INTERESTING LECTURES ON MORMONISM

A very interesting and illustrated lecture was given Wednesday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall at Beaverton, by Ceders Heber M. Ellsworth and Frank Lamb of the Church of Christ of Latter Day Saints. The purpose of the lecture was to establish the authenticity of the Book of Mormon, which writing is believed to be the sacred record of the ancient inhabitants of America. Due to these assertions the book has been the object of a great deal of discussion.

This book of Mormon, if authentic, settles many of the perplexing questions regarding ancient American civilization and also the divinity of Jesus and Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints.

METZGER

A Legislature program was given at the Metzger Woman's club meeting Wednesday at the club house with Mrs. Harry Leedy and Mrs. A. Baldwin leading the discussion on child labor laws and legislative measures. A pot luck luncheon was served at noon.

Plans are nearing completion for the dinner and bazaar to be held Saturday, Nov. 30, at the club house. Mrs. A. Baldwin will have charge of the cooked food booth, Mrs. Ray Brackett the candy booth, Mrs. Harry Leedy the needlework, Mrs. J. T. Kenney the grab bag.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ray and two daughters are moving this week to Seattle where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Allen who have been seriously ill are reported as improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peters, Sr., will entertain the Metzger bridge club at their home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lloyd were hosts at a Halloween bridge party at their home in View Point last Saturday night. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brackett, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McCarl, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bragg.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

There was a good attendance at all meetings last Sunday. People are coming long distances to worship with us. There were ninety four present at Sunday School. The largest class last Sunday was the women's class with twenty one in attendance. There are classes for all ages. Come and bring your children. We are anxious to be of service to you in this respect. There was one addition at the church service Sunday morning. Three obeyed their Lord in Christian baptism after the evening service.

Next Sunday morning Rev. G. W. Springer will speak on the subject "Four Kinds of People". In the evening the topic will be: "Four Arguments Why the Gospel is Divine."

"WHEN I WAS 21"

How many merchants in Beaverton are pursuing the career picked out as their life work at the age of 21? A perusal of this column will prove most interesting to friends.

Charles Berthold, of the Berthold Feed Company, says that at the age of 21 he was attending the Agricultural college at St. Goarshausen on the Rhine after which he managed several farms consisting of from 10,000 to 20,000 acres.

Geo. A. Brown of Brown's Pharmacy, started his career in the drug store of Buick and Raynor, at State and Madison Sts., in Chicago, where he worked from 10:30 p. m. til 8 a. m.

F. W. Bishop commenced as an apprentice to Doyle & Halberson, plumbers at Ogden, Utah.

W. E. Pegg, local undertaker, at the age of 21 had all intentions of becoming a farmer and was working on a big farm near Marietta, Minn.

L. K. Snyder, of the MacMarr Store, expected to become a teacher and was attending the Cheney Normal school, specializing in Manual Training.

Doy Gray, of the Bank of Beaverton, was working for the Burlington R. R. as a telegraph operator and station cashier at Lamont, Colo., where he became of age.

C. E. Peck, McCready Lumber Company carried out his intentions at the age of 21 as he was then employed by the Idaho Lumber Company at Frith, Idaho.

C. E. Hedge, now in the real estate business, was a school teacher in North Salem, Indiana, at 21.

C. J. Beach was attending the Missoula Commercial college.

F. J. Dietsch was operating a shingle mill at Days Creek, Douglas county, Oregon, and entered college the same year.

Watch this column next week.
