

ALOHA-HUBER SCHOOL

Each member of the advanced music appreciation class is required to recognize at least twenty musical compositions as given on the phonograph. Competition is keen at the present time. About four of the class of thirty have met the requirement and practice will continue until all can do it.

A number of pupils of the school are planning to attend the performance of Tony Sarg's Marionettes in Portland on Saturday. Pupils of the music appreciation class have studied the Funeral March of a Marionette, so a performance by marionettes will especially interest them.

Twelve members of the Rabbitry Club, accompanied by their leader, attended the club conference in Hillsboro last Friday. The excessive rain didn't dampen their spirits for all came back enthused with their trip and more interested than ever in their rabbits. Their trip for inspection of hutches brought them right back to our own local rabbit fancier, Mr. Braden, who has as fine a bunch of rabbits as the country affords.

Eva Prink, Pauline Buchanan, Blanche Haines, Charlotte Patterson, Dorothy Buchanan and Margaret Haines, members of Cooking Class I, spent Thursday morning at the club conference in Hillsboro and saw Mrs. Humphrey demonstrate the newest things in cookery. One can surmise that angel food cake and orange biscuit are common foods in the homes of the girls these days.

The fifth grade class in arithmetic is studying measurement of distances and surfaces. Three of the boys have measured accurately a distance one mile in length and all are going to pace it off this week to see how long a mile really is.

Dick Benjamin of the second grade missed school two days last week and two this week because of sickness.

Elaine Anderson was sick Tuesday. She is in the first grade.

Mrs. Barker, the primary teacher, went to Forest Grove Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of Miss Pearl Cooke's father. Miss Cooke was formerly principal of Aloha-Huber school.

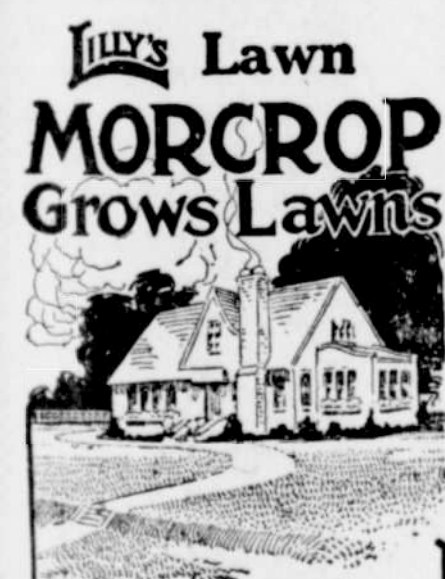

Several of the children of the school are making plans to enter the county dramatic contest, to be held at Hillsboro May 4. In former years the pupils of this school have acquitted themselves creditably and have succeeded in capturing many of the ribbons.

The first grade was very sorry to lose Betty Ruth Sutton, who started Sunday with her parents for an auto trip to Kansas. Betty will probably attend school there for the remainder of the year. They will return in the early summer.

Mrs. Frank Kelly visited the primary room Monday morning. Her little son, Dale, is in the first grade.

A new broom lasts much longer when soaked in strong hot salt water before using. This stiffens the straw.

What the world needs is a peace conference to get all nations to come to a peace conference.
