

Grange Women Set up Splendid Goals for 1933

The Home Economic work in Granges throughout the country has assumed such proportions and has become such an important improvement factor in many local communities, that there will be universal interest in the definite goals set up for such committees to strive for during the current year. Among these, as set forth by the committee of the National Grange, whose leadership local committees everywhere follow, may be listed the following:

To help rid every Grange farm in the state of outdoor advertising; to urge every subordinate Grange to back at least one worthwhile project that will make the home community a better place in which to live; to beautify the outdoor surroundings of every Grange hall and equip it with a conspicuous (illuminated if possible) Grange marker; to support the home church and create interest in the public school; to aid young people by every possible encouragement, starting with the organization and encouragement of Juvenile Granges in every part of the nation.

The fact that there are fully 400,000 women on the Grange membership roll of the country, and that nearly every one of the 8,000 subordinate units has an alert, well organized home economics committee, engaged in definite undertakings and following national leadership, makes this branch of Grange activity a tremendous factor in the rural life of America.

The work of the architect is held in highest regard in its relation to every phase of building endeavor, as it is to his creative ability and oftimes his artistic skill that the realization of a beautiful and useful structure is accomplished. Before a spadeful of earth is turned, or a brick laid, every detail of the structure has been planned by the architect, who, in his sketches, gives the public the idea of the composite effect embodied in the new building as well as its features of construction.
Portland and the surrounding country is remarkable for the many and varied durable buildings. Most of these buildings have been designed by local architects, who, each year, add to their prestige by new achievements in the field of building design to meet new demands.
Prominent in the architectural field both here and through a large section of the state is this well known firm which has been responsible for the designing of many notable latter day structures of varied types.
To build a house is one accomplishment. To build a truly pretty and comfortable home that is expressive of the advancement of the age is another work of marked superior scope.
Mr. Boland has made a special study of remodeling the older homes. He is the right man to redesign your home so as to give it an appearance of newness and with modern style and conveniences.
Mr. Boland and his staff are courteous and accommodating gentlemen and can be reached very conveniently. The general satisfaction expressed by his many clients and the great demand for his services constitute a well merited tribute to his efficiency and conscientious methods. We wish to compliment this architect upon the very valuable work that he is doing in this section and to direct your special attention to his efficient methods.
