PEOPLE OF BEAVERTON TO ATTEND CELEBRATION

People of Beaverton were extended a personal invitation to come to Eugene July 25, 26 and 27 for the Sunset Trail pageant, the state-wide pioneer celebration which will be held there at that time when a caravan of Eugene Radiators stopped here Monday. The party, under the leadership of R. O. Bushong, is making a tour of the coast between here and Eugene to advertise the coming event.

While here the Radiators conferred with chamber of commerce officials and this city was extended an invitation to participate in the historical parade, one of the outstanding features. Floats and entries in this parade will be representative of every phase of Oregon industry and work, Mr. Bushong said.

The Eugeneians also urged people of this region to be on the lookout for any pioneer relics that might be entered in the pioneer parade, or put in the pioneer exhibition. The pioneer spirit will predominate at the celebration, it was stated.

A cast of 1500 citizens led by a distinguished group of the most noted artists in the West will present a pageant each evening.

The pageant itself will be elaborate and all inclusive, with the first episode taking the audience back to prehistoric days. This episode, to be done in dim half light, is expected to be very impressive. The second part deals with Maya civilization and will be an idyllic scene in which a boy and girl appear in a happy moment, which quickly changes to another mood as the people prepare for religious sacrifice.

The third scene depicts the coming of the Columbia, the first vessel.

Leeds and Clark enter in the fourth scene and included are Sacajawea and Charbonneau. The action becomes more realistic and more fascinating in scene five, which is entitled "The Covered Wagon." Pioneer days in the Oregon country will be the subject of the sixth scene, material for which will be furnished largely by pioneers of Oregon so that it may be authentic and first hand.

The seventh scene will deal entirely with historic Champoege and the events that took place at this highly important spot. The eighth and final episode will be the "Pioneer's Dream," in which all the modern development since pioneer days will be depicted in one way or another. Lumbering, agriculture, railroads, shipping and other phases of modern life will be shown.

There will also be an air circus each day and you will be given an opportunity to "hop off" in one of the newest and most modern planes before and after the program.

TULLY B. STRAYER

The funeral for the late Tully B. Strayer was held in Portland Monday, June 17th under the auspices of Hawthorne lodge A. F. & A. M. Commitment was in the Masonic Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Strayer died Friday June 14 at Beaverton and leaves a wife, Selma M. father of Lansing W. Strayer of Tillamook, Grace I. Strayer, Springfield, Ill., a brother Robert, Thomas and Charles Strayer of California and Mrs. B. B. Kelly of Chicago, Ill.

ELIAS EBERHART

The funeral of Elias Eberhart, aged 77, of Canyon road, was held Friday June 14th at St. Cecilia's church at Beaverton with interment in Calvary cemetery. Arrangements were in charge of Miller & Tracey. He was the father of Mrs. A. J. Gratton, Sister Mary Eugenia, S. M. O. and a stepdaughter Mrs. A. P. Christensen.

Mr. Eberhart came to Oregon with his parents by the Panama canal and settled near Champoege. At the age of twenty years he began teaching school later entering into the building and contracting business. He was a benefactor to many fatherless boys and took special interest in the orphanage at St. Mary's Institute who paid a tribute to his memory by acting as escort and pall bearers at his funeral.

ANNUAL SESSION OF EDITORS OPENS AT ALBANY JUNE 28

The way in which the state of California has successfully brought itself before the people of America, through the activities of the Californians, Inc., will be graphically outlined to editors of Oregon at the annual session of the Oregon State Editorial Association, to be held at Albany June 28 and 29 and at Newport June 30, it is announced here by Arne G. Rae, field manager of the editor's association.

John Cuddy, managing director of the Californians, Inc., will have a prominent place on the program, and will tell in detail of the work of his association. His address will be a part of the general program that has been developing among the newspapers of Oregon to aid in the advertising and development of this state.

The coming session will be one of the busiest and most constructive yet held by the state association, a preliminary announcement of the program shows. Newspaper costs, circulation methods, merchandising and other topics will be discussed by experts and open meetings will follow each talk so that newspapermen may exchange ideas on the various subjects.

While the session will be one of business, recreation will play an important part. Albany offers the facilities of the Elks club and of its nine-hole golf course. A dance and a band concert are also on the program in this city. Following the session in Albany the editors will all go down to Newport, where surfing, dancing, skating and deep sea trips will be offered by the people of that city.

Robert W. Sawyer, president of the state association, will preside at the meetings.

4-H SUMMER SESSION CLOSES SATURDAY JUNE 22

The 4-H summer school session will close tomorrow June 22nd. Washington county was well represented by seventy young people some of which won the right to represent their club through real achievements, others paid their own expenses merely to be able to attain the training and experience in club work. Among those attending from the Eastern end of Washington county were: Eva Wolf, Betty Stickney, Sylvia Carlson, Lester Teschner, and Jerome Tuttle of Aloha; Wanda Smith, Margaret Hunt, John Vermeil and Robert Grant of Garden Home; Elmer Schlottman, Elmora; Nellie Mitzel, Huber; Edwin Jesse, Mountandale; Hazel Heard, Claudie Ingram, George Wilson, William VanKleek Beaverton; Marie Rinehart, Bert Davis and Lowell Martin of Tigard and Catherine Markovitch, Aloha.

Pace Set for Air Terminals of Future

For the first time in the United States, and probably in the world, an airport will be built at Seattle on the principles of a passenger terminal. Passengers will pass from the street entrance of station thru waiting room and along the passenger concourse directly into their planes without once leaving cover or setting foot on earth.

"Hardships in air travel were cheerfully accepted by the public in the novelty age of aviation, when a trip in a plane was regarded as an adventure.

ADDITIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS MADE ON OLD BLDG

The citizens of Beaverton have put their stamp of approval on the steady advancement of the town by voting for and putting over the necessary $35,000 school bond issue. The election held last Saturday carried by a vote of 232 in favor and 141 against the project. The same issue was defeated in an election held early in May and since that time much interest and discussion has taken place among the leaders and the "Taxpayers League" made up of a group who criticized this issue.

However, the bonds are to finance an addition to the present high school building which will house three more classrooms, a gymnasium and remodel the old building.

At the annual school election held on Monday June 17, Dr. Mason was unanimously re-elected as a school director.

FORMER FIRE CHIEF AMONG THOSE AT CONVENTION

Lee Holden, former fire chief of Portland, was a notable representative from Washington county at the state convention of firemen held at Tillamook last week. He delivered a most instructive talk to those assembled and gave many valuable pointers. Mr. Holden is now a resident of Aloha.

MORE TRAINS TO BE TAKEN OFF S. P. ROAD

Effective June 24th, 1929, train No. 126 leaving Beaverton at 7:17 a. m. and train No. 129 leaving Portland at 5:25 p. m. will be discontinued. Last trip will be Saturday, June 22. Withdrawal of these trains is due to lack of patronage and excessive cost of operation and to the fact that convenient service is being furnished by Oregon and Pacific stages.

AMERICAN LEGION POSTS TO RALLY AT HILLSBORO

The American Legion post will hold a county rally at the Hillsboro American Legion hall next Monday, June 24th. Ben Fisher, state commander will speak and all Legion members are urged to be present.

AMERICAN LEGION SPONSORS FRONTIER DAYS RODEO

The American Legion, sponsors of the Oregon City Frontier Days rodeo to be staged on July 2, 3 and 4, is receiving information daily that some of the best roundup performers in the United States will compete for the purses which aggregate $10,000.

Hugh Strickland, former world's champion cowboy who will act as arena director, is in California at present and he has sent word that a large number of high class riders will accompany him to the Oregon City rodeo.

Ed Woods, who captured the Northwest bucking championship at Pendleton last year; Pat Woods, winner of the same title in 1927; Earl Thoad, Pat Owens, Buff Brady, world's champion trick rider; Tex Covey, nationally known fancy roper, Rose Smith, cowgirl, and scores of others will be seen in action.

Mabel Strickland, world's champion cowgirl will be one of the outstanding performers of the show. She holds the world's record for bulldogging a steer her time being 18 seconds flat and she will attempt to lower the record.

Complete programs of bronco busting, bulldogging, calf roping, fancy roping, trick riding, races and other events will be staged on the afternoons and evening programs of July 2, 3, and 4.

Indications are that thousands of people will be in attendance from all parts of the Northwest.

MORE THAN 300 ATTEND POULTRYMEN'S PICNIC

The poultrymen's picnic at the Canby Fair grounds, Tuesday was a tremendous success despite adverse weather. There were more than 300 persons present from far and near.

The entire affair was held in the big pavilion which was all enclosed with the exception of a part of one side. Jack Beattie and Dellas Armstrong, with the help of the audience sang everything from "It Aint Goin' to Rain No More," to "East Side, West Side." The Oregon City boys put the crowd in a decidedly good humor. Sixteen members of the Oregon City Chamber of Commerce were present wearing their ten gallon lids to advertise the coming rodeo and incidentally to show their interest in the poultry people.

Dinner was spread on three long tables in the pavilion and everything from fried chicken and fried rabbit to strawberry shortcake and ice cream was generously served to the jolly picnickers.

Grandpa Bulger of KXL fame was there to delight old and young with his stories and cartoons. He gave the ladies each a Sperry cook book. He told all about homing pigeons and let the boys and girls release a lot of them. He even said that the Scotchmen gave them for Christmas gifts, because they always came back. Mr. Eby, president of Oregon City Chamber of Commerce spoke. President of the state fair board spoke. A. G. Lunn of Corvallis of KOAC fame spoke. He declared that of all farm gatherings in the state of Oregon the largest meetings were those of the poultrymen. Also, he said, right out loud, too, that they represented the most intelligent class of farmers in the state of Oregon.

Mrs. W. H. Thompson, well known poultrywoman of Canby who is interested in the 4-H club work had two of her boys give a demonstration of poultry tattooing. Then, came the leading feature of the program, a talk by Mrs. George R. Shoup, the leading poultry woman specialist in the state of Washington and probably the northwest. She spoke most learnedly on the raising of pullets and bringing them into lay. The most experienced judge there could learn much from her talk. She emphasized mass production and stated that one should have at least 1000 birds and a unit of 2000 was more desirable.

She declared that there was no danger of over production of good eggs. She stated that the Pacific Northwest was climatically situated to become a great poultry center. She is strong for sprouted oats and a lot of other things—too bad, folks, you didn't brave the elements and go to hear her.

She wants us all to go to London in 1930 to the big World's conference. One can go for about $500.00.
