ALOHA-HUBER SCHOOL

All but two members have finished their years work in the first year cooking class.

These two will finish this week. Besides the regular work scheduled they have cooked ten other projects, including cake, salad, cereals and breakfast meats. Next week the girls will send samples of their work to Forest Grove where it will be exhibited. While the girls are estimating cost of the cooked dishes during the school study period, the boys in the seventh grade have been studying the French and English wars in the United States and Canada during the early settlement of the country. They divided the class in two groups and they made large free hand drawings of the country showing the different forts and trading posts. This has proved very interesting and stimulated interest in geography.

On Washington's birthday the 7th grade studied his life and a number of stories were read from different authors who gave their version of his life.

Nellie Mitzell is ill with the flu. There are seven or eight absent every week from the 8th grade.

Claude Russell returned to school Monday after being out a week.

Jerome Tuttle and Rosalie Ried are again confined to their home with a relapse after having the flu.

The Lee children reported that they are intending to move to Hood River soon. This will take four industrious children out of the school.

VACATION

By Robert G. Shepherd

When we travel to the seashore, And watch the sea gulls fly, And we hear the breakers roar, And we watch the cloudless sky.

And we watch the fish a-swimming In the coves next to the bay, And we watch the gulls a-fishing Out to sea and far away.

And we see the silver light house And the beam of light it casts, And we watch the funny sand mouse Till it's scared away at last.

And we watch the wave swept beaches With their dunes of hilly sand, But we watch beyond their reaches As they are swept o'er beach and land.

The cliffs are formed like funnels With their pockets and their holes, Waves are digging nature's tunnels Like the gophers and the moles.

We love to lie and watch the rocks With their caps of bright green foam And we think of all the jobs And the drive to get back home.

Till at last our week is ended We must hit the trail for home, All at once our throats have blended And there's no more time to roam.

But there's joy in bounding homeward To watch the hills fly by, We drive fast as a drunkard Beneath the cloudless sky.

Our vacation was a hummer And our hearts demand no more, Than another trip in summer To the far-away sea shore.

Willy Schlottman, June Bettis, Patsy Reynolds, Dorothy Patterson and Darold Reed were absent from school all last week.

Earnest Farrar, of Portland, is a new pupil in the second grade.

Miss Grand was ill two days last week and unable to be at school.

TIGARD HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Cecilia Frison, Reporter

Last Friday night the Tigers defeated St. Helen's basketball team by a score of 29 to 25.

Thursday night the Oregon City Woolen Mills defeated the Tigard "H" girls. The score was 20 to 29. A play was also given by the basketball girls before the game. The net proceeds were about $43.

Tuesday night the first and second teams of the basketball boys journeyed to Hill Military to play them.

Tonight the basketball boys will play the Parkrose basketball team in the Tigard gym.

A number of students have been on the sick list. Elmore Badley is at the Good Samaritan hospital, suffering from concussion of the brain sustained from an accident in his work. Johnny Mortenson is still ill with a complication of small pox and flu.

The delegates to the annual Educational Exposition at O. S. C. last week end report a very interesting time. They will give detailed reports of their trip to the student body sometime this week.

A large tiger head has been painted in the center of the gym. Duane Jones, a senior, painted it.

FIRST TEAM TIGERS WIN PARKROSE TILT

The Tigers invaded the Parkrose gym Tuesday night and defeated them 34 to 21.

The Tigard hoopsters played ragged ball all the first half seemingly finding it difficult to locate the basket. Parkrose had a two point lead at the end of the first quarter. The second quarter went in the same manner and the score at the half was 15 to 12 in favor of the Purple and White. In the second half however, the Emerald quintet decidedly changed tactics in their passing and shooting and checked their opponents to about 6 points. The final score was 34 to 21.

Litton was the outstanding player, collecting 14 points. Rankin was next in scoring honors with 11. Lawbaugh was high point man for Parkrose with 10 points.

The second team lost its first game when they met the Parkrose second stringers. The Tiger seconds were outplayed during the whole game. The score at the half was 6 to 2 and this was extended to the final score of 20 to 6.

METZGER WOMEN'S CLUB TO MEET FEBRUARY 6

A FLAT TIRE PARTY

Flat tires was the cause of gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bushbaum at Tualatin that had a delightful ending.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Foley began the gathering with a flat tire, and while adjusting the same, along came the Mr. and Mrs. Paulsen from Beaverton using some phrases that Webster overlooked with another flat tire. While we were using some highfalutin language over our hard luck, a sewing machine of the Ford type hove in view, Mr. and Mrs. Belknap of Beaverton, and like two wounded ducks they also complained of a flat tire. What was circulated through the air will remain a dead issue, as the cows even turned in for the night. Then in a dark cloud out of a bright sky came Mr. and Mrs. Brazil from Tigard with their Chevrolet with another flat tire that looked like one of Albers Buckwheat Cakes. Webster may have garnered all the phrases in the English language but I'm right smart when I say he missed about 500 the gang used, while they were changing the intestinal parts of their tires.

Then to cap the climax along comes the boss, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bushbaum from Tualatin, and when he saw the gang in action in front of his house he had a flat thought: in his mind they all had to eat. Someone yelled biscuits and as Mr. Bushbaum has a record for tasty biscuits he answered the call in making a few dozen. Strange to say when he took them from the oven they were flat which was in line with the spirit. As is, they were oiled and greased with home made butter and slipped into our anatomies without a care. The innertubes in his biscuits blew out.

Other delicacies were served and it was a late hour when the guests departed for their homes. With plenty of air in our tubes and some flat biscuits beneath our belts the night air seemed entrancing.

FIND $12,000 RUM OUTFIT NEAR TIGARD

A $12,000 rum outfit was raided Friday night by federal, state and county officers on the old William farm, six miles southwest of Tigard near the Schomberg bridge.

The still was capable of producing 1000 gallons of 102-proof moonshine a day. Only 400 gallons of moonshine was on hand.

The electrifying, heating, lighting and steam system were complete in every respect. Water was piped 800 feet from a creek and a sewer leading from the still ran into the Tualatin river.

Two lookout posts were found in the towers on the roof and they could see the country for miles around.

Early Saturday morning several boys attempted to enter the grounds but were met by a rain of bullets and returned home.

Nature Provided for "Cold Storage" Pussy

One day the local carpenter, who had taken a job in the city, came to see me. He had under his arm one of the oddest little kittens I've ever seen. Apparently a long-haired white, it didn't look like a Persian. It didn't look like anything I'd ever seen before. More than anything else, it looked like a polar bear's cub.

"What kind of a cat is this?" I asked him.

"This here is a cold storage cat."

"A what?" I cried, thinking of frozen eggs and defunct chicken. Cold storage was in its somewhat sickly infancy then.

"A year or so ago," he explained, "the cold storage warehouse I'm workin' for took in a lot o' cats to kill rats. What with the damp an' the dark an' the cold, only a few o' 'em lived, but the ones that did grew longer and longer hair, and this kitten is the fourth generation. I've got seven o' 'em."

I watched the various generations of those kittens around the neighborhood, and was amused to see them revert to common short-haired.—Mara Evens in the Saturday Evening Post.
