"SIDEGLANCES"

By Harold L. Cook
Law Enforcement—

The real question before the American people today is not so much whether simply the prohibition law can be enforced, but whether the laws against murder, robbery, burglary, larceny, the debauching of young boys and girls, and the law for honest proceedings in your courts will be enforced; and we mean for you to spell that "will" with capital letters. In other words: WILL the American people be observers of their own laws?

Richard Washburn Child, in his remarkable article in the Saturday Evening Post, August 1, entitled "Our Crime Tide," makes this emphatic statement: "Murder goes on not because the law forbids it; it goes on because our system—not the police system, but the judicial and legal system—holds out immunity to the 12,000 who this year will probably engage in homicidal performance in the United States.

Away back in 1908, the late Chief Justice Taft, in an address before the Civic Forum in New York made the statement which is now so often quoted of him: "The administration of criminal law in this country is a disgrace to our civilization. The prevalence of crime and fraud, which is greatly in excess of that in European countries, is due largely to the failure of the law and its administration to bring criminals to justice."

Our gravest danger is the gross indifference of our people to duties of citizenship. We are now facing this problem: What shall become of a government by the people if the people refuse to govern? The tragedy of this great American scandal is the ignorance and lethargy of public opinion.

We, the people, must insist upon and actually help in the observance and enforcement of the laws for protection of life, decency, property and honest proceedings in our courts.

An announcer at a radio broadcasting station to which we were tuned the other evening, referred to his unseen audience as "friends of the air." Yea, verily! In more ways than one! So long as said air will stay put in my automobile tires, it can count on my friendship any old time!
