Steiner was Pioneer in Advocating Power Development in Oregon

If any such right were to be allowed by the patent office it would probably be awarded to United States Senator Frederick Steiner, who was advocating the development of power by the Federal Government at Umatilla Rapids more than ten years ago. The records back up that statement.

In 1921 Steiner participated in the organization of the Umatilla Rapids association, having for its purpose the building of a dam for the development of cheap water power for domestic uses and for pumping water to proposed irrigation projects. He went to the legislature in 1923 to urge the state to participate in the cost of a study of the project. Later he went to Washington and aided the late Congressman Nick Sinnott in securing an appropriation of $50,000 from Congress to make the study.

In 1928 a bill was in Congress to provide that the Umatilla project should be built by the Federal Government. At the hearing on that bill the objection was raised that if existing electric manufacturing companies should not buy the surplus power at the Umatilla Dam the project would never pay for itself. It was at that time that Senator Steiner suggested that the bill be amended to provide that if the power could not be sold at the head, where developed, the government should be authorized to construct transmission lines for carrying the juice to places where it could be sold.

Fourth Street Project may be Cast Aside for New Route Costing Less

The state highway commission of Oregon is considering a new route to Portland in place of the Fourth Street route and will run through the North Tigard district. Should such a route be obtained, it would mean considerable to this small community in that there would be two major highways from here to Portland.

Leslie Scott, chairman of the highway commission, said that preliminary engineering surveys have already indicated that it is entirely feasible to build a five mile connection between the West Side Pacific highway from near Tigard to the Canyon road at about a point half way between Beaverton and Sylvan and save approximately $1,000,000 over the Fourth Street extension.

The Fourth-street extension would cost about $1,800,000 for the right of way and mean destruction of 20 to 30 existing houses. The Tigard-Canyon road cut-off as outlined would cost not to exceed $600,000 for the entire distance is through acreage. There would be no bridges to construct and no heavy grades or cuts and it would be five miles in length to seven miles for the Fourth street extension.

It would leave the West Side Pacific highway just beyond Tigard and reach Canyon road by following along the east side of the Southern Pacific rail line that goes from Tigard to Beaverton. It would be situated west of the Multnomah golf course and miss the links entirely.

Scott said it could be developed later into a fast route to Salem. A study of the map revealed that Tigard is almost due north of Aurora on the East Side Pacific highway. This distance is about 15 miles, and would offer no handicaps to economical construction of a good highway. A bridge would cross the Willamette river at a favorable spot at Wilsonville.

District Attorney Issues Statement to Voters

E. B. TONGUE

In announcing my candidacy to succeed myself, I wish to brand as unqualifiedly false certain rumors spread by my enemies as to my personal taxes and the expenses of my office.

The rumor that I have not paid my taxes for 20 years is absolutely false. I have paid my taxes every year as and when they become due. Last year I paid on property of my own and on property in which I own an interest $1800.39 and my income from it was $500.

ECONOMY

Ever since I have been in office I have furnished without cost to the taxpayers and at my own expense the following items:

1. My own car, cost and expense, for official use.
2. I have paid my own office rent.
3. I have paid for the care and janitor service of my office.
4. I have furnished and maintained for the free use of the county a law library representing an investment of over $10,000.
5. From the time in 1925 when the County Court authorized the appointment of a deputy I paid out of my own salary upon that deputy's salary the sum of $50 per month as long as he remained, a period of nearly 2 years.
6. I have furnished all furniture in my office except a small typewriter desk and two or three filing cabinets of four units each for criminal documents.
7. For a great many years I have paid the entire salary of stenographers—now the County pays part.
8. I have furnished every typewriter that has been used in my office with the single exception of one recently furnished by the County for the tax foreclosures.
9. I have furnished more than three fourths of all stationery used in my office and all stamps which alone amounted to an average cost of $5 per month.
10. I have paid all telephone and telegraph bills and expense with the exception of perhaps four or five months.
11. When I was only deputy and received $42.50 per month I paid my own office rent, all salaries of stenographers and other expenses, etc.
12. I have kept my office open every night for official business from ten o'clock to on occasions midnight.

These are some of the economies which I have practiced and by which I have saved the County large amounts of money while all other county officers have all their official expenses paid and with the exception of the Sheriff close their office at 5 o'clock in the evening.

During the year 1925 the County Court made an order which is now in force and effect authorizing the appointment of a deputy at $1800 a year, the salary to be paid out of fines, penalties and forfeitures—not out of taxes. This order was made under an agreement with the County Court that I would pay into the County General Fund all that part of the fines, penalties and forfeitures which the law sets apart for my exclusive use and expenditures. Since January 1, 1926, up to January 1, 1932, this portion of the fines set aside for my use and to which the County was not entitled amounted to $42,919.49; the amount of the deputy's salary during that time was $9,000, and the County's clear gain under that arrangement amounted to $31,366.81.

The Circuit and County Judges, Hillsboro Justice of the Peace and Sheriff are on salaries, hence were possible I bring all criminal proceedings where the work can be done through these salaried officers, and by doing so have saved the County thousands of dollars in Justice of the Peace fees, Constable fees and

Beaverton Water Users May Possibly be Supplied with Well Water

Mr. Cunningham of Barr & Cunningham, engineers, was present at the adjourned meeting of the city council Monday evening to discuss the possibilities of wells to serve the city with water. Various sizes of wells, quality of water, pumps and the relative cost of drilling per foot were discussed extensively. Mr. Cunningham suggested that engineers draw up specifications covering all details for well construction and that the city attorney prepare a contract of terms of payment the city wished to make. He further stated that the cost of drawing these specifications and the testing of the water would not exceed $50. The above suggestions were agreed on.

The city recorder was instructed to advertise for bids for hauling refuse for the city, the council reserving the right to accept or reject all bids.

Countdown Marsh made a motion that a warrant for $12.50 in favor of George Thving be drawn and a receipt obtained marked in full for services rendered the town of Beaverton. This amount is due Mr. Thving for the first seven days of April, 1930, for which he had never been reimbursed.

Recorder Richey was asked to notify the P. E. P. company to follow the map furnished recently in the changing of the city lights. This was due to a motion made by Councilman Boswell.

Kenneth Harlan Seeks Seat of U. S. Senator

KENNETH HARLAN
Republican Candidate for UNITED STATES SENATOR

"Oregon's Prosperity depends upon public development of its great power resources" says Mr. Harlan.

Kenneth Harlan for years has been prominently identified with the power issue in America. He is a nationally known for his persistent fight against the exploitation of the people's great water power resources by private monopolies. He has been a fearless crusader against the power trust and other special privilege interests, and is nationally recognized as an authority upon the subject of public utilities.

FRIEND OF GEORGE JOSEPH

Mr. Harlan came back to Oregon early in 1928 to assist his friend, George Joseph, in defeating the merger of the two big electric power companies in Portland. Shortly following that campaign he was employed by the City of Portland to investigate the Portland Electric Power Company. This investigation resulted in bitter turmoil and in disclosures that later was so prominent in the memorable campaign of George Joseph.

CAMPAGNED FOR MEIER

Following the tragic death of George Joseph, Mr. Harlan became active in the Meier campaign which was carried forward "Four Square" upon the Joseph platform and was approved by the people by an overwhelming vote. After Governor Meier was elected, Mr. Harlan was sent to Washington, D. C., to appear at hearings upon the development of the Columbia River held before the joint committees in Congress.

MEMBER OF STATE GRANGE POWER COMMITTEE

No man in Oregon has been more closely connected with the Grange power measures than Kenneth Harlan. Not only in the hot fight of 1930 but since that time he has served upon the State Grange power committee that drafted the second Constitutional Amendment now being sponsored by the State Grange, which will go before the voters next Fall, and which is designed to carry out the cardinal plank of the Joseph platform—State development of the water power.

JOSEPH PLATFORM

Kenneth Harlan has been persistent in his determination to carry forward the real Joseph principles. As a close friend and adviser of George Joseph, no one is better qualified to carry on that cause or to bring the Joseph platform back upon its true course.

STEIWER WAS PIONEER IN ADVOCATING POWER DEVELOPMENT

No candidate in the field for the nomination for United States Senator has a right to claim patent rights on ideas for the development of cheap power in Oregon.

At an official meeting of the Washington county health association held Tuesday night at the Hillsboro library the action of the executive committee in employing Mrs. Hazel C. Foeller, R. N. as county nurse was supported by vote of the association.

The new health nurse has already initiated active health work with the schools of the county, offering her services to schools that have especially pressing health problems that need attention before school closes, it was reported at the meeting.

Picking up the work where it was dropped due to the resignation of the former nurse, Mrs. Grace Richmond, the new worker will meet as rapidly as possible the health problems that have arisen during the period the county has been without this type of service, it was pointed

She has also had post graduate hospital training. During her work at one of the well known nursery schools in Portland she received unique experience with children which is considered by Mrs. Abendroth and others who investigated her credentials prior to her employment as of particular value to her work in the county. She comes with the endorsement also of the state board of health, bureau of public health nursing and child hygiene.

Dr. C. A. Lambkin, Hillsboro dentist, spoke at the meeting on preventive dentistry and the value of early dental care for children. Mrs. Paul Patterson spoke on the work of the county child study groups and pledged co-operation with the health work.
