

Remarkable Record in Ohio

Perhaps No Other Woman in the Country Can Match This One

A Grange lady in Montgomery county, Ohio, has a record of service that will be hard to match in any fraternal group in the United States. She is now eighty-two years old and has been a member of the Grange fifty years; for twenty consecutive years she has been chaplain of her Grange, with only four meetings missed during that period; and she has herself secured one hundred sixty-four members of her home Grange, many of whom have become active workers for the order. Despite her advanced years she is still present at every meeting and helping at all points of opportunity.

Will Congress Measure Up

It is doubtful if any United States Congress, in a generation has faced a greater responsibility than the present one. It has assembled at a time when every country in the world is puzzled and despairing. Pressing economic and social issues abound on every side. Unemployment, various plans for stabilizing industry with governmental aid, farm relief, taxation, these and other issues are engaging the public mind and we must look to Congress for action. The last issue, taxation, is possibly the greatest of all. It is intimately related to the others. Employment can only result from industrial activity and expansion—and nothing can do more to frighten industry and prevent the investment of capital, than excessive taxation.

Those who propose plans for helping the distressed at the expense of the taxpayer may have sentiment on their side. But many of the relief plans they propose would do the unemployed more harm than good, in the long run. There is a limit even to the spending power of government—a point beyond which the taxpayer can no longer produce revenue. When this point is reached, industrial stagnation inevitably results—and severe unemployment, instead of being a temporary evil, becomes a permanent one.

The Congress should do everything possible to reduce the cost of government. It should scrutinize with the utmost care any project whatever that requires public funds. It should observe the condition of such countries as England with its dole and Germany with its vast paternalism, and not be caught in the same net.

Some Helpful Hints in Planning Church or Community Suppers

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON, Director, Heinz Food Institute

TO the person not accustomed to quantities of food, planning the menu and purchasing for a church or community supper is often quite baffling. The menu must be good, the food well cooked and attractively served, and there must be plenty to take care of a large attendance. Two menus suggested below are practical for large groups. The quantities here are planned to serve fifty people and easily may be multiplied if a larger group is to be served. If you expect to participate in organizing a church supper, you will wish to slip these suggestions into your recipe file for future reference.

Menu I

- Chilled Fruit Cup
- Ham Loaf with Potatoes*
- Jellied Carrot and Pineapple Salad*
- Buttered Peas
- Rolls
- Frosted Chocolate Cake
- Butter
- Coffee

*Indicates recipes are given below

Ham Loaf with Potatoes—6 lbs. raw cured ham; 3 lbs. fresh pork; 3 qts. Rice Flakes; 6 eggs; 3 cups milk; 1½ teaspoons pepper; 2 tablespoons Worcestershire Sauce; 1 pk. potatoes, sweet or white. Grind ham and pork together twice. Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Pat into loaves and cook in roasting pans, with a little water, for about an hour. After first half hour, place white or sweet potatoes around loaves. Bake until tender and brown.

Jellied Carrot and Pineapple Salad—1 institutional package (26 ozs.) lemon flavored gelatin; 3½ cups boiling water; ¼ cup Pure Vinegar; 3 qts. raw carrots, grated; 3 qts. water or pineapple juice; ½ No. 10 can crushed pineapple, drained; 2 teaspoons salt. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and add vinegar. Add pineapple juice and chill. Add finely grated carrots, pineapple and salt to gelatin when slightly thickened. Pour into individual molds or shallow pans. Chill until firm. Serve in nests of crisp lettuce with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Other Quantities to Serve 50—9 No. 2 cans peas; 100 rolls; 1 lb. butter (cut with butter slicer); 1½ lbs. coffee.

Menu II

- Oven Baked Beans, Vegetarian Style
- Fresh Cucumber Relish
- Hot Rolls
- Fig Pudding (ready to serve)
- Butter
- Coffee

Baked Ham—2 hams, 10 lbs. each; 2½ cups brown sugar; 1½ cups Pure Cider Vinegar; Whole Cloves; ½ cup crumbs. Cook hams until tender. Peel skins, arrange in baking pans and stick cloves over surface of hams. Make a syrup of the brown sugar and vinegar, and pour over them. Sprinkle with crumbs, and brown in a hot oven.

Cold Slaw—2 gals. cabbage, shredded finely; 2½ tablespoons sugar; 2½ tablespoons salt; 1 teaspoon pepper; 1 cup Pure Vinegar; 1 qt. Mayonnaise Salad Dressing; 6 green peppers, chopped; 1 teaspoon onion juice. Add sugar, salt and pepper to shredded cabbage. Mix Mayonnaise Salad Dressing with vinegar and pour over cabbage. Add green pepper and onion juice. Mix thoroughly and serve on crisp lettuce leaves. Note: Billed Dressing may be substituted for mayonnaise and vinegar mixture.

Other Quantities to Serve 50—2 No. 10 cans Oven Baked Beans; 2 qts. Fresh Cucumber Relish; 4 large size Fig Puddings.
