

Settle Money Question Before Ceremony

One of the best ways that a young couple can help their marriage to become a successful one is to settle the money question before the ceremony. It may seem a very mercenary subject to bring up but the parents of the bride and groom can suggest it and save their children much unhappiness and perhaps prevent a divorce.

Most young people give no thought to money during the engagement. The bride-to-be imagines that anyone so devoted as her fiancé will most certainly share equally with her. And the young man, not realizing the cost of women's clothes, etc., has no thought that such a sweet young thing might demand more than he can pay for.

But rent, food, drinks, cigars, clothes electricity and the upkeep of a house all call for money and it is not many weeks, in the usual case, before the discussion begins, unless they were wise enough to have an understanding beforehand about the matter. In that case they look upon each other as partners, both know how much money is coming in and how much they can spend on themselves and for other things. If they both keep faith with the budget half the matrimonial pitfalls have been crossed.

But, on the other hand, suppose the man is one of the breed—and they are legion—who regards the money he makes as his own personal property. His wife never knows what to expect. She gets a dollar here and a dollar there. When her husband gives her a few dollars on the grocery or ice bill he hands it out as though he were bestowing a Christmas gift. He wants his wife to look nice but never seems to think it necessary for her to buy new clothes. This kind of treatment usually causes one of two reactions. Either the wife runs up bills or tries to "work him" for what she needs. The result is in wrangling and the second is, to say the least, degrading.

The man is not always to blame, however. Sometimes we see a most fair and generous man who has fallen in the clutches of an extravagant wife. Not satisfied with her allowance which she spends as soon as she gets her hands on it, she charges clothes and luxuries at different places and her husband stays in a perpetual stew trying to pay for the things she buys.

So I would say to the young woman who is about to become a wife—let the man know that you expect fair treatment, that you do not expect to keep house, nurse babies, etc., and take what few dollars he cares to hand out to you at random. Let him understand that you consider your work as equally as important as his and that you not only expect your half of what he makes but you consider it your privilege to know what he makes.

And to the young man about to become a husband I would say this—Never let the woman who is to become your wife think that you are making more than you really are. Let her know your circumstances and how much you can afford to let her have for running the house and her personal expenses. If she understands this before marriage she will have no excuse for running over her allowance or bringing up to you the things she has to do without.

Money might be the root of all evil but the lack of it or the wise sharing of it is most certainly the cause of a great deal of dissension.

O. S. C. Summer Session Includes Many Features

Final plans for the 1933 summer sessions at Oregon State college are rapidly being completed following approval by the State Board of Higher Education of summer sessions to be held on the various campuses this year as usual but to be operated on greatly reduced budgets. The session starts June 19 and continues six weeks.

The arrangement for the coaching school work, to be given the first two weeks of the session is for this feature to be alternated hereafter between Oregon State college and the University of Oregon. The school in 1934 will be at Eugene.

Catalogs are now being issued and may be had free on application to the Portland extension center or to the college campus.

LEG TROUBLE

by Dr. Laurance and Andrews

The old adage is that we never miss the water until the well goes dry has been proven many times and the old saying is applicable to more things than the water in the well. We never miss our health until it is impaired or gone and then our pains, aches and groans are many, long, and loud.

We never miss the loss of motion or walking till our legs give out or are gone and then we would give most anything to be able to be about again. Varicose Veins are one of many conditions that will take us off our feet.

Varicose Veins in the leg is a condition peculiar to the muscular structure of the vein itself in losing the ability or tone to retain its normal size and function. In other words it is a flabby, loose condition of the vein which does not allow the blood to circulate and causes it to lie dormant and

L. H. HOFFMAN

In Portland at 347 Columbia is a well known contractor and builder of unusual ability, who is aiding in the upbuilding of the country and stands ready to assist in the plans and specifications of building operations for the coming season. He is a general contractor of note. If contemplating any construction program this season, phone Broadway 1261 for consultation.

Mr. L. H. Hoffman is a very prominent and well known contractor with a reputation for the kind of contract work that is built to last and consequently his services are in great demand for he knows his business from A to Z and employs only expert workmen.

He has had charge of some of the largest contracts in this section as well as smaller jobs and always uses the best of materials regardless of the size of the contract.

Here the public has at its disposal the services of a man who possesses the know-how and who obtained his building knowledge and business education in the school of experience.

From the inception of this contracting business, quality has been the aim and the standard of excellence has been maintained from the beginning. The name stands for quality, reliability and progress in the contracting lines in this section of the country and as the advances of the periods have marked very many improvements, he has adopted these late scientific products as rapidly as they were approved by the trade.

He has won a very warm place in the heart of the public through the very excellent work executed in every branch of the business. The public has come to understand that a contract for this class of work goes by specifications and a satisfactory job is certain.

Anyone desiring or expecting to build should consult him for anything in the above lines and get his prices. The management will be pleased to show you whether you desire to let a contract at this time or not. It is a pleasure for us to point to this man as one of the leading men of this section and to say he has always been eminently fair and honest as well as progressive and up-to-date and that he has won for himself the reputation of having the leading concern engaged in this special field of endeavor and to point out the advantages of transacting business with him.

When you let your contract to L. H. Hoffman you are assured you will not only get good work but quality materials, for the man who operates this business knows it thoroughly and insists that the best is none to good for his customers.

PORTLAND RIDING ACADEMY

GARDEN HOME RIDING INSTRUCTION

The Portland Riding Academy is one of the Institutions that Add much to the Sports of This Part of the State and Promote Outdoor Life. Tel. BRoadway 4380

Expert horsemanship has always been, and still is considered one of the essential accomplishments of a member of the leisured class. Today however, this exhilarating sport is no longer limited to a class—the modern riding academy has made it possible for all to indulge.

The Portland Riding Academy has an excellent stable of horses and these horses are well groomed and kept in the best of condition at all times. The mounts have been trained in various ways so that the rider may have a horse to suit his particular style of riding. For the novice a mild-tempered, even-gaited horse is to be desired so as to insure safe and pleasant instruction. The more proficient rider who craves a horse with fire and spirit—a horse that will get out and gallop, and race along will find none better than those furnished by the Portland Riding Academy.

The manager, H. M. Kerron, and his staff of riding masters will accompany all new riders and see that they learn properly and that no accidents will happen. A capable instructor is a necessity when mastering something new and especially so in acquiring skill astride a horse. The riding masters of the Portland Riding Academy are courteous and unusually efficient as teachers. The beginner under their capable direction enjoys the lessons and is soon an adept rider feeling at ease in the saddle.

Mr. Kerron has anticipated the needs and wants of his patrons and the Portland Riding Academy resembles a club as everything that is necessary for the comfort and convenience of the member is always at hand

You don't need a riding habit to get the habit of riding—Put on your knickers and a sweater and swing on—riding is an effective way of reducing and keeping healthy and in good form. It is an exercise that brings all your muscles into play resulting in the perfect functioning of all organs. There is no age-limit, as they teach children as well as the young, old and middle-aged. They will advise you about all details and if you desire a riding habit consult them before making a purchase as their suggestions as to fit and style always result in attire that is both comfortable and smart.

In making this review we are pleased to call the attention of our readers to the Portland Riding Academy as an institution that lends a touch to our complex civilization and affords pleasure to the many.

SCHLESSER BROS.

Packers of the better grades of meat, including the famous Mankind products. Located on Columbia Blvd. in Portland. Is a prominent packing house in this part of the country with a record of service which has been indispensable in the continued progress and development of the community.

Schlessers Bros. is one of the most substantial contributors to the community, operating a very modern packing concern, meriting the support of the local public, and renders a service to the trade and operate under the direction of public spirited management thoroughly familiar with every phase of this essential business which adds to the growth and commercial activities of this section.

It is a fact beyond question that adequate packing house service is essential to the progress and expansion of any community. Therefore, in detailing the prospects for a Greater Community, it is with a feeling of satisfaction that we direct your special attention to this company.

There is probably no other community this size in the country that is better equipped in this respect, for this well known and popular concern has provided modern and scientifically correct abattoir equipment.

It is a local packing institution operated by dependable and efficient men. It provides a necessary service in supplying the very finest of packed foods. The public thus is assured of wholesome packing house products and of the highest grade. Thus this institution merits your consideration and the liberal support of the farmers and the public.

As the business progressed they added equipment so they might better serve their many patrons. Only competent and experienced men are employed by this concern.

Another feature of their service is the production of the Mankind Food Products, a superior, well-balanced, food for dogs, cats, foxes and fish. The Mankind Food is made from choice cuts of horsemeat, beef and mutton and the greatest care is taken to provide sanitary manufacture. Mankind dog and cat food, Mankind fox food, and Mankind fish food is available in two forms, either packed in meat form in cans or the dry product of wafers put up in cartons.

The plant of this popular and efficiently managed concern is a modern sanitary institution of this part of the country that has met with the universal approval of the people. This company has probably made greater strides than any other similar institution in this part of the state. The demand for their goods is increasing daily, and so far has become better known by name and fame in this section.
