Father's Glasses

Father's glasses lay on the mantle
Beside the family clock
They look so peaceful lying there
For they get to rest a lot.
Dad you see's a busy man,
He has to work a lot;
And so those glasses stay right there
Beside the family clock.
He rises when the dew is on
And hardly stops to eat You'd think that he would wear clear out
Especially his feet.
He never thinks about himself
He hasn't time to stop, He's earning bread to feed us all
And it takes an awful lot.
Then there is clothes for all of us,
And they wear out so fast
I guess that Dad thinks clothes now a-days
Are not made to last.
I cannot count the many things
My father has to get,
So those glasses get to "set"
For he hasn't time to "set"
But sometimes in the evening
When it's too dark to see,
Father sits by the fireplace
And it's a treat to me.
To see him get a paper
Then put his glasses on.
And read the news a little bit;
It isn't very long.

Until his head begins to nod,
Then mother quickly goes
And takes those precious glasses
From off my fathers nose.
And Oh! the love that shines right out Upon my mothers face
When she puts my fathers glasses
Back in their accustomed place
Come folks lets give our Dads a rest They've earned it goodness knows;
Then we can see them read and rest
With those glasses on their nose.

SERVING MANY BUSINESSES

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Knickerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter and Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks. The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand.

Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance.
Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.
