TIGARD ATHLETIC CLUB

Speedy Jones won the wrestling match that brought a high wave of enthusiasm from the crowd that attended last night's jamboree.

Speedy Jones 150 pounds vs. Jack Williams 150 pounds furnished the crowd with a hat full of excitement while the affair lasted. Speedy won two out of three falls and was roundly cheered when he flattened Williams like one of Albers back-wheat cakes upon the mat. Williams deserves a lot of credit as he proved to be a tough customer, and kept Jones hustling to win. The bout kept the crowd in high spirits as both boys tried hard and long. It lasted an hour and a half and was an event that should have been pulled off at the Heilig. It was an interesting bout from start to finish—filled with spills, thrills and tactics that might be called unethical. Harry Kuehne, Western welterweight champion officiated and if Harry ever retires from the wrestling game he has a career awaiting him as referee. Harry's presence added a lot of pep to the affair and kept the contestants confined to the rules of the game. No fooling with Kuehne the third man in the ring - you can't do as you please - but as he decides. If a suitable opponent can be found Harry promised his services to add to the interest in the next event. Mike Cox (Canadian welterweight champion) challenged the winner and offered to throw either one twice in an hour. His offer was readily accepted with a side bet of 200 dollars by the promoter of the Newberg Athletic Club. Harry Kuehne also fell in line with a side bet of 50 dollars along with a special announcement by Speedy Jones who issued a defi to Cox to wanted to know when was the next try and do it for 25 pesos. The preliminaries were tame and came to a climax with Crabtree looking at the moon in about 15 minutes. Ralph Williams 130 pounds and Percy Wang substituted for a few sick ones who could not appear. Ralph made it interesting for Percy and kept him busy avoiding a left jab that needs developing and will be interesting when he does. Both boys seemed tired at the gong. It was a draw and well received. Altogether it was an interesting night as the audience had nothing but praise for the splendid program and a vote of approval for those in charge. As we wended our way out into the night the crowd one coming off.

MULTNOMAH FIRE DEPARTMENT AGAIN IN ACTION

Too much credit cannot be given the Multnomah fire department for their able work Saturday night in saving the home at Capitol Hill, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Schuler and Mr. and Mrs. George Springer.

The two families left the house at 7 o'clock, it was reported. About 9 p. m. neighbors saw smoke coming out of the place. They called firemen who started playing a garden hose on the blaze, which was gaining headway between the walls. All the furniture was removed. By the time the Portland fire department arrived, the local chemical engine had been used to extinguish the blaze. Damages was estimated at approximately $400.

The Portland fire department laid 2400 feet of hose but could not reach the house. This again emphasizing the need for the installation of more fire hydrants in this district.

It is announced by Alfred Powers, in charge of summer sessions. Selection of faculty is now going on, and the complete personnel will soon be ready. The S. S. Queen of the Admirals line will carry the students to Alaska.

Three educators of outstanding qualifications for such a project have already been named. Mr. Powers says These are J. Duncan Spaeth, professor of English at Princeton, who will give courses in literature; Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the department of geology of the university, who will give courses in geology, anthropology and other sciences, and Noland B. Zane, professor of art, who in addition to giving practical courses in this field, will offer instruction in history and appreciation of art.

A faculty of 15 will be taken on the cruise, which will have accommodations for 185 students. Courses in botany, biology, journalism, and other subjects will be offered. Lectures and practical field work will take up the time on the cruise, and the students will then return to the Eugene campus where the final two weeks will be spent in further study and examinations.

The itinerary of the trip shows that many places of interest will be visited. The students will leave Eugene Wednesday, August 7, by special train, and will leave Seattle on the S. S. Queen the following morning. The vessel will go via Puget sound, Strait of Juan De Fuca, Georgia Strait, Seymour Narrows, Johnstone Strait, Queen Charlotte Sound, Millbank Sound, Grenville Channel, and British Columbia Inlets, arriving at Ketchikan on Saturday. After a four hour stop, the ship will go on to Wrangell, where another stop will be made. From here, via Summer Straits and Wrangell Narrows, the party will go on to Petersburg, where they will remain five hours. The next stop will be at Taku Glacier, on Monday, where the vessel will lay to for three hours.

From the Glacier the ship will go to Juneau, where nearly an entire day will be spent. From Juneau the ship will proceed to Skagway, stopping at Douglas, Haines and Chilkoot en route. The party will arrive at Sitka on Wednesday, and will remain here until 9 a. m. Thursday. It will then start back, stopping again at Juneau, Petersburg, Wrangell and Ketchikan. The ship will dock in Seattle the following Tuesday at 10 o'clock, and students will take a special train for Eugene.

The S. S. Queen is one of the favorite ships in Alaskan service. It has a speed of 14 knots, has a length of 348 feet, breadth of 35 feet and a gross tonnage of 2727. On the A deck are 28 rooms with 58 berths, on B deck 44 rooms with 121 berths and on C deck 10 rooms with 30 berths. All accommodations are first class, and the cost for the entire trip, including fare from Eugene to Seattle and return, university fees and boat fare is but $140. Full details will be furnished by Alfred Powers, director of summer sessions, University of Oregon, Eugene.
