THE FLIGHT OF THE "QUESTION MARK"

The army plane "Question Mark," after being in the air for 150 hours, shattered the world's record for continuous flight of any machine carrying human beings. The name of the plane is unique, if not uncanny. What it did is remarkable and phenomenal. One is moved to feel that venture practically the last word in endurance tests. On the other hand it may be considered but a suggestion of the possibility of greater marvels.

Considered seriously or humorously, there are yet many things to do in the field of exploration, in tests of strength; and opportunities for "championships" of all sorts are still open. By the very nature of things there are no limits of expansion in mechanical and scientific achievement.

There are the stars and planets standing out in the sky. Great worlds are beckoning for someone to come to them. What is in the center of the earth, or even twenty miles down, is still a mystery. Even this comparatively little spheroid called earth has patches of uncharted seas and unsurveyed lands.

Who will deny that all of the five senses eventually will be capable of applying themselves over great distances? We now hear around the world. Television is making it possible for us to see events happening across continents. Who doubts that we shall sometime be enraptured by the fragrance of roses blooming in Picardy while sitting by our own fireside on this side of the ocean? The apparently ridiculous theories of today are the practical realities of tomorrow.

Science, invention and human ingenuity remove the barriers of time and space. Question marks are turned into statements of fact. Progress is infinite in its workings. Nothing stands still, for mind is active and positive. To deny the immeasurable and limitless fact of achievement is to be either grossly ignorant of the principles involved, or wilfully inattentive to the trends of modern thought and action.

When one goes out to accomplish something worth while for the community, a good backing is equally essential along with a good front.

The evolution of the Christmas card into a Valentine won't be long now!

The black sheep in the family is the one that gets your goat.

If you think you're such a friend to man compare yourself with a dog.

The two things that never pay in this world are crime and the deadbeat.

When a movie star's fame begins to wane she has to do something sensational again.

Whether we ever get them or not, this would be a dull old world without the quadrennial issues of farm relief and prohibition.

According to tradition, when a ground-hog sees his shadow he runs back into his house. But most flappers don't even seem ashamed of theirs.

Applicant: "Erect position."

IN EVERY HOME

—complete telephone service is a convenience to every member of the family. Properly placed extension telephones saves tiring steps for the housewife. Son or daughter, sister or brother, dad or mother—find them a year 'round comfort and satisfaction.

And too, the telephone is an aid in emergencies and a protection in danger.

HITEON

A number of Hiteon pupils have been absent from school with the flu. Russell Kahr, Earl Drallic, Hazel Anderson and Curtis Reynolds are on the sick list.

Alfred Rucker, of Buxton, was visiting Saturday and Sunday at the Struthers home.

Mrs. Hans Eliander, of Progress, who was ill for several months passed away at her home Monday. The sympathy of Hiteon neighbors is given the bereaved family.

Mr. Archie Handy, of Portland, was called at his farm here last week.

Miss Effie Van Kleek is employed as day "hello" girl at the Tigard telephone office.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leets, of St. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Haggerty and Mrs. N. P. Nielsen and daughter Thora of Tigard were Sunday callers at the Struthers home.

Mr. Harry Robinson is quite ill with the flu.

HAZELDALE

The Hazeldale Literary Society held "open meeting" on Tuesday, January 8. Mr. J. G. Bretherton of the Federal Commerce Commission gave a very interesting and educational address on "How the Department of Commerce is Worked in Oregon." The work of the various branches was outlined and how they cooperate to help people in every field of commercial life.

Mrs. August Anderson, of Witch-hazel played a piano solo and gave a reading. Miss Rhoda Shellenberger of Beaverton was the soloist. The next regular meeting for members will be on Tuesday, January 22. There will be a debate on the Community Hall question, with Mr. Robert Cameron and Agnes Syverson upholding the affirmative and Mr. C. P. Syverson and Jean Smith on the negative.

Walter and Raymond Heard and Ray Carey left last week to work at Tualatin for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Syverson entertained with a delightful card party last Thursday evening. Four tables of 500 were in play after which refreshments were served and dancing indulged in. Mrs. J. C. Smith won highest honors for ladies and Mr. Charles La Follette of Cornelius too gentlemen's first prize. The consolation prizes went to Mrs. Tom Kerr of Hillsboro and Clarence Robison of Laurel.

The sympathy of the community is being extended to Mr. and Mrs. B. Leonetti and family on the death of their son and brother, Louis.

Miss Isabel and Elsie Todd were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith on Sunday.

Mr. Rex Boggs of Cooper Mt. left last week for business in Idaho and California.

Mrs. Welter, of Sublimity, is making her home for the present with her daughter, Mrs. J. Gassner.

All in the Family

If the number of our ancestors doubled in each ascending generation, as it would do if the marriage of cousins of various degrees did not take place, each of us would be descended from more than a billion ancestors of a thousand years ago, let us say in the reign of William the Conqueror. Even allowing for numerous intermarriages of relatives it is highly probable that all people of English or French or German stock are descended from common ancestors of a thousand years ago.—American Journal of Sociology.

Much Interest in Moon

Although total eclipses of the moon are far more generally observed than total eclipses of the sun, since they may be seen from more than half of the earth's surface while a total eclipse of the sun, according to the American Nature association, is visible only within a very narrow path of great length, yet they are not of so common occurrence that they pass unobserved or fail to arouse popular interest.

Smiles

Mary Jo accompanied her mother on an errand to the city and relating the experiences excitedly to her daddy, on his return from business, said: "Mother and I turned the car a way we ought to not and policeman stopped us. Mother said, 'Don't say a word, just smile.' We did smile and he says, 'It's all right this time, sister.'"

Pattern for a Dress

Little Patsy is a youngster of delicate sensibilities when it comes to matters artistic. After an exquisite symphony at the theater, she breathed a sigh of joy and murmured: "Mamma, I wish I had a dress just like that music."

METZGER

Friday, January 25th at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Clara Smith, Miss Alice Sewell, an artist of note, who has exhibited in New York and Europe, will talk to the Washington county Federation Art Committee on the subject of "How to see Pictures." Anyone interested will be welcome.

The Metzger Woman's Club will give a card party at the home of Mrs. H. E. Leedy, Saturday evening January 26. Both bridge and 500 will be played. Mrs. J. Bross, chairman of committee.

At the last meeting of the club Miss Furguson, Girl Scout executive, and Mrs. Stevens of the Social Service Department each gave interesting and instructive talks.

DURHAM

Mr. Ebbleser and family expect to move to Portland very soon on account of his work with the railroad company. We regret very much to have them leave our neighborhood.

Mr. Rinehart, of Tualatin, will occupy the Ebbleser place. This will place him closer to his work at the Pilkington Nursery and also make it better for his work as scout master.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sedlic of Oswego were dinner guests at the Hedeon home one evening last week.

Mr. J. R. Dobson and family spent Sunday at the Lyons' home in Wilsonville.

Dr. Pargon, of Portland, was a caller in our vicinity one day last week.

The Community Club is arranging an entertainment for the benefit of the Boy Scouts to be given at the school house on the evening of January 25th. Mr. Regling says he has obtained some good musicians and assures a splendid program.

Mrs. Hedeon and children spent the week end in Portland.

Read what these leading automobile editors said after seeing and riding in the new Chevrolet Six—

"In appearance, performance and mechanical nicety the new Chevrolet Six presents actual values far beyond its price range."
—Hazen Conklin
New York World

"Aside from beauty in body lines and attractiveness in finish, the astounding feature of the new Chevrolet Six is its powerful and flexible motor. One will have to go far to equal the high performance of this new Chevrolet in general road and traffic use."
—Leon J. Pinkson
San Francisco Chronicle

"The new Chevrolet is a triumph for volume production. The car at its price is one of the greatest achievements ever recorded in the automobile industry. Its beauty is a treat; its riding comfort a new delight and its performance a real sensation."
—Ray Priest
Detroit Times

"St. Louis motordom is tremendously enthused over the new Chevrolet Six. Personally I have never seen the public so interested in a new car. The factory should be congratulated on the truly monumental engineering feat it has accomplished."
—Robert Henry Hall
St. Louis Post-Dispatch
