SIXTH YEAR NO. 42

BEAVERTON, OREGON JANUARY 6, 1933.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

As The World Goes By

All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players. Shakespeare.

Albert Tozier, Washington county pioneer, will ring the bell in the Methodist church here New Year's eve for the sixty-first consecutive time.—Hillsboro Argus.

Frowns are bad on the complexion. It takes fifty muscles to make a frown.

It is estimated that fifteen gallons of real beer must be guzzled annually by each man, woman and suckling babe to raise enough revenue to meet the deficit. And to pay for the manufacture of this Amazon of liquid amber will demand the total corn of the wheat, and the sacrifice of the total hog output of the country.

A story is going around that several members of the Washington legislature were presented each with a new suit of clothes so they could present a dignified appearance at the capital. Why not robe our solons in something like the Roman toga? Dignified, economical serviceable and perhaps, the means of insuring a close sticking to the post of duty.

Of the two drowning men, the farmer and the banker, which will Congress rescue first?

Soviet Russia begins soon her second five-year plan, with which she probably intends to correct the mistakes of the first five years.

America is warned by the President's research committee on social trends to change our ways. Not so much our ways and methods, we remark, but an altogether new conception of what constitutes a safe speed limit.

"Oregon is a great state of plenty now, and beautiful women are considered one of its strongest attractions. They have grown more beautiful as generations pass, because of the luxurious and beautiful foods that the state produces, the influence of the soft, balmy air." This tribute was written in 1880 by Carrie Adell Strahorn, a globe trotter.

"Oh, East is East, and West is West, 'And ne'er the twain shall meet."

But they did meet, and two east coast football squads left for home wondering whether it would have been wise to have regarded Kipling's warning more seriously.

This appeared in an Illinois small town weekly paper: "The following program was given at the Whitschool on Friday evening—Recitation, James Petty; Recitation, Lyle Petty; Recitation, Clara Belle Petty; Song, Russell and Lyle Petty; Solo, Lillian Petty; Susie and Pat, Charles Petty and Louis Vance; Dialogue, Lillian Petty, Lyle Petty; Recitation, Russell Petty; Song, Russell and Lillian Petty." The Petty family is not so petty.

Mr. Insull has been insulated from the jurisdiction of the U. S. courts, and isolated in Greece on a technicality—whatever that may be.

Can the unfranchised street railways of Portland be panned for blocking the traffic?

Two banks at Newberg have been merged, and one at Cottage Grove has been submerged.

A noted Japanese educator says America does not understand Japan. Some of her actions are hard to understand.

The Oregon legislature is facing a serious situation. And the pictures of some of the legislators in today's papers show that the situation is making serious faces.

Must Oregon, the least illiterate, adopt the sales tax, and thus copy after the most illiterate state in the union?

"Amicus Socrates, socrates Plato, sed major veritas," shouted a proponent of technocracy. "Which, Socrates translated, means," "I may sass Socrates. I may sass Plato," said Major Veritas.

County Representatives Are Busy At Salem

When the thirty-seventh legislative assembly met at Salem Tuesday Representative J. O. Johnson of Tigard and E. J. McAlear of Hillsboro were given chairmanships of important committees. J. O. Johnson being made chairman of the Alcohol Control committee which will propose new legislation on liquor control in the state of Oregon. E. J. McAlear was made chairman of the Food and Dairy Products committee which will handle all legislation pertaining to those subjects. McAlear was also appointed as a member of the Assessment and Taxes committee; Constitutional Law; Resolutions and Motor Vehicle committees. Representative Johnson was appointed as a member of the Banking and Corporations; Constitutional Law; Insurance and Military Affairs committees.

The House at its first session adopted rules cutting salaries of clerks and other employees twenty percent or more. The cut applied only to special session but will undoubtedly continue through the regular session. Two bills were introduced at the first session providing for increase of income tax and sales tax on tangible property and personal service.

Representative Johnson stated that he favored consideration of the budget before revenue bills were considered as he believed that material cuts could be made in the administration of state affairs. Many other representatives expressed the same opinion. Special session however has limited consideration to methods of raising revenue and unemployment relief.

Citizens of Washington county interested in any legislation before the House are urged to write their representatives addressing communications to the House of Representatives Salem Oregon.

Many Distant Visitors Attend Symphony

Portland, Oregon, January 5.—With the new year, the second half of season has commenced. Only three Sunday matinee and three Monday evening concerts remain; the next Sunday afternoon "popular" program coming, January 8.

The attendance by visitors from out of town; frequently from as distant cities as Seattle; and Medford and Klamath Falls; Ore. has been an ever-growing indication of Portland's position as an important music center in the Northwest. Particularly the Sunday afternoon "popular" concerts at popular prices give the week-end visitor an opportunity to enjoy a symphony performance.

Willem van Hoogstraten has arranged a program of wide appeal for presentation at 3 P. M. January 8 at the Municipal Auditorium. The guest artist will be Sylvia Weinstein Margulis violinist who will play Mendelssohn's violin concert. Her appearance is a special attraction for the first matinee concert of the new year.

The concert will also include: Overture from the opera "Mignon" (Thomas); Largo from the opera Xerxes (Handel); Ballet music from the opera "La Cid" (Massenet); and Overture "Year 1812" (Tschaiikovsky).

Unusually delightful will be the Massenet ballet music from "La Cid." It is divided into six parts; illustrating dances from different regions in Spain. The six are: "Acastillano," "Andalous" "Argonaise," "Aubado" "Madrilese" and "Navarraise."

Reservations for concerts may be made by mail or direct at the Symphony Box Office, J. K. Gill Company Portland, Oregon.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served in the evening's entertainment.

New Officials Take Office In Beaverton

New city officials for Beaverton ensuing year 1933 were sworn in at the city hall Tuesday night, following the final session of the old council. The new officials taking the oath of office were: Mayor Earl E. Fisher; Councilmen G. F. Fordney, Francis Livermore, F. W. Bishop and Mr. Boswell.

M. Welter councilman elect stated that he could not attend the council meetings and did not qualify. Frederick Koshland was appointed to fill the vacancy.

H. M. Barnes is the hold-over councilman.

Lewis Smith was sworn in as recorder-treasurer and has opened office at the city hall for the transaction of business; paying water bills, etc.

The following standing committees were appointed by the mayor and ratified by the council:

Charter, New-Livermore, chairman; Boswell, Fordney.

Civic Improvements—Koshland, chairman.

Drainage and Sidewalks—Boswell, chairman.

Finance—Livermore, chairman, and Barnes.

Lights—Barnes, chairman.

Resolutions—Boswell, chairman.

Streets—Bishop, chairman.

Water—Fordney, chairman.

The first act of the new council was to pass resolutions of commendations in behalf of the retiring city officials Mayor Wilson, Councilmen Talbert and Recorder-Treasurer Lela Richey for faithful service rendered during the past year.

Mayor Fisher stated he was pleased to have the opportunity to work with the new council in serving the best interests of Beaverton.

The Recorder-Treasurer bonds for the year were raised from $2000.00 to $5000.00 by the council.

The mayor complimented the city health department in the highest terms—stating there had been no epidemics during the past year—through efficient services rendered in caring for those who were ill. Beaverton ranks high among Oregon cities as the "City of Homes" Dr. R. S. Welsh and Dr. C. E. Mason were reappointed health officers for 1933.

Mr. Jannsen, well driller appeared before the council and offered some good advice in building concrete base for the test pump for the new well.

The Beaverton Volunteer Fire department won high praise from the new mayor for their noble and efficient fire fighting "res all summer in Beaverton, John, I have black unaville, Progress, 1932 was sure a banner year for fire alarms. The mayor appointed Chester Beach, chief of fire department for 1933. Mr. Beach will appoint his assistants.

After due consideration Mayor Fisher believes Beaverton business men deserve better police protection not only at night, but in daytime, when their doors are open for business and money in their cash registers—he recommends Mr. W. W. Peet as day police who is also experienced in reading water meters and plumbing work, to be known as Policeman No. 1.

Further recommended Mr. M. W. Rice as Policeman No. 2 to serve on the night service. Mr. Rice is a good officer and has had experience in Idaho in reading electric light meters he also is an expert truck driver, just the man to run the fire truck on a night alarm, both these men have wives and children and need the work badly to support their families. Mr. Peet is appointed will act as chief of police. Both Messrs Peet and Rice have agreed to render the City of Beaverton a two-man police service and accept the pay 50-50 that one is now receiving. Their appointment will be up for consideration at the next meeting of the council.

The following guests enjoyed a "Watch Night" party at the Charles F. Berthold home on New Year's eve. Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. John Haulenbeck and Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis.

Miss Beatrice (Billie) Woodruff of Tacoma, Wash., formerly of Beaverton spent the holiday week with relatives in Portland and visited with Cathryn Beach on Sunday and Monday of this week.

Dr. R. S. Welsh was a holiday dinner guest at the T. W. McDonald home in Hillsboro.

STILL ROOM FOR MORE PEOPLE IN PRIZE RACE

Today it appears—what all Tualatin Valley and surrounding territory has been interestedly waiting for—the first list of nominations in the Enterprise; News; Sentinel and Press "Everybody Wins" Gift Distribution. Names published today are of the few who have merely been nominated in the Tualatin Publishing Co. campaign offer up until 6 o'clock last night and it serves only to show who has been nominated not indicating the LIVE ACTIVE candidates.

Nominations are not closed. In fact today there are more prizes than there are active candidates. Opportunity without a handicap is here today for new entries who will carry on.

This small list published today must not be misunderstood. The names printed are just nominations. The list only serves to show who is entered. It does not indicate the LIVE ACTIVE candidates.

Many who have been nominated have failed so far to turn in one single solitary subscription to the Tualatin Publishing Co. Some have not even called to get an official receipt book. They are so far candidates in name only; nothing more.

Up to now the majority of the votes that most of the candidates have received have been cast by subscribers who have been coming into the office in the regular course of business paying up their subscriptions and casting their votes to the credit of some of the nominees.

Subscriptions Will Win

Candidates who can not produce subscriptions cannot hope to win. The more subscriptions you can produce the more votes you earn. The free coupons appearing in the paper from week to week are valuable only in the degree which you enhance your vote by subscriptions. There is absolutely no hope in coupons alone.

Coupons are printed primarily to stimulate interest. Of course, they do have some value but it is questionable when one considers that one subscription alone off sets whole bundles of coupons.

Nomination Bus Started

Simple nomination of a candidate does not mean a thing. The nomination is but the first step the starting point. Anyone content to rest after nomination cannot get far in this campaign. Active work; honest effort; constant attention to the business in hand; and that alone can get votes. And votes win. And subscriptions mean votes.

With so few candidates entered, and so many of those not yet at least manifesting any LIFE or activity the opportunity is here for some live ones to enter and carry on to win.

In fact the more candidates entered the less votes it will take to win.

To Candidates

The vote count of each candidate's Sentinel and Press campaign will be made public in next Friday's issue. There are quite a few candidates entered who so far have failed to make a single report and this will give those candidates an opportunity to get in their count for Friday's issue. All subscriptions should be turned into campaign headquarters by 6 o'clock Wednesday night to appear in the count.

Any candidate who has entered the race and the name does not appear in the list today kindly notify the Campaign Department immediately. Phone 7503.
