CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. Charles F. Clarke, Pastor

Next Sunday morning Mr. Clarke will take as his topic, "Do You Think or Do You Think You Think?" At 7:30 P. M. he will preach on "Jesus and the 'Best People'" and will read the greatest short story ever told. The Bible school meets at 9:45 A. M.; the Scrooby Society and Christian Endeavor Society at 6:30 P. M. The missionary study class will meet Thursday at 11 A. M. and there will be a basket luncheon at 12:15.

The Congregational Association will meet November 3 at the Gaston Congregational church at 9:45 A. M. Everyone is invited.

BEAVERTON CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. G. W. Springer, Pastor

Although few in number, those present at the missionary rally in the basement of the church Friday, October 21, were greatly benefited. Brother Swander, state secretary; Brother Nankville, pastor of the Malloy avenue Church of Christ in Portland, and Brother Harris, pastor of Christian temple in Portland, were the guest speakers. All who were there feel that they are better informed about state missionary enterprise.

Sunday school is at 9:45. We hope that each Sunday for the coming year will be rally day for the school.

In the morning at 11 o'clock Dr. Springer will speak on the topic, "All Nations." At Christian Endeavor the delegates from the county rally will report. Everyone is urged to be present. The topic of the evening sermon will be "Believe in Me."

Special Services at Methodist Church

On Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Methodist church of Beaverton this community will have the privilege of hearing and getting acquainted with the Clark evangelists. They have just closed a very successful meeting in Albany, where for weeks they had a crowded church with no standing room left. You have heard many evangelists no doubt, but when you hear the Clarks you will say they are the best you ever heard. And how they sing; they will sing the songs that lift you out of your troubles and worries. To hear them sing is a revival in itself. I urge you to come Thursday evening, but from then on you will need no urging whatsoever. From then on it will be a matter of coming early enough to get a seat. Our church is not large enough but we will do our best to take care of the crowds that come. We have a date set for starting this meeting but no date for bringing it to a close. With the interest that has been shown in the Clark evangelists it is hard to say how long this service might continue. Come and come early or you might not find a seat.

The Congregation mission study group met at the church on Thursday of last week. The language and educational phases of China were taken up very ably by Mrs. Louise Carter and discussion followed. Potluck luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. During the luncheon hour Rev. Clarke read an interesting letter from Congregation Missionary Lloyd Lerber at Pasmalai, India, which explained in detail the work being done in that country by our missionaries. This was followed by a short business meeting.

ROSS-SMITH

A quiet and simple wedding ceremony in Portland on Friday morning, October 21 Miss Hazel Smith became the bride of Albert Rossi of Beaverton. The happy couple left immediately for a short honeymoon at Lake Lytle and Knappa, Or., where the bride's parents reside. They will make their home in one of the Tucker houses on First street. Mrs. Rossi is one of the most popular and charming young women of Beaverton, and was accorded the honor of being chosen one of the princesses in the Beaverton Roes Festival float last June. The groom is also well and favorably known, being the youngest son of Mrs. August Rossi, a pioneer resident of Beaverton. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Rossi wish them a long and happy wedded life.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Underhill, who have been visiting at the home of their son, M. E. Underhill for the past week, returned to Albany on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Engelke and son Robert attended the Pacific International Stock show and rodeo in Portland Saturday.

Mrs. J. H. Dobbins and Mrs. P. L. Schultze attended a luncheon given by the auxiliary to the railroad trainmen at Portland on Wednesday.

Keep 50,000 Men "At Work"

Don't throw fifty thousand men in danger of unemployment. Don't scrap 250 million dollars in dairy farms, dairy cattle and dairy equipment. Keep Oregon's dairy industry at work.

Put Oregon dairymen on a parity with all other Pacific Northwest states. Make Butter substitutes carry their just share of the state tax load. Equalize taxes. Make 'foreign' tropical oils carry their just share of the state's taxes. Catch outside the state tax-dodging substitute manufacturers.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

The Halloween spirit is very much in evidence at the Beaverton grade school. Ghosts will walk and black cats and witches will hold revelry in every room on Friday afternoon. Boys and girls will all share in the fun with Halloween games. Costumes will be worn and refreshments will be served. The festive spirit will end the first school party of the year.

Boys' basketball practice begins next week. According to Mr. Phelps the prospects for a winning team are not of the best, as the experienced and large boys have graduated or moved away.

Plans are under way for the fall entertainment, which is to be presented some time the early part of December. This program will be given entirely by the first four grades. The upper grades will present the program in the spring.

The first grade visited the Beaverton airport last Friday. The children were given a warm welcome by the officials, and were told many interesting points about the 10 planes that were in. All the children had never been close enough to really touch one, and they were very proud and happy to have the opportunity.

A lovely border of jolly pumpkin and corn babies adorns the first grade room. Smiles of these babies help the boys and girls to wear their own sunny smiles, although, with the happy time of Halloween near, this is not hard to do.

Mrs. J. G. Hohnstein and Mrs. J. R. Miller were visitors last week.

The second grade is now making number work books. This is the first time numbers to 200 have been written by this class.

Mildred Yates has sat in the orange honor chair more than anyone else in the reading class.

A new pupil in the second grade is Ronald Graham. Dorothy Lillegard has moved away.

In the third grade the "Bluebird" class in reading has just started work in a new reader and word book. They are finding it very interesting.

The pupils of the third grade are also making a booklet of original stories, adding a new story every week to the collection.

Each pupil in the fourth grade has learned that his body is a ship and that he is the captain of this ship. He is striving each day to have it cleaner than the day before.

Some clever interpreters of reading book characters were shown in an unrehearsed dramatization of "The Ants' Fire Escape." Hallie Jean Pace was a most sympathetic mother, while Bobby Graham and Margaret Taylor were especially resourceful in finding a way for the ants to escape the fire that ruined their home.

The little poem, "Helpfulness," by Emily Dickinson, gave the children many ideas of ways in which they might be helpful. Agnes Wegener was the first to recite the poem successfully.

The fifth grade enjoyed the first half holiday earned by perfect attendance, on Friday.

"See America First" is the motto of the fifth grade in their study of United States history.

A border of the best art work in Room 6 is arranged above the blackboard. The best written work each day is also displayed on the board.

A project consisting of an endless chain to show that all events are linked together, is to be started in the sixth grade history.

Robert Andrews, a new student from Odell, has enrolled in the seventh grade.

DONALD T. TEMPLETON
Republican Candidate for County Judge

When the County Court, in keeping with its economy program became the purchasing agent for all county departments, the savings thus made far exceeded the original estimates. This is but an example of the economies that have been introduced in the management of county affairs in the past 18 months. A careful conservation of county funds is the surest, safest way in which to reduce taxes.

Your vote for Donald T. Templeton, Republican nominee for County Judge, will insure a continuance of this program.

BEAVERTON LOCAL HAPPENINGS

On Friday evening of last week the Mesdames Bertha Williams and Viola Nielsen were joint hostesses to the O. E. S. officers at the Nielsen home in Aloha. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Denney, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. George McBreen, Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen, Mrs. J. W. Sprague, Mrs. S. B. Lawrence, Mrs. Emma Garish, Mrs. Williams, Miss Helen Mills, Mrs. N. H. Byfield, Mrs. L. R. Richey and Mrs. J. S. Felsner. Games were played during the evening and refreshments were served at midnight. Miss Mills drew a lovely doily as a draw prize during the refreshment period, and Mrs. Byfield was the winner in a guessing contest on a jar of fillers.

Mrs. W. C. McKell entertained the Tuesday bridge at 1 o'clock luncheon this week. High score was won by Mrs. W. H. Boyd.

The Friendship Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. W. H. Boyd on Wednesday afternoon. Contract bridge was played, high score going to Mrs. R. R. Summers.

P. M. Madden reports renting the Joss place on Hall street to S. K. Clark.
