CONGRATULATIONS TO LINDBERGH

The disadvantages of fame are never more illustrated than at the wedding and during the honeymoon of the famous. Dodging newspapermen and the eyes of the curious, the escape from boredom becomes seriously difficult. The hero-worship which surrounds Charles Lindbergh has been intensified by his marriage to Anne Morrow; the bride being no small part of the happy affair.

Because his vocation is aviation and his avocation is flying, Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh are the subjects of greater concern and the objects of greater devotion than they would be were they equally famous but less spectacular in achievement.

The escape from the crowd in this their greatest period of happiness is not due to any lack of devotion to the feelings of their countrymen and particularly not any studied effort to hold themselves aloof from their millions of admirers. It is a necessity, all the more worthy in motive when personal privileges are considered.

The question arises, what effect will this union have upon the life work and accomplishments of the Flying Colonel? If our guess is right, he will enter upon the greatest accomplishments of his already unequalled career. The world is convinced that he married a wonderful young woman; that he is worthy of her and she of him. If bards have sung aright, if philosophers have spoken wisdom, if history has been recorded authentically, if marriage is indeed the social institution founded upon the highest and noblest instincts of the race, then the world may look forward to greater things yet because of Charles Lindbergh's marriage to the cultured and talented Anne Morrow. We hope they live happily and fly safely ever afterward!

"HOME TOWNLETS"

The off-year for candidates ought to be a good year for other crops.

Einstein's theory of relativity, in part, is that there is no such thing as distance that keeps bodies apart. This is also the theory of distant bodies.

An investigation shows that your chances of being killed are greater in Memphis than in Chicago. This must be wrong, because there are not as many people to shoot at you in Memphis.

HITEON

Miss Lucille Hite who has been at home the past week returned to Portland Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Christensen visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman of Laurel who formerly resided here.

Carl Olson and Cornelius West enjoyed a week end fishing trip. No report on the size or number of fish caught was reported.

Mrs. Elizabeth McGowan was able to be moved to her home from St. Vincent hospital last Wednesday. We hope she will soon be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Platt and children of Tigard were calling at the Struthers home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Ruth Anderson attended a shower for Mrs. Ernest Nichols of Portland Saturday afternoon.

Don't forget the annual school meeting to be held at the school house the third Monday in June at 8 p. m. A director and clerks will be elected also a budget adopted for the coming year.

The following Hiteon pupils successfully passed the state examinations with the exception of Lowell Kahr who must take spelling over. Eighth grade: Elizabeth Struthers, Lowell Kahr, seventh grade, geography, Millie Zimmerman, Edna Blanken, Ardis Nelson; sixth grade Hygiene, Dean Willoughby, Mary Coleman, Russel Kahr.

Frank Smeltzer was visiting his sister Mrs. Corn Metzentine last week.

Miss Gertrude Richter and mother were callers at the Metzentine home Monday.

Mr. and Mr. C. W. Struthers and daughter Elizabeth spent Saturday evening at the N. P. Nielsen home at Tigard.

The Herman Metzentine family visited Sunday at John Smeltzers.

Mrs. Ina Erickson of Progress presented her piano pupils in a recital at her home Friday evening. Parents and other relatives enjoyed the following program which was well rendered.

Piano duet, On Patrol, Elizabeth Struthers and Ethel North.
Summer Days, The Big Bass Singer, Dorothy DeHaan.

The Fairies Dance, The Spinning Song, Earl Dralle.

Piano Duet, Shoulder to Shoulder, Russell Kahr and Mrs. Erickson.

TUALATIN

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Quinn, former local residents, now of the Lloyd A. Lee poultry farm near Salem, spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Earl L. Meyer.

Florence, eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Panck of the Panck poultry farm, submitted to an operation Monday, at the Good Samaritan hospital, for the removal of tonsils and adenoids. She is again at home and getting along famously.

Thelma Stromquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stromquist of Stromquist poultry farm, near Tigard, sustained a badly lacerated ankle Sunday and narrowly averted a very serious if not fatal injury. With her parents and sister, a trip was made to purchase a new cow. One cow in question, which was inspected by Mr. Stromquist, became vivacious and cavorting about in such haste that Thelma was caught about the lower limbs in the cow chain. Prompt action was necessary.

W. A. Root, of Tigard, master of Washington county Pomona grange was the principal speaker at the eighth grade commencement exercises at the Tualatin gym Friday evening. His address was well received.

Harvey Casteel has received the appointment of greens keeper at the Oswego Country club, succeeding S. Saltgaver who was formerly here at the Tualatin Country club.

Mrs. Earl Meyer is back to her childhood days with a case of well defined mumps.

Mrs. Alvin Wells of Tillamook, is visiting the W. R. Hawxhurst home. Real estate is moving around Tualatin. Several new families are located on the Comte-Kohlman tracts and this week W. R. Baker with Mrs. Baker and three sons and Mrs. Baker's father, S. O. Etter moved to their new ten acre improved place at Nasoma station. Mr. Baker is employed by the P. E. P. company and will retain his position.

Herman Lafky head of the agricultural department of the Canby union high school who is meeting with such great success in his work is a brother of M. G. Lafky here, who last year purchased the Fessler place south of Tualatin.

The Tualatin high school orchestra is to be congratulated. It is a splendid musical organization. It is made up of piano, Mabel Voss; saxophone, Albert Voss, Sherwood, Roy Hogan; Sherwood, drums; violins Ben Andrews, Jean and Jim Day, Tualatin and Mulloy and saxophone, Melvin Schmoekel, Tualatin. They furnish the music for the dance at the Gym Saturday night following the comedy, "The Poor Married Man". The Tualatin high school has reason to be proud of the high school orchestra.

Do you know, friends, that California is trying to claim our strawberries. They call them the "Oregon Plum" which is here the "Improved Oregon." The plants even come from Oregon. Many think they are buying local strawberries when in reality they are grown in California.

Why not wait a few days and get real Oregon berries?

The outstanding event in Tualatin during the past week was the Frogpond grange play "The Poor Married Man" in which the leading part was portrayed by George Saum whose versatility was remarkable. His part was that of a professor with a weakness for wine and women. As Mr. Saum who owns and operates the Castle Ranch and is not at all addicted to drink, being intoxicated was really rather difficult for him to play. Every character was well sustained, particularly that of the mother-in-law and of course Mr. Saum, who was the "whole show." Dancing and refreshments followed the comedy and the attendance was a capacity house. The affair was under the sponsorship of Winona grange.

The Tualatin Valley Poultry association met at the Durham school house Tuesday evening with the president E. R. Stromquist in the chair. An executive committee was named consisting of the officers, John Panck and E. C. Richardson. Fred Cockell of Milwaukie was present to invite the association to a big picnic and field day, Tuesday, June 18 at the Canby fair grounds, Canby. Lunch at noon, picnic style and the coffee furnished by the Clackamas delegation. Poultrymen from the entire district around Canby from Salem to Hillsboro are expected to be in attendance. One big drawing card on the program to be given at 1:30 p. m. is an address by Mrs. George R. Shoup of Washington. Those of you who have heard Mrs. Shoup realize what a drawing card she is. More details later. Committee on picnic E. C. Richardson, Mrs. S. Walker and Paul Regling.

A. GARROW & COMPANY FEATURE SPRAY METHOD

A. Garrow & Co., commercial and industrial painters, of Portland, are prepared to demonstrate the superiority of the "spray method" of painting, the use of which has been responsible for the large success of their company.

This paper is glad to present the name of Mr. Garrow to its readers, though to many he is already well known.

"See Garrow the Sprayman before you have your painting done," is the slogan of the company, which has proven popular and profitable. In one of the oldest arts new methods of operation and efficiency are of the greatest aid.

Now that home owners of this section are contemplating painting up their houses, the presentation of this firm name is very appropriate.

GOODYEAR SHOE COMPANY CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

The Goodyear Shoe company is celebrating the 27th anniversary of its opening with a two week sale of shoes which is attracting attention from every section.

In keeping with the event, the management of the store has provided a special arrangement of stock and placed prices on goods that appeal to all shoppers.

In the display during this period, there are a number of the most attractive lines of women's and children's footwear. These are not only the latest in designs and styles, but the most pleasing and comfortable to wearers also. Mens shoes of a wide variety of makes for every purpose and occasion are available at very reasonable prices.

No shopper should pass the opportunity to view the large special display which makes the 27th anniversary sale of the Goodyear Shoe Co. interesting to those who are in the market for shoes.
