Marie Dickerson, one of the dancers in "Change Your Luck," all-colored musical and dancing review coming to The Rex next Saturday.

"Change Your Luck" opens Saturday at Playhouse

Change Your Luck an all-colored production with an accredited run of 110 weeks in Los Angeles will open at the Hamrick's Playhouse theatre Saturday according to Hal White and William B. McCurdy, managers who completed the arrangements in bringing this road show with a cast of 50 people to the Pacific Northwest. The show is now playing in its second week at Hamricks Rex theatre Seattle.

The stage production will be presented with a continuous program which will feature as the screen production Bebe Daniels latest starring release Cocktail Hour and the usual short subjects. Popular prices will prevail, no reservations.

With the phenomenal run in Los Angeles and on the road the Change Your Luck company is credited by theatrical circles as having done one of the finest records listed in show business. Four weeks in Oakland and nine weeks in San Francisco are listed prominently on their record.

The Change Your Luck Company boasts a cast of fifty people, of which charming bits of femininity are in the majority. Alice Lovejoy, who was one of the featured players in the Luck Days show which held sway over the rialtos several seasons ago, heads the cast. Bethel Gibson, who has been seen here with Olsen and Johnson; Marie Dickerson, eccentric dancer, Sue Joy, torch singer; the Sepia Four, tap dancers de luxe; the Dixie Four, harmony quartet, and Margaret Jones, prima donna, are topping the cast.

Critics everywhere hail this production as one of the finest all-colored shows seen on the coast in many a year. Their criticisms state the show is fast moving, colorful and tuneful.

Bebe Daniels Cocktail Hour which will grace the screen on this program deals with the ever timely subject of whether a woman should go out and taste life before she settles down to married life. The leading characters in this film is said to be modeled after a noted New York commercial artist.

The cast included such stellar screen players as Randolph Scott, Muriel Kirkland, Jessie Ralph, Sidney, Blackmar, Barry Norton and others.

Harley Wintz, of Hillsboro, is at the Carl Lierman home for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKell spent Sunday afternoon at Sellwood Park where the Portland casting club was holding their annual picnic and fly casting tournament. Mr. McKell is a member of the club.

Tualatin Valley Stages Change Bus Schedule

A change in schedule of the Tualatin stages, Fairvale division, will be noted in their ad this week. They will meet the Greyhound busses four times a day at Beaverton, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 7:00, and 11:00 p. m. They will make almost hourly service to Lake road however.

According to a decision of the Public Service commission at hearing recently it was shown that Beaverton had been served by two busses hourly at about the same time, and, as Beaverton does not need a half hour service, it was thought that the Tualatin busses should serve as a connecting link between Terwilliger boulevard and Hillsdale to Beaverton
