BOOKKEEPING SERVICE CO.

With Offices located at 53 4th St., Portland, are Public Accountants and Tax Advisers, Who offer the Business Men of this Section an approved and thoro service—Feature Investigations and Financial Reports, Business Policies, Budgetary Control Financing, Corporation Taxes and a constructive Economic and Profitable Service for management. They will show you just where your business stands and will be of inestimable value in enabling you to conduct it on a more profitable basis —Specialize in advising on Federal Income Tax Problems.

The services of the Bookkeeping Service Co. is a great aid to business people throughout this part of the state and are greatly aiding in putting business in this section on a more profitable and stable basis.

One of the foremost prerequisites to success in business is the knowledge of where your business stands and knowing what factors are contributing to your profits and what factors are hindering them. This knowledge can only be obtained through having your books put in such condition that you can clearly see where your profits are coming from and where your expenses are proving too burdensome. A thorough audit of your books will either substantiate your present business policy or show where it should be changed in order to enhance your chances for success.

The Bookkeeping Service Co. are thoroughly able and competent accountants and can audit your books so that you can see just exactly what your business has done during the past year and how it should be managed during the forthcoming year to attain even a greater measure of success. Business either goes forward or backward it never stands still, and within the definite knowledge that only a thorough audit or accounting of the books will show it is difficult indeed to secure all the profits that are inherently possible in these businesses. Many business men and firms who have employed the service of the Bookkeeping Service Co., have profited greatly thereby and are now deriving profits from sources that without a thorough accounting knowledge of their business they might never have known existed.

The Bookkeeping Service Co. are specialists on the Federal and State Income Tax and solving complex questions of accounting that arise under it. If you don't want to pay excessive taxes unnecessarily it will pay you to get the advice of an expert on the matter.

It is our pleasure in this business review to heartily recommend the services of the Bookkeeping Service Co., and to advise our readers to consider the very reasonable charges as an investment rather than an expense and to predict that they will be very small indeed when considered alongside of their attendant benefits.
