"BUILD OREGON" LABELS IN CIRCULATION

Portland, Dec. 30. (Special)—Washington county's quota in Oregon Poster Stamps totals 145,500 of the 6,750,000 the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce plans to place in circulation during 1930 in its "Building Oregon" program, it was announced from headquarters here today by W. G. Ide, manager of the organization. Campaign plans for placing the stamps which tells facts and invites inquiries about agricultural, scenic and industrial resources of Oregon are now being perfected for the 36 counties and the 922 cities and towns in the state. Each county quota has been computed on the basis of "a stamp per business day per business man."

"Oregon Poster Stamps," says Ide "are a vital and important part of the 'Build Oregon' program for the coming year. They accomplish a distinct two-fold purpose of advertising Oregon's resources and possibilities in a most colorful and effective way and they create the state chamber's budget fund to carry on its program of work."

The stamps are printed in four colors, 30 different stamps to the page, and are bound in various size books. They will be sold to business men of the state to be attached to their outgoing mail at the rate of $1.00 per page.

BEAVERTON POSTMASTER SENDS IN RESIGNATION

Willis Cady, Beaverton's postmaster, for the past few years, sent in his resignation to the postoffice department this week and is to be effective January 4th, the expiration of his term of office. Rumors are that, Mr. Cady plans to enter business for himself.

R. C. Doty has been appointed temporary postmaster for 90 days. In the meantime civil service examinations will take place and it is understood more than a dozen have filed for the office, among them being Messrs Hanna, Thyng, and Hulett.

Jury Case Tried Before Judge Hedge

A jury trial was held Friday in Judge Hedge's court, Max Muller being the plaintiff and Oswald Jensen the defendant.

Mr. Muller in his complaint stated that he was going to build a house, and it seems he did not want the dirt, so he made an arrangement with Mr. Jensen who wanted to place the dirt on the grounds of his filling station. Mr. Jensen who offered to pay for excavating and hauling the dirt.

The pair interviewed Edlefsen & Wygant Co. and the work was done for 33-cents a yd. The work was completed but Mr. Jensen was nowhere around to pay for it, so the plaintiff paid the bill expecting to secure his money from the defendant. Mr. Jensen claimed he was to pay for only half the excavating and hauling.

The jury, composed of Mrs. L. Hughson, Mrs. F. Tefft, Miss May Fisher, John Rowe, John Kamberger and J. W. Sprague, awarded the plaintiff $100 and costs, which amount about equals the original bill of Edlefsen & Wygant Co.

F. Reed McBride represented the plaintiff and A. L. Fletcher the defendant.

Floating University to Alaska Thrills U. of O. Students

Above—Student body of 170 and faculty of 15 which made cruise to Alaska in August as part of the University of Oregon summer session. Classes were held on board the S. S. Queen of the Admirals, which was chartered for the trip, and credit was given for all studies taken. So successful was the cruise that it is expected it will be repeated again next summer.

Directions for Caring for Peach Leaf Curl

Peach leaf curl, the most difficult disease with which the peach grower has to contend, is successfully controlled by Bordeaux mixture made up of six pounds of bluestone or copper sulfate; six pounds of quick lime and 50 gallons of water.

Failure to meet with successful control when spraying with Bordeaux for peach leaf curl is traceable in practically all cases to one or more of the following reasons:

Use of poorly made Bordeaux mixture.

Spraying in rainy weather when the spray is washed off before it gets in its work.

Spraying when the wind is blowing with the results that one side of the tree is poorly sprayed.

Use of poor spray equipment.

Every part of the tops of peach trees to the smallest twig must be thoroughly covered with Bordeaux during the spraying process to the end that a protective coat of Bordeaux is sprayed over every part of the tree.

Time of spraying is most important. Peach trees in this climate should be sprayed for peach leaf curl with Bordeaux before January 15th. Later sprayings sometimes works to control the curl, but more often it does not. Peach trees must be sprayed for the curl before the buds begin to swell.

ADMINISTRATOR APPOINTED FOR GEO. W. MILLER ESTATE

Geo. W. Taylor has been appointed administrator for the estate of Geo. W. Miller, which is estimated as $12,000. The heirs are nine sons and daughters. Those residing in this county are Mary Uley and Alice Lee of Hillsboro, and Thomas and Edward Miller R 4 Beaverton.

Man Killed by Blast

Mr. Newton, who resides at Hazeldale, was instantly killed Friday afternoon by a premature explosion of dynamite at his home. Dr. Mason was called but the man was found dead.

Bank of Beaverton is offering a twenty five dollar cash prize for the closest guess on the weight of its new vault door.

This new vault door has been installed at a considerable expense and is the last word in safe deposit box protection.

Many of our patrons are availing themselves of these boxes which are rented at a nominal fee. The vault is equipped with sizes usual to a safe deposit vault and compares favorably with the safe deposit departments of a large city bank.

If you have not already made a guess on this new door and it is not convenient for you to call you may use the attached coupon, mailing it to the bank and we will be glad to place it in the ballot box.

Otto Erickson, Mayor, F. J. Dietsch, President of the Chamber of Commerce and Dr. J. K. Talbert, President of the Kiwanis club, have been selected to act as judges of this contest.

My guess is that the weight of the vault door is _____ pounds.

6000 Out of Town Calls Handled by the Telephone Company December 23

Santa Claus, busy as he was with his enormous yuletide delivery, was scarcely more rushed than the 150 or more long distance operators in the Portland telephone office, who, during the week before Christmas, handled one of the greatest floods of business over out-of-town lines in the history of the exchange.

More than 6000 calls were handled on the peak of the holiday period, Monday, December 23.

To meet the congestion over the lines every available long distance circuit was placed in service, and a special switchboard with additional operators was cut onto the regular long distance board.

A number of calls were made from Portland to New York and other distant points. The longest call from duration was one made from a point near Chicago to Portland, the conversation lasting 45 minutes. One transatlantic call was received by a Portland resident.

A greater number of long distance calls than ever before were made possible this year by the addition of several long distance circuits during 1929. These circuits include, among others, two to San Francisco, one to Chicago and one to Vancouver, B. C.

WINTER LOAD LIMIT SET

The county court has made an order limiting loads on all public roads except state highways to 75 per cent of the weight allowed by law during the dry season.

The limit set will prevail until April or until further order of the court.

BEAVERTON RADIO SHOP CHANGES OWNERS

The Beaverton Radio shop has been purchased by F. McClure of Portland. Mr. McClure has conducted a business in Portland for 15 years and has the best of recommendations.

Considerable equipment has been added to the shop and he is prepared to answer service calls on troublesome radios.

Mr. and Mrs. Linnville and Mrs. Mary Dawson on their way to Portland from Yamhill Wednesday skidded on the slippery pavement and crashed into parked cars. A car driven by Mrs. C. B. Malarkey arriving at the same time, likewise skidded into parked cars. Mrs. Dawson suffered a fractured skull.

CENSUS TAKERS TO BE ON JOB VERY SOON

It won't be long now until the census takers will be abroad in the land, counting noses to determine the exact size of Uncle Sam's big family and gathering statistics covering everything under the sun.

It's a big job, and one as important as it is big. If the real facts are not brought out census figures are misleading and pave the way for mistakes in the future. For that reason no one should regard the census taker with suspicion, or furnish him with false statements, or seek to evade answering his questions correctly. He is not sent out to over-value your property, to raise your taxes or to pry into your private affairs. For that reason full and free answers should always be made to the questions he will have to ask.

Our new census will be nothing more than a stock-taking of the nation and its resources—a guide for future development and improvement. The exact size of the nation, along with actual conditions of agriculture, stock-raising, industry and employment cannot be secured in any other way. And we profit in our daily lives through knowing exactly how far we have progressed in 10 years, and what is needed to insure further progress. We feel sure everybody around here will cooperate with the census-takers when they start out on their task. It is just another way of demonstrating good citizenship and loyalty to the country and its institutions.

Giant Grove of Trees Attracts Thousands of Motorists

Indescribable awe overcomes one when in the presence of what is reputed to be the oldest, as well as the largest, tree in the world. The General Sherman tree, a giant Sequoia in the Sequoia National Park, has been accorded the above-mentioned distinction; and is one of the million or more big trees which are the attractions for thousands of motorists who drive to the park each year. Popularly the Sequoias are known as "the big trees of California." Millions of them are scattered throughout the twelve groves in the Sequoia and General Grant National Parks—both of which are included in the boundaries of the Sequoia National forest and approximately 12,000 of these trees exceed ten feet in diameter.

The fall months are among the best of the year to visit the Sequoia Park, according to a party of Chevrolet Six motorists who made the trip from San Francisco last week. Road conditions for the entire distance from this city are very good, the Chevrolet party reported. They followed the valley route to Visalia and thence to Three Rivers and into the park and with the exception of a few grades just before entering the park, the road is high gear all the way. The paved highway extends to a point near Three Rivers, and for the remaining distance the dirt road is in good shape.

Giant Forest Grove is the largest of the groves in the park, and it was here that the Chevrolet visitors tarried to admire the magnificent Sequoias. General Sherman tree is the monarch in this grove, and is naturally one of the most interesting because of its patriarchal rank in the realm of nature. It was named in honor of General Sherman, by the trapper who discovered it on August 7, 1879. The measurements of the General Sherman tree show it to be 279.9 feet in height—and still growing; 102.8 feet in circumference at the base and with a diameter at the base of 36.5 feet. Moro Rock, easily accessible by automobile, is popular as a look-out point from which an excellent vista of the surrounding country can be obtained.

In winter-time many motorists make the trip into the park to participate in winter sports, and also to enjoy the never-to-be-forgotten sight of the giant Sequoias.

Yamhill county received 95000 fish during the past year, according to a report submitted by Harold Clifford State Game Warden. A total of 25,507,011 were liberated throughout the state.
