

TIGARD TEAMS DEFEAT
WILLAMETTE

Playing fine basket ball, our boys of the Tigard public school got sweet revenge for the game a week ago by defeating the fast Willamette team on the local floor by a score 15 to 13. It was a real exciting game. The girls won their game by a big margin, repeating the result of defeating their team on their own floor. Both games were intensely interesting.

A program in observance of Book Week will be given at the school to-day at one o'clock followed by a silver tea, the proceeds will be used to purchase new books for the school.

Recent Happenings of Aloha-Huber School

Ralph Conway, who stays at the Chick Shannon place, had the misfortune to take a bad spill the forepart of this week and fracture his collar bone. Mr. Lehnher and the older boys were playing "Hound and Hare" Ralph stumbled and fell upon his left shoulder, regained his footing but was pulled down by a hound falling upon the same shoulder again. Verne Bright drove him home and Mr. Shannon took him to Dr. Mason, who diagnosed it as a "green stick" fracture, the bone being broken on the top side. He will be able to curb it at all? If your feel very sorry for him and are sending his lesson assignments home. They hope that he will soon be well again.

The whooping cough seems to be taking another turn and the teachers are anxious to keep it out of school. Will all parents please cooperate for only by your cooperation will we be able to curb it at all? If you child has a cold or suspicious symptoms please keep him home for a few days and thus do your part to avoid general spreading. A child cannot be sent home upon suspicion that he might have whooping cough then when it is definitely known and he is barred from school attendance it is too late. He has already exposed others and the endless chain goes on. By keeping a child out for a few days the best is being done for his welfare and many others are protected.

The camp cookery class is quite anxious to begin work upon the project of camp cooking. This club is composed of twenty-three enthusiastic boys under the leadership of Mrs. W. T. Lehnher. They are busy now laying plans for future social activities and work. Walter Miller is president. He won a prize at the county fair this last fall upon camp cooked biscuits.

Mrs. Lehnher substituted for Mrs. Kearney one day last week in the seventh grade.

The fifth and sixth grades have been examining pieces of raw rubber which Mrs. Mack obtained for them. Ralph Conway had his collarbone broken Monday while playing "run sheep run".

Marie Markovitch 3rd grade, reports that the dearest little calf arrived a their home Sunday.

The 2nd and 3rd grades are working hard to increase their vocabulary. John Hancock brought a nice cactus to the 3rd grade room Monday.

Agnes Phipps was back in the 3rd grade Monday after several days illness.

The pupils have only a half hour for lunch as school lets out at 3:30.

When the primary children went for their little log cabins to make a Thanksgiving sand table, they were very much excited to find a mouse and five little babies had set up housekeeping inside the house.

Water Chowning was absent from school Monday on account of sickness.

Drug Store Opens

Extensive alterations have been made in the Aloha Drug Store, formerly the Aloha Confectionery. Partitions have been moved forward to make way for the prescription department, which is to be one of the main features of the store. A line of Christmas gifts is expected within the very near future. Customers will find practically anything wished for in this new store and if they do not have what you want they will send for it.

Barber Shop Attractive

The Richards Barber and Beauty Shop is proving a very popular place since their opening last Friday. Many friends and acquaintances have called to patronize them.

The shop is very attractive with bright colored curtains and beauty shop, is furnished with two toned furniture and very effectively arranged.

P. T. A. Discuss Many Important Projects

The Aloha-Huber P. T. A. November meeting was held at the school house Tuesday afternoon, November 19th. Mrs. Dewitt Hamel the president could not attend and Miss Mary Grand, vice president, officiated. Mrs. William Saxton, secretary, was also absent and Miss Inez Sundberg substituted for her.

The hot lunch at noon was the center of discussion at this meeting. This seems so vital for the welfare of a great number of the little ones who remain at school for lunch. If hot soup is to be served, it would probably be better to make some arrangements soon as the cold days are now here and colder ones are coming. The teachers are anxious to do what they can to secure this benefit for the pupils and hope that some proposition will be acceptable to all whereby hot soup may be served.

Several committees are to be busy the next few days working on various phases of the work assigned to them.

Mrs. Tuttle, as chairman of the committee working for the benefit of the less fortunate ones, requests that any one having discarded clothing, shoes, or even rags bring or send them to school by Friday of this week. The things needed in this community will be kept and others sent on to Portland. The rags will be sold to garage men and mechanics. Bring or send whatever you can spare.

Mrs. Reed was appointed chairman of the paper drive. These papers, too, may be brought or sent to the school by the different youngsters.

Plans for some form of social activity to be supervised by the P. T. A. were discussed but nothing definite was decided upon.

The program was under the supervision of Mrs. Kearney of the seventh grade. Several scenes from the book "On to Oregon" were dramatized. The speaker scheduled for this meeting was to speak on Oregon history, particularly that phase of it, relating to this county, but she failed to appear.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served by the seventh grade classes. Mr. Lowry of the Aloha Mercantile Co. furnishing the coffee.

FAIRVALE
