CLARK IMPROVED FURNACE

ty a we leave immediately following for Wilsonville. With many the 9 o'clock hour should be advantageous. Others may find it a little difficult to be on hand at that hour. However let us not think that the hour is too early. Notice our Catholic friends and their hour of service. It is large

CLARK FURNACE CO.

Located at 1219 Southwest 3rd Avenue, on the West Side in Portland, is a Prominent Furnace Concern Featuring the Clark Furnace, a well Recognized Product. Tel. BEacon 5345.

In past years man was satisfied and managed to keep warm in a way by heat from a fireplace built within the walls of his abode. First warming his back, then one side and so on until his entire body had consumed a portion of the heat derived from his crude device.

In later years, during the period of the stove for heating, man was convinced that the acme of perfection had been reached from the heating standpoint.

But the Clark Furnace of today not only heats one room but distributes heat uniformly over the entire house, regulated at the will of the family.

The Clark furnace is manufactured and sold in this section by the Clark Furnace company of Portland. It costs less to operate, less for repairs than any other plant barring none. The Clark is built to give economical service all the time and is not an experiment. Furnaces were originally built to supply the needs of the east and to burn eastern fuel. These same furnaces were then sent west, as the population grew in the west, still made to burn eastern fuel. Not so with the Clark Furnace, it is made in Portland to take care of western needs and to burn western fuel.

It is so well known that it adds more than it costs as a selling or renting feature to your building; and if you use the Clark furnace, fuel saving, and saving on doctor bills will soon pay for it.

This summer and fall while you are thinking of ways to increase happiness think of the Clark furnace as the spirit of genial warmth that will bring happiness and good cheer into your home next winter.

Think of the Clark furnace as a convenience that will regulate temperature throughout your home and will banish the dirt and drudgery of the old style heating system.

Think of Clark furnace as economy that will eliminate one third to one half your fuel bill and save you money for the things that are worth while.

This firm which operates its own factory in Portland, recently introduced a one piece steel furnace, specially designed for oil burners and sawdust burners. They will have living room circulating heaters on the market soon for those having no basements.

We can truthfully say to our readers that you will make no mistake in selecting a Clark furnace and you will also find the salesmen of this firm courteous and progressive business men whose word can be taken in confidence in every way.
