Lindbergh has been termed "lucky" everywhere, but it was not luck which carried him across the ocean any more than it was luck which made it possible for Columbus four hundred years ago or more to navigate the hitherto unnavigated Atlantic. Lindbergh had prepared for his journey.

No. Lindbergh was not lucky; he was well trained; he was well equipped; he had prepared himself for unforeseen emergencies, and he had confidence in his own ability to meet the unexpected. He had the courage of well thought out convictions based upon a thorough training. He did not succeed through chance.

is doing for American shavers everywhere?
This amazing invention marks such a radical advance in shaving comfort and economy that it deserves to be called much more than a stropper. Rather it is a blade rejuvenator. Makes hundreds of keen, quick shaves blossom where only one grew before.

KRISS KROSS strops your blade (any make) on the diagonal, just like a master barber. Pressure decreuses automatically. Nickel jig flies up to notify you when blade is ready, with the keenest cutting edge that steel can take.
