Tournament of Roses
In "Parade of States"

CALIFORNIA'S Annual Tournament of Roses, and the Tulane-Southern California game in Pasadena, will hold national attention during the holiday season. As a tribute to the sunshine state, during one of its chief celebrations, the "Parade of States," General Motors Monday night radio program, will be dedicated to California. Erno Rapee, (inset) musical director of this program which takes listeners each week to a different state of the union, will recall California history in music, with "The Forty Niners," to be rendered by a large orchestra with voices, and "A Rose Symphony."
