

NEWS NOTES OF NOTABLES AND NEAR NOTABLES

Educating the Blind
The first thought and purpose of building up special institutions for the instruction of the blind seem to have occurred to benevolent persons in New England, New York and Pennsylvania almost simultaneously. The New York institution for the blind was incorporated April 22, 1831. On March 15, 1832, Dr. John D. Russ began the education of three pupils. The progress of the school was at first slow for want of an efficient head to direct its affairs. The Pennsylvania institution, which is now one of the foremost in the world, was founded in 1833. Subsequently other schools were opened in the various states.

Find Indian Snow Houses
A recent expedition of the Field Museum of Natural History has found that the Eskimo of Labrador build snow houses, and this is the first known instance of Indians using snow as house building material.

Indian Maiden Leaves August 25th for trip Across Continent

With her light sport airplane laden with beaded gifts from the Indian tribes of the Pacific Northwest to President Hoover, the present "Great White Father", winsome Mary Riddle, 20 years old Quinault Indian maiden will leave Portland near August 25 for the trip alone across the continent to Washington, D. C.

A year ago, Mary Riddle, whose Indian name is Kus-de-ca, flew to Chicago, with an air transport company. She was so impressed with flying that she decided to learn to handle a plane herself and enrolled with Tex Rankin here. She has made marked progress in flying under his tutelage. Her first public appearance was made when she rode out to her plane in full Indian costume on an Indian pony during the Portland Rose Festival and flew it alone for 15 minutes before 30,000 spectators.

Little Miss Riddle is well known among the Quinault Indians, who have dwelt for centuries on the edge of the Pacific Ocean in central Washington, as an athlete. She won many honors in swimming and diving. She was educated at Chemawa Indian school and St. Mary's academy. Kus-de-ca means "Kingfisher" in Quinault Indian language. She says that it is an apt name for her since she has learned to fly.

Delegates Return from Summer Session at Oregon State College

Delegates from the Aloha-Huber school to the summer session at the Oregon State College have returned to their homes very tired but happy. Ford Offers New De Luxe Sedan

Ford De Luxe Sedan

THE De Luxe Sedan, recently added to the Ford line, is designed for those who desire distinctiveness and unusual comfort in an automobile. The interior is inviting and roomy with wide doors to both compartments. Absence of rear quarter windows gives the car a striking individuality and affords privacy to the occupants.

Interior trimmings and appointments are luxurious. Upholstery is either in brown mohair or a deep tan Bedford cord patterned after that used in high-priced cars.

Other refinements include arm rests for the rear seat, mahogany finished garnish mouldings on the windows and beneath the windshield, flexible robe rail and hardware in an attractive pattern.

The front seat is adjustable within a range of four inches to suit the convenience and comfort of the driver. It is moved quickly and easily by a small, inconspicuous handle in the front center of the seat just above the floor.

The De Luxe Sedan, like other Ford body types, can be obtained in any one of several color combinations.

Mazamas to hold Reunion in Wy-East Grove at the Blakney Home

Sunday, June 29th the Wy-East Grove at the Clem Blakney home will be the scene of the annual reunion of old-timers of the Mazama club. The Blakneys are considered old-timers of the club and will be hosts at the all day picnic. Mr. Blakney's Boy Scout troop has been asked to stay on the road and direct the club members to the grove. Mr. Blakney is a guide on Mt. Hood and last Sunday made his 110th climb and the Sunday before he took the club to the top on their annual trip.

Wm. Schamoni is having the Schamoni house painted and the place all fixed up.

In the event you have any news send it to C. W. Noyes office.

Much Merrymaking Planned for July 4

The threshold of the Glorious Fourth finds the Oaks on its toes catering to the amusement demands of thousands of merrymakers. Never before has the resort looked so fine, its attractions brighter and its free programs better than at present. Everything is available for the picnicking families' comfort and even the monkey menagerie is a sight one can never forget. Oaks Park, 1930-edition, is a hummer.

The current free vaudeville, offered daily at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m. is splendid. Dancers, circus performers aboard the triple bars and a first rate team of comedians are programmed. Sunday, the bill will change with Jean Wayne and her

Golden West Coffee girls band as a leading feature and four more acts of retail good free vaudeville, including the personal appearance of the renowned Sylvester Polotz of Polotz & Polotz in the aerial traps.

The Oaks celebrates July 4 with three days and nights of free stag shows, a roller skating road race from Oregon City, gladway features and surprises in the picnic park. Everything for the family's pleasure is The Oaks' slogan and Manager Bollinger and his staff of 200 employees is on the job to prove it. Let's go to the Oaks!
