

WILL YOU SMILE

A man who had been waiting patiently in the postoffice could not attract the attention of either of the girls behind the counter.

"The evening cloak," explained one of the girls to her companion, "was a redingote design ingeorgous brocade, with fox fur and wide agoda sleeves."

At this point the long-suffering customer broke with: "I wonder if you could provide me with a neat red stamp with a dinky perforated hem, the tout ensemble treated on the reverse with gum arabic?" Something about two cents."—Ferguson Cross Section.

School Bill Untimed Says McDaniel

"The Zorn-Macpherson School Moving Bill is untimely, unnecessary and dangerous," declared Dr. E. B. McDaniel, President of the Oregon Automobile Association and one of the most widely known workers for good roads and State Welfare in Oregon. "Present economic conditions do not indicate radical changes calling for the sacrifice of millions of dollars in equipment and buildings, and the expenditure of other millions for new buildings and equipment. Oregon cannot afford more administrative expenses leading inevitably to higher taxes."

"It is unnecessary, as the Oregon system of institutions of higher learning are adequate to the demands. Our new administrative system is functioning, and functioning economically, and with the present facilities there is no reason why any Oregon boy or girl should not have the education they need at the least possible expense both to their parents and to the taxpayers as a whole."

"It is dangerous in that any radical change, and the Zorn-Macpherson bill would be a radical change, is in the nature of an experiment. We do not have a Junior College system now. We know that in other states some have been successes and others failures. And such a Junior College system would open the way for a huge expense in later years as city after city would demand Junior Colleges. The combined state college and university would be an experiment, for Oregon. "Now is not the time for costly experiments."

VOTE FOR REPUBLICAN STATE AND COUNTY TICKETS

Paid Adv. by Republican State Central Committee, T. C. Elliott, Chairman 240 Morgan Bldg., Portland, Ore.

Democratic Ticket Gaining Strength

Increasing strength for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket as well as for the Carl C. Donagh, state chairman of Democratic state ticket is seen by the Democratic State Central Committee. Donagh, with Vernon Williams, director of finance, are near the end of a tour, which has taken them to all of the principal cities and towns in the state.

"The situation is most encouraging," says Donagh. "Everywhere we have found an increasing demand for a change, and the voters of the state are weary of Hoover and all his work. We found that his Des Moines speech came too late to satisfy the voters who have been fed on false hopes and promises for the past four years."

"We found that while the voters of Oregon listened to Hoover and his lieutenants, they were loath to believe that re-election of the Republican ticket would bring increase in this time of stress or that he offered any panacea for our economic ills."

"We want a change," was the cry that we found everywhere, and the electorate of Oregon believe that F. D. Roosevelt will provide a happy change and initiate remedial legislation so that the country will witness the dawn of a new era.

"In so far as the state ticket is concerned, I found that in eastern, southern and central Oregon the chances were indeed bright for the election of Walter B. Gleason as United States senator; Governor Walter M. Pierce for Congress in the second district, and exceedingly bright for Harvey G. Starkweather to be elected congressman in the first district.

"The most amazing thing in connection with this campaign is the enthusiasm that is manifest even in the most lowly town. The voters are thoroughly alive to the importance of this election. They are for the most part registered. They attend meetings in large numbers and come from considerable distances to listen to the speakers and hear the exposition of the issues."

"This is no cut and dried campaign. The cry is 'Roosevelt.' We find it everywhere and there is going to be rolled up the greatest vote of protest against Hoover and the Republican leadership that this state has ever witnessed. Oregon today is safe for Roosevelt and Garner, and the entire state ticket."

Fall Flowing.

The furious flame of autumn burns the year
To smoky ash; the sun is curled and sere
As a charred leaf whirled along a sky
Of bronze and russet stubble . . . and now, I,
Weary of waiting the cool, tardy rain,
(Reaped is the meager store of bitter grain
From the flinty field, garnered the shriveled bough)
Sink the rusty tooth of the furrowing plough
Into the brittle clod, the merciless dust,
Fogs my throat like an evil stinging lust:
Earth must be planted, arrogant earth must yield
Its modicum of dreams; each scornful field,
Its scanty dole of love, or pain, or lack . . .
Who sets to plow this earth may not turn back!

—VERNE BRIGHT.

Christian Science Churches

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, October, 23rd.

The Golden Text is, "Behold, now is the day of salvation." (Cor. 6-2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death" (Cor. 15:25,26).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "The dream of death must be mastered by Mind here or hereafter. Thought will waken from its own material declaration, 'I am dead', to catch this trumpet-word of Truth. There is no death, no inaction, diseased action, overaction, nor reaction' . . . Death will be found at length to be a mortal dream, which comes in darkness and disappears with the light" (pp.427,42).

Grapefruit and Vitamin C

THERE was a time when we thought that what we had to have, if it came to first principles, was just "enough to eat." But science has taught us differently. What we have to have is sufficient of this and of that, especially of the essential vitamin C.

When we first heard of this vitamin as the "antiscorbutic" vitamin, we said to ourselves, "Well, we're not going on long sea voyages or Arctic expeditions where we will have to live on bread and salt meats, so we don't need protection from scurvy!"

That is what we used to say—now we know that for healthy bodies, sound teeth and good skins we simply have to have enough of this vitamin.

That is why the report of a study of antiscorbutic potency of canned and fresh grapefruit, which appeared some months ago in The Journal of Home Economics, is so interesting. The study was made by Grace MacLeod and Lela Booher of the Nutritional Laboratory of Teachers' College of Columbia University, and led to the conclusion that canned or fresh grapefruit has a vitamin C potency of the same order of magnitude as lemon or orange juice or tomatoes, raw or canned.

This Applies To Us

So, should the family get tired of its orange juice and lemon juice, and look askance at tomatoes for the nonce, substitute grapefruit. It's good, and just as good for them.
