BORAH BOLTS FLAYS DRY-WET PLANK DR. BUTLER AROUSED GARNER FOR REPEAL HOOVER LIMITS CAMPAIGN DEMOCRATS IN CHICAGO JAPAN'S WARNING

Senator Borah's dramatic announcement that he will not support the President for reelection on the platform adopted by the Republican National Convention has created a considerable political stir. It is generally recognized that his eloquence and power, thrown behind President Hoover in 1928, had much to do with the success of the President's campaign and while the recent statement of the Idahoan, that he did not intend to attend the Republican Convention gave an inkling that he was not at all satisfied with the developments in the past four years, most observers took it for granted that the senator would be satisfied to remain quiet while the campaign of 1932 proceeded.

In a speech that fascinated galleries and was listened to intently by senators of both parties, Mr. Borah used all his oratory to condemn the Prohibition plank, which he said was adopted from "political expediency", although it was clear that the "great majority" was for absolute repeal. He insisted that after the campaign is over, the Republican party will advocate repeal and that if 294 delegates from the Southern states and 300 Federal officials, who voted against the repeal, were removed from consideration, an overwhelming majority was for repeal.

Not only did the Senator discuss the Prohibition plank, but he announced that he reserved the right to vote as he pleased and declared he would not be bound for a single moment. Moreover, when asked the direct question of whether he would support the President on the platform adopted, he tersely replied: "I will not," and newspaper correspondents rushed out of the press gallery to get off the news.

As one of the Dry Leaders, the Idaho senator insisted that he would "carry to the people" the question of Prohibition, but also announced, when asked if he proposed to head a third party movement, that he had "nothing of that kind in mind." Some seem to think that Mr. Borah was putting it up to the President to amplify the platform declaration in his speech of acceptance and that possibly the Senator would support the President if Mr. Hoover states a satisfactory personal position, but, all the same, Administration circles were obviously a little concerned over his attitude.

Another denunciation of the plank was made by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, leader of the fight for repeal in the Convention, who urged repudiation of the plank in State Conventions. This, however, did not seem to gain much headway as wet states seem to think the better strategy would be to make their state planks as wet as possible.

Dr. Butler was unsparing in his denunciation of the organization of the Republican Convention, declaring that it provided the "most shocking" exhibit of patronage control of a convention since 1872 and he sternly condemned the use of the patronage whip to steer the convention, 700 of whose delegates he contends were for repeal. He, too, pointed out that, eliminating the

Transient Fruit Pickers Warned Against Invading Yakima for Work

Yakima, Wash., July 1—In normal years thousands of transient workers from the Northwest flock to the Yakima valley to find work at thinning, spraying, picking, sorting, packing and canning the Yakima valley's $25,000,000 fruit, hop and potato crop.

This year, with thousands of local residents unemployed, and with prices which will not permit growers to employ the normal number of workmen, a plan has been inaugurated to employ local residents only. A Local Resident Identification card is issued to all those who can prove themselves residents of Yakima county. Farmers, packers and shippers will employ only those carrying this card.

Transient workers therefore being advised to save themselves the expense and embarrassment of attempting to find employment in the Yakima valley this summer or fall.

Five Volunteer Workers Injured when Scaffold Falls at Grange Hall

Aloha, Oregon, July 1—The record of the Aloha Grange volunteer workers of not having had an accident since the building was started was blackened Thursday, when a scaffold on the side of the hall fell, throwing five men about 20 feet to the ground. E. J. Johnson and Harry Price were rushed to the Hillsboro hospital for treatment, while Verne Bright, Mr. Parish and L. E. Klatt were badly bruised and shaken up.

Thursday noon the ladies arrived with a turkey dinner for the workers and it is believed they had eaten too heartily and the added weight was too much for the 2x4 holding one end of the scaffolding up, thus causing the downfall.

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION LOANS

Hillsboro, Oregon, July 1—Ninety per cent of all the reconstruction finance corporation funds that were used this spring went into communities of less than 10,000 population, according to J. F. Davies of the Farmers' Seed Loan office at Spokane. A total of $73,000,000 was loaned to 500,000 farmers amounting to approximately $140 per farm. In the Pacific northwest the loans totaled approximately one million dollars made to 5000 farmers or an acreage per farm of $170.

Farmers are generally regarding these loans just as any other loan stated Davies when he was in Washington county last Thursday. Only a small number of Washington farmers took advantage of the availability of the money there being but 25 such loans made in the county last year.

Water Hearing to Cut Present Rates Held Last Thursday

Aloha, Oregon, July 1—At Wheeler Hall, Aloha, on Thursday there was heard the case of the people of Aloha against the Valley Water Co. The object was to lower the rates from $1.50 minimum, and to extend the water main from Blanton street southward to the Old Hillsboro road. Testimony was taken before C. R. Lester and John Honion, who represented Charles M. Thomas Public Utilities Commissioner.

Witnesses for Aloha were C. J. Stickney, H. A. Lowry, W. Norman, and Geo. W. Lippert. Elmer Stipe testified for his company, the Valley Water Co., and he was represented by E. W. Moreland, Portland. Geo. W. Lippert represented the Aloha residents as attorney.

It developed that Mr. Stipe pays the Oregon-Washington Water Co., Hillsboro, five cents per hundred for the water, which, after being conveyed here, is sold to the Aloha residents for fifty cents per hundred, minimum. Of a total 500,000 cubic feet taken on at Hillsboro, Beaverton uses 180,000. The remainder is used by Aloha, Huber and way points. The leakage, owing to the age of pipes is something like twenty-five per cent.

The Washington County Home uses some 35,000 feet per month. For this no charge is made by Mr. Stipe, and the expense is charged to overhead as a part of the cost of production. This was particularly objected to, the contention being that it ought not to be charged to the consumers.

To make the extension would require some 1,220 feet of three inch main.
