBUTE.

Jefferson DuZan, interlocking operator in the S. P. S. tower, has a staunch following of boy friends. Below is a tribute paid to Mr. DuZan by Gaylord F. Wilson:

There is a man of great figure,
His heart is like his hand,
You'll find no man that is bigger
Than Jefferson DuZan.

The fellows call him "Jeff" for short,
Because his name is long,
And to show he is the right sort,
For you he'll sing a song.

He knows about most everything;
Advice he gives you.
The words he speaks with truth do
ring,

Because they are true blue.
A helping man he will always give,
No favor is too much,
Just to "Jeff" as long as you live,
He'll get you out of Dutch.

The goodness of that soul doth make
Me wish to be a man,
As kind and true to boy and maid,
As Jefferson DuZan.

—Gaylord F. Wilson.

Attempted Robbery

Thieves visited the Aloha Mercantile Co. at 4 a. m. Friday morning. They made entrance through a window at the side of the building which was unlocked. From there it was an easy job to walk right into the main part of the store. They were busy at work in the grocery department and made a lot of noise. Mr. Lowry, postmaster, who lives in the store heard them and jumped out of bed, grabbed a shot gun and ran into the store. The robbers evidently heard Mr. Lowry and ran to the side door which they had previously left open for a quick escape. Mr. Lowry saw them as they were passing out the door and fired a shot purposely low to cripple them. The shot lodged and tore a large hole in the door. He followed them outside and fired two more times but it did not take effect. No clues were found and authorities have no suspicions.

CITY COMMISSION MAKES MANY PLANS

Make Thru Streets of Watson and Lombard—Stop Double Parking

CLOSING HOURS GIVEN

Restaurants Will Not Close at Midnight—Dance Halls and Pool Halls Must Close.

An adjourned regular meeting of the council called to order by Recorder Thyng in the absence of Mayor Pegg. Present—Councilmen Raymond, Wilson and Bishop. Absent—Mayor Pegg, Councilman Rossi.

Ordinance No. 112, regulating closing hours of business places and amusements, repealing ordinance No. 94, was passed by the council. Ordinance No. 94 was considered too drastic as it specified restaurants and confectionaries should be closed at 12 o'clock. The new ordinance, No. 112, provides that dance halls, pool and card rooms and other places of amusement, must close promptly at 12 o'clock, while confectionaries and restaurants are not regulated as to their closing hours. This was felt to be a step in the right direction by members of the council, as the increasing amount of night traffic on the highways demanded service from restaurants.

Ordinance No. 113, providing for regulation of traffic on certain streets in the town of Beaverton, was passed unanimously.

This ordinance makes a through street of Watson and Lombard streets, thus facilitating the traffic and eliminating the chance of accidents. Also, prohibits double parking, parking in front of fire hydrants and leaving your engine running while parked with no one in the machine.

The old band stand was ordered torn down as it was considered an unsightly menace. Councilmen Rossi and Wilson were appointed to have charge of its removal.

A. M. Hocken is erecting a tool shed on the east end of the city hall for the convenience and use of the water superintendent.

The matter of street numbering was under discussion, but nothing definite was arrived at. The city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance.

EARLY CLEAN-UP WEEK.

The Southern Pacific Railway have made their clean-up week a little earlier this year. The station and freight house, both inside and out, have had a new coat of paint.

Both rest rooms have had a thorough cleaning, and new modern lavatories and equipment have been installed. The station is now spick and span and the new equipment in the waiting rooms have answered a long felt want.

A Correction.

In last week's issue we stated that E. E. Swenson's auction sale would be held March 27, which is Sunday. The sale will be held Saturday, March 26, one mile west of Beaverton, one-fourth mile south of St. Mary's, on rocky road.

A new four-room house, electricity, water and gas, on two acres, will be auctioned.

Fox? is Found Loose in Fields at St. Marys

Mr. Hanna, of this city, owns a fine fox farm near St. Marys. Last week he was told that one of his foxes was seen running in the fields near St. Marys. Mr. Hanna checked up and found all of his animals were safe in their cages. Some of the boys, after Mr. Hanna had told them how valuable a silver fox was, decided to set a trap. Saturday morning the trap was sprung. The boys, wild with joy carried the fox and trap to Beaverton with the hopes that Mr. Hanna would buy it.

When the trap was opened Mr. Hanna pulled forth not a valuable silver fox but a poor under-sized dog. Mr. Hanna refused to buy it.

Beaverton Girl Loses Money on Invention

Miss Shelly, who works at Bobbie's barbecue, is named as secretary of the perpetual motion, Religious organization. Miss Shelley is in no way implicated in the stock selling scheme as the extent of her duties were merely to take down the minutes of the meetings. Miss Shelley has invested $200 in the invention scheme of a perpetual motion wheel. Many people have invested heavily in the invention. Stock sold at five cents a share. Many people stand to lose all the money they invested.

CATHOLIC WOMEN MEET.

Large Attendance From Valley Towns at Quarterly Meeting.

Over 150 women from Willamette valley parishes attended the quarterly meeting of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, at Hillsboro, on Sunday, March 13, of which Mrs. B. F. Stingle of Portland, is president.

Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, of Eugene, was the principal speaker, his topic being "The Benefits of the Council." Others speakers were Rev. George F. Thompson of Portland, Rev. F. J. Springer of Roy and Father William, O. S. B. Among the valley towns represented were Albany, Beaverton, Buxton, Banks, Carleton, Cornelius, Forest Grove, Eugene, Roy, Verboort, Hillsboro and Portland.

Successful Operation.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lineberger, who was operated on by Dr. Joyce for tumor at St. Vincent's hospital, is greatly improved. Mrs. Lineberger will return to her home next week. Her sister, Emma Delsman is proprietor of the Beaver Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Schoene were hosts to the Sorrento Bridge club Saturday evening. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Woodruff, Mrs. A. E. Hanson, Clarence Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKee.

NOTICE—The Enterprise will appreciate it if those having items for publication will kindly present them not later than Tuesday evening.

OLD LANDMARK IS LEVELLED TO GROUND

Was Started 20 Years Ago By George Thyng When The City Was Small

STARTED PAPER HERE

Supplied a Population of 200 People With the News and Did Most All of The Work.

Men working on the construction of the new Rossi building tore down the 20-year-old landmark, Thyng's confectionery, Monday.

The building was built 20 years ago by Gus Rossi and a store was started by Mr. Thyng. There was a postoffice, general store and a blacksmith shop in Beaverton at the time this building was erected and Beaverton was proud to have a population of 200 people. Twenty years is a long time to stay in one location, but the business prospered and Mr. Thyng wants the same location in the new Rossi building if possible. The work is being rushed on the new building by Mr. Hocken, contractor.

Mr. Thyng started the first paper in Beaverton in 1897, 30 years ago. He was editor, devil, printer and in fact, was the complete working force of the sheet.

O. E. S. Inspection.

Inspection of the order of Eastern Star will be held Wednesday evening in the lodge rooms by Mrs. Davies, grand electra.

Mr. Davies is the official deputy for the grand matron.

Mrs. Verna L. Huntley arrived home Saturday night. She has been visiting her brother, C. W. Lyman, at Auburn, Wash., who is recovering from a recent operation, also visited another brother, B. L. Lyman in Seattle, Wash.

Surprise Wedding of Beaverton Girl

Many friends of Miss Georgianna Malarkey will be surprised to hear of her marriage to Frank Kern, a former Beaverton man.

The young couple were married at St. Helens Sunday night at 12.30. Mrs. Kerns is attending Beaverton high school and plans to finish this year.

Mr. Kerns graduated from Beaverton high school with the class of 1924. He is employed as cashier at the Portland Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerns plan to make their home in Beaverton in the near future.

Monkey Business in City of Beaverton

Curiosity used to kill cats, but now it has started on monkeys. "Jennie" one of the animal stars of the Universal road shows, which has completed a week's run in Beaverton, wanted to know what was under the heavy insulation of an electric wire that supplied her cage with heat.

Monkey like she brought her teeth into the play. "Jennie" received a bad shock from the electric wire. For a time she was thought dead. She recovered but has badly burned face and hands that will remind her next time to let well enough alone.

New Citizens.

Jacob F. Trachsel, R. R. 2, Beaverton and Alfred and Aurzelia A. Newton, Beaverton, passed the examinations conducted by Examiner Wiggins at Hillsboro, in the regular March naturalization proceeding last week and admitted to citizenship.

Mr. Algiers of Cedar Mills, made a business trip to Beaverton Friday, March 18.

Miss Ruth Anderson of Aloha, had the misfortune to fall early Friday morning on a slippery walk breaking her right arm near the wrist.
