mild foods such as milk and vegetables.

"Pushed aside by the child who has too much candy, are a greater part of the foods containing protein necessary for growth, the calcium for bones and teeth, iron for blood, and other minerals and vitamins, while the candy brings only calories in return."
The loss to the child from such eating habits would not be serious in one day, of course, said Miss Wood, but when it is repeated day after day it cannot help but prove disastrous to growth and general development.

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

Did Anyone Ever Tell You

THAT in a recent exhibition game at Portland, Ore., Lefty Grove gave Brooklyn some idea when he fanned Johnny Fredericks out three pitched balls for the third strike-out of the last inning?
That Dartmouth fraternities have raised thumbs down on the son of a nationally known automobile manufacturer because they suspect the family is Jewish?
That Charlie Irwin, master of ceremonies in Whiteman's "King of Jazz," comes from Ireland, ran for Great Britain in the 1906 Olympics and served with the crack Enniskillen Fusiliers in the Boer War?
That Johnny Farrell scored his fourth hole-in-one at Quaker Ridge the other day, but admits it didn't give the thrill he derived from an "ace" that won the West Coast title a few years back?
That Biff Jones, former West Point coach, picked Yale to beat Army in the public prints and peevish Army men no little?
That in four years Southern California has outscored Notre Dame fifty-seven points to forty-seven, but Notre Dame has won three of the four games by one point?
That Sir Otto Jaffe, a Jew, was lord mayor of Belfast, Ireland, for nearly twenty years?
That Chick Meehan was all wet in stating that Northwestern University uses the Rockne system, as Hanley, Northwestern coach, is strictly a Pop Warner admirer?
That Ed Neil of the A. P. is writing great stuff for that outfit, in case you don't know?
That in the Coast League play-off series, an umpire named Fanning inspired the grandstand wags to punning?
That Nibs Price, University of California grid coach, rooms the senters together, the tackles, the guards, etc. whenever his team is traveling, so that they will think of nothing but their own particular positions?
That if King Levinsky gets past Jimmy Slattery on November 6, and then goes past Tommy Loughran a few weeks later, Nate Lewis expects a $100,000 gate at Chicago between Levinsky and Tuffy Griffiths?
That Wases Okeson, who appoints the officials to eastern grid games, has received team squawks from enraged Yale and furious Penn on the caliber of officiating, and is trying to sooth 'em?
That Gene Normie's daughter was wed in pomp the other day in the garb of Jim Crofirth's estate. Yonkers, New York papers might copy, as Normie originally was a Yonkers telegraph operator?
That Josephine Baker, Southern California guard, is a cinch for All-American honors and All-American pickers can use this tip gratis?
That Taylor Douthitt and Chick Hafey of the St. Leo Cards, teamed with Tudy Lazerl and Mark Koony and Joe Cronin in the Alameda, Eiks' charity game the other day?
That the Jesuits, or "Jebbies," in the Washington, D. C., diocese have warned Georgetown and Loyola College of Baltimore, to give up night football on the grounds it interrupts studies?
That Bat Nelson, Durable Dame of the ring, celebrated his forty-ninth birthday at Hegewisch, Ill., where he has a farm?
That one of the fanciest kickers in College football is this left-footed Johnnie Cain of Alabama's Crimson Tide?
That the present Princeton team has made history at old Nassau, blowing three games in a row, a terrible valedictory for Bill Roper?
That Dick Daniels, the Minneapolis kid, tipped in this column some time back, whipped Johnny Risko and almost flattened him for keeps at Boston?
That the Philadelphia Athletics are getting out of "farm baseball," and Tom Shibe is selling the Portland, Ore., team in a hurry since the Judge blasted?
That when Notre Dame torpedoes Pitt, is signalized Rockne's first meeting with Pitt since 1918, when, with Rockne at end, Charlie Dorais drop-kicked the Irish to a 3 to 0 win?
That Charlie Devens, out for the season at Harvard with a broken leg, is the Crimson's hard luck kid, in his freshman year making the only touchdown against the Yale 'rosh, only to have the papers give the credit to a teammate?
