THE TEST OF THEORY

Music has been credited with creating in the breast of man high ideals and strong ambitions. It has long been known or thought to have given courage in battle, charm to the serpent, and quiet to the savage beast. The test now comes of what radio music will do for people by their own firesides. Will it make the "15-minute a day" correspondence student's study courses easier of mastery? Will it keep husband and wife strong and steadfast in their determination never to "say a cross word"? Will it make the arithmetic lessons easier for the children? We know it has brought entertainment, instruction and pleasure to thousands who were before deprived of good music or any other kind. Now the question is whether, by instilling strains of harmony into the ear they will reach the heart and soul. And whether because of radio music men and women will accomplish more in life's battles we do not know. But if it came to a point of whether or not we have a radio, a favorable decision would be almost unanimous, especially to the initiated.

Unhappiness is impossible if we insulate ourselves with thanksgiving and faith.

There's always plenty of room at the bottom, but such company.
The men who try to do something and fail are far better than those who try to do nothing and succeed.
Happiness is a perfume you can't pour on others without getting a drop on yourself.
Curios: The young woman who asks the elevator conductor for his seat while she is riding to the third floor. The lady who stops in at the most fashionable store in town to get two nickles for a dime—just to let her gaping friends think she is a patron of that stylish establishment.
The farmer that needs the most relief is the one that has moved to the big city.
A fool is the fellow who rides on the waves of prosperity without a life preserver.
With the approach of winter women are putting their furs in cold storage.
Education will reduce crime by being given to one class of criminals, and being kept away from another class who are already too smart to the rest of us.

TRUCK TIRE CO

Located at 440 Hoyt Street in Portland. Have a Most Efficient Tire Station, Where They Feature the Famous Fiske and McClaren Tires and Tubes.
The Truck Tire Co. is one of the institutions of the county where the most motorists know they can learn real economy. This is under the direction of expert tire men and is headquarters for a full line of Fiske and McClaren tires, which are offered at reasonable prices.
Here you will find a tire business that has succeeded because of technical knowledge, experience and good business judgment. The patronage has steadily increased because they do business on the principle of treating all customers honorably and alike.
Another special feature is the large stock. Thoroughly abreast with the times, they have secured for you a vast array of tires. Whatever you may need in the way of tires they have it for you and they are always ready to give your requirements personal attention.

We are pleased in this edition, to direct the special attention of our readers to the Truck Tire Co. as one of the most distinctive features of the commercial efficiency of this section, and to assure them that at this establishment they will always find efficient and expert tire men, competent, ready and willing to serve them. In charge are well known men of the community who have merited the success that has been theirs and we wish to suggest that as regards tires and expert service, especially high grade tires, you will find they can save you money.

Dr. R. H. Kreutzer, Veterinarian

Located at Powell Blvd. at E. 37th in Portland is one of the Best Known Men in his Profession in this Part of Oregon. When in Need of a Veterinarian Telephone Sellwood 3854.
There is perhaps no division of science and places his wide knowledge at the service of the people of this community.
Advice along the line of proper feeding and care of pets and stock will be cheerfully given.
It is not strange then that the doctor is one of the busiest professional men in the community, for his services are greatly in demand. He is courteous and accommodating and can be reached either night or day. The general satisfaction expressed by the many clients and the great demand for his services constitute the well merited tribute to his efficient and conscientious methods. We wish to compliment Dr. Kreutzer upon the very valuable work that he is doing in this section and we predict for him a continued year of prosperity.

HOME POINTERS

It is best to feed young calves three times a day, according to the Oregon Experiment station, as calves will utilize a small amount of milk fed often to better advantage than a larger amount fed at longer intervals. Calves fed at shorter intervals are also less subject to digestive disorders, it is found.

There is no advantage in feeding pigs an excessive amount of skim milk and cutting down on the grain ration, as the animal will not make economical gains on such diet, reports the Oregon Experiment station. A pig weighing 70 pounds requires about seven pounds of skim milk and 4 1/2 pounds of corn daily to make the most satisfactory gains.

Wind puffs in capons, if so large as to bother the bird in walking, can be relieved by making a three-cornered tear in the skin, says the Oregon Experiment station. This leaves an opening that will not close immediately, and thus allows the air to escape. Small puffs that do not hinder the bird's movements need not be treated.

Legume hays are considerably higher in protein content than hays from cereals and grasses, and consequently the most economical kinds to grow for a dairy herd. Cereal concentrates to feed with legume hays are about half as expensive to supply as protein concentrates, finds the experiment station.

Game of Polo Brought Eastward From Persia

Polo, the oldest of games played with stick and ball, was known to the ancient Persians 2,400 years ago. From the dusty plains of Persia the game spread eastward through the Vale of Cashmere on to the tableland of Tibet, where it was christened polo from the Tibetan pulu, ball. Southward through Afghanistan, across the high passes of the Himalayas down to the sunny plains of India, it journeyed, where, throughout the sixteenth century it was the favorite sport of the people.

For 200 years after this, its records in India cease, but it again became popular there about the middle of the Nineteenth century. Polo was first played in England in 1830 and a few years later it was adopted by other European countries, when many of its ancient rules were altered and improved. Thus established in an English-speaking country, the game quickly crossed the Atlantic, where under clearer skies it swiftly traversed the American continent to a westward chase that did not end with the shores of the land of the sunset, but, skipping the Pacific, established itself in Samoa and other far off western islands.

Anemia

There are many different causes of anemia. Various forms of parasites or bacteria may invade the blood and cause a destruction of the blood corpuscles. This type of anemia is seen in malaria and in certain forms of blood poisoning. In other cases of anemia the blood cells are destroyed by some poison circulating in the blood. This type of anemia is seen in lead poisoning, in tuberculosis and in bright's disease. Anemia is also produced by constant loss of blood. Such loss of blood may be due to an ulcer or to blood-sucking parasites, such as hookworm.

Fountain of Wine

On the first Sunday of July the Brunnenfest, or Feast of the Fountain, is held at Wangen, in Alsace; and it presents an interesting contrast to the procession at Bouillon in that far from being in the nature of a benediction, it commemorates the removal of a tax of 6,000 gallons of wine which Wangen had once to pay annually to an abbey in Strasbourg. On the day of the Brunnenfest, therefore, the public fountain runs not water but wine, and hundreds of visitors throng to the village to share in so lavish a gift.

CO-OP COUNCIL TO MEET

The Oregon Cooperative Council, consisting of the leading farmers' marketing associations of the state, has been called into special session in Portland Monday, September 23. The call from President J. O. Holt, Eugene, has been issued by George O. Gatlin, secretary and extension marketing specialist at the state college. The meeting is to be devoted largely to discussion of the activities and policies of the Federal Farm Board. The Oregon council now represents 13,000 members of organizations doing an annual business in excess of $15,000,000.

PRUNES BREAK INTO MOVIES

The erstwhile lowly prune, which is decidedly up in the world this year, is now to star as a movie feature. The department of agriculture is sending camera men and director from Washington, D. C. to make a two-reel educational film showing all about the Oregon prune from tree to table. The scenario has been prepared by George O. Gatlin, marketing specialist of O. S. C. and William Schoenfeld of the federal economic service in Portland. So far as known it will not be a talkie, however.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

"Government ownership of public utilities in America would be nourished on a vast government payroll. The amount of that payroll would be no check such as prevails in private business; and would bear no proportionate relation to the efficiency of the departments or the value of the public service rendered. The only limit would be the ability of the people (including private industries) to meet enormous tax bills."—Edward N. Hurley, formerly chairman of the Federal Trade Commission.

DIFFICULTIES

The drug clerk poured out five cents worth of asofoetida and pushed it across the counter.
"Ch'ge it," drawled the customer.
"What's your name?" asked the clerk.
"Honeyfunktke," was the reply.
"Take it," said the clerk. "I don't mind writing asofoetida for five cents but I'll be darned if I write Honeyfunktke too."

CONSERVING OLD ROADS

The value of conserving old gravel, macadam and paved roads as foundations for new, stronger and more permanent highways, is being realized to a greater extent every year. In many instances the difference in cost of constructing an entirely new road base and of utilizing the old one is as much as 50 per cent, while time saved runs as high as 70 per cent.
The type of wearing surface to be selected for resurfacing an old foundation depends upon several factors among them first cost, adaptability and nature of the traffic. Unless traffic requires such paving as granite blocks, it has been found that an asphaltic mixture meets requirements for resurfacing exceptionally well. It is being used more extensively every year not only as a road salvaging material but for new road construction.
