LEARNING FROM OTHER TOWNS

Modern methods of standardization have attempted to destroy individuality, but there is one kind of "standardization" that we ought to welcome...

PLANT A TREE AND SAVE A FLOOD

How many of us planted a tree last year or will plant one this year? Taking the country as a whole, probably not one person in a thousand contributed actively toward reforestation...

IS PHYSICAL EDUCATION IMPORTANT?

Thirty-three States have physical education laws, but they are faced with the problem of how to build their programs to the end that every boy and girl between the ages of six and eighteen years will enjoy and benefit by a broad physical and health education program.

Last year Tampa, Florida, won the distinction of receiving the highest number of merit badges for physical fitness among its school children, according to a survey made by the Playground and Recreation Association of America...

The association reports that a certain city of one hundred thousand population, concerned over the increasing amount of crime, bribery and vice, took steps to clean up. Intelligence consists not only in being brave enough to assert what things we are right in, but in being honest enough to admit what things we are wrong in.

According to the view of the Italian Premier, the world is divided into two parts; Mussolini's and the rest.

Development never ends. The largest cities of the world have a desire to keep growing just as has our town. Their problems are larger but their ambitions are the same as ours.

A specialist is a fellow who specializes in rendering high bills.

Evolution of domestic life; ceremony, matrimony, acrimony, testimony, alimony.

"Wider Roads Needed"—Headline. So they can get a better aim at the pedestrians?

The real "danger line" isn't on the teeth; it's the line that comes off the tongue
