

Depression is on the Wane

From all reports we have reached the bottom of depression and are on the upward climb again.

Now is the Time to Buy what you need
As the Prices of Goods Will Never be as Low as They Now Are

Most people at the present time are hoarding their Money, and not spending, yet they expect to have times improve. If we would all buy what we need It Would Not Take Long for Times to Pick Up

Here is an example: There are 46,000,000 people employed in the United States in normal times, and at present there are only 5,000,000 out of work, so the slump in business is not justified by reduced incomes.

Fear is the key to the situation. Any man who buys what he needs, or is going to need soon, on the present market is making a wise investment

BUY NOW, WHAT YOU NEED. TELL YOUR FRIENDS TO BUY WHAT THEY NEED, and before long, we will all be talking good times and when we talk them, we will have them
