

FARM REMINDERS

Except as a pasture, planting new and untried varieties of "freak" crops in Oregon is usually an expensive and unprofitable venture, says the farm crops department at the experiment station.

FARM MARKET REPORT

Hay, Pasture and Feed Although hay markets continued to move toward a new crop basis and prices were weakened by the arrival of too much rain-damaged hay, there is a demand for good quality hay and premiums of $1-$5 a ton have been paid for extra leafy hay over ordinary grades.

Potatoes

To what extent the present extremely bad potato market situation may be improved depends largely upon the size of the late crop. A smaller estimated production of second-early potatoes may provide an opportunity for most recent reports indicate improved crop conditions for second-early potatoes, especially in the Kaw Valley of Kansas.

Dairy Products

Much firmness was noted in Pacific coast butter markets last week with some price advances and a stronger statistical position. Eastern markets were about steady with the storage and production situation inclined to be more bullish, except for some improvement in pastures as a result of general rains over the chief dairy districts.

Livestock

Higher cattle prices were registered last week. Hog and fat cattle markets in general were lower. There is some opinion that cattle markets will remain firm for some time to come especially on well finished grades. Slaughter of cattle under federal inspection for the 11 months ending May 1928 was 8,334,503 against 9,250,773 for the same period a year ago.

SEVERAL CASES IN JUDGE NOYES COURT

Joe Bross was arrested and charged with reckless driving and failure to stop at an intersection last week. R. T. Beebley, of Lafayette, was driving over 30 miles and was arrested by F. A. McMahon and fined $18.

SWEET CREAM POSSIBLE EVEN IN HOT WEATHER

Years ago practically all butter was churned from sour cream but the chief demand now is for better quality sweet cream for this purpose, says V. D. Chappell, manager of the college creamery at the Oregon experiment station.

Some bacteria get into milk unavoidably but their multiplication may be kept to the minimum if the milk or cream is cooled as soon as possible and kept so. Where cold running water is available it may be run around the cans in a portion of the milk room.

PREPARE YOUR CAR WELL BEFORE YOU START ON TRIP

A. E. Shearer, director of the touring department of the Oregon State Motor association declares that the average motorist destroys a measure of the enjoyment on his vacation trip by overlooking a number of details which might easily be attended to before starting the trip.

Some of the high spots in Mr. Shearer's advice are as follows: "Prepare your car well before you start and don't overcrowd it. Secure your road routing in advance of your actual departure. Remember that road conditions change from day to day, hence the necessity of checking up on your routing from point to point.

Don't depend on wayside information. Touring bureau information is maintained up-to-the-minute and is accurate.

Start your touring day early. Avoid the congested areas—maps show how this may be done—if you are in a hurry to reach your destination. Select your stopovers and your hotels and make reservations in advance. If you are unable to be there, notify the hotel as a matter of courtesy and in order that other wayfarers may have better service.

Finally, don't try to cover too much territory for the time at your disposal or for the budget you have assigned yourself. Remember that physical exhaustion mars the pleasure of the tour and makes for accidents.

WILL SUBSTITUTE FOR CARRIER UNTIL JULY 16

Felix Rosh, substitute carrier, will handle Tigard Route 1 until July 16 when Mr. Patton will assume charge.

Those who have not painted their names on their boxes should have this done before July 15.
