Week of Romance

Our hero was the common sort when all was said and done; and was out to get the MON. The reason for his diligence was commonplace 'tis true. He tried to swell his salary so 'twould suffice for TUE. And maybe that's the reason why one day he lost his head. And falling on his knees he cried "Oh maiden! Wilt thou WED? He may have thought this sudden but it seemed not so to her; She lisped a sweet acceptance, and quickly said "Yeth... THUR. But when housekeeping started he feared that he would die. For, oh, that modern maiden could neither bake nor... FRI. She could not run a bungalow, nor even run a flat. So on many sad occasions in a restaurant they... SAT. Constance Bennett Offers

Fine Thrills Picture
"Lady with a Past"

Constance Bennett in all her gorgeous glory is treating patrons of the RKO Orpheum theatre this week to their finest thrills in her picture "Lady with a Past." Without a doubt this is the finest production made by this star since the talkies came in. She has a role that sparkles with humanness and brilliancy. The dialogue is rapid with a laugh on about every line. And as for the gowns. No star ever was seen in such an array of clothes as Miss Bennett wears in this play. One after another they parade before the audience as though it were a fashion show as well as a picture. With this delightful star is Ben Lyon who does one of his best pieces of work. His wisecracks keep the picture moving along with a laugh all the time. David Manners is the lover but not until he is awakened by the woman who has gained a "past." New York and Paris form the locale.

On the stage Charles Melson handles the headlining honors with a bunch of laughs that are new. Irmanette, a dancing violinist, is with him. Teck Murdock has a company that puts on a skit titled "Movie Mad." It is also a laugh hit. Lee, Lee, Lee and Lee are four very interesting comic tumblers. The Four Casting Stars are doing feats on the trampoline to very good advantage.
