A WONDERFUL TRANSFORMATION.

For a good many years musical people and club workers have been advocating the observance of National Music Week—a week set apart and devoted to the best and most in music. It seems that the radio is making every week and month a time of music, transforming the lonely hours into harmony and the isolated spots into humming, throbbing activity.

And what the radio is doing to fill the silent moments with melody,—not for one proclaimed week but throughout the whole year (for until the battery runs down), suggests that the time may come when all such "weeks" may become years. Take Thrift Week, Forestry Week, "Be Good" Week, "Pay Your Bills" Week, and all of the other dispensations conceived in the minds of forward-looking and fostered and popularized upon a waiting and receptive world by press, club and pupil: what might transform every one of them that are good into year-round activities? Or better still, what can make them a real part of ourselves, a second nature, so that their observance becomes a matter of course instead of a matter of form?

That time should be welcomed by all thinking people. And such a time may come if, with all of our institutions, the world is not getting better what hope is there left? We owe to science and invention a debt of gratitude for comforts and conveniences and other material benefits that make life sweeter. But they are nothing without the moral consciousness behind them to adapt them to the moral and cultural purposes of life.

Two American flyers have been up in the air continuously for more than 51 hours. This will remain a world record until the next democratic convention.

You can make a garden but you can't make it grow without cultivating it. You can make friends but you can't keep them unless you stand by them.

Be a booster. Our town can never go ahead of its leaders. Be upright. A town is no better than its finest citizen.

Laying the card on the table is not half as interesting as laying the checks on the counter.
