Conservation Still Needed

Conserving our national resources is not a seasonable job. Unless our resources are entirely despoiled, we will still have the opportunity of preserving our wild life and forests. The fiercest fire the state has known is even yet destroying our woodlands, not our trees alone, but watersheds, birds, flowers—all things beautiful to residents and tourists, and valuable to owners, sportsmen and government. Correspondence from Tillamook—the apparent destination of the fire—reports "ashes and burnt leaves everywhere" and the startling cries of unknown birds overhead fleeing the red death. Carelessness is costly. Our hunters will go out into what is left of our woods soon and camp. It is up to them to practice their best woodmanship and to teach others how to do away with fire danger, and how to preserve our wild life. Conservation is still and always needed. LISLE WALKER on the line between Thomas Duckett and Isaac Barnes; thence East Fourteen rods, to a stake on the South side of the said road; thence South Eighty (80) rods; to a stake on the North line of the Pointer claim; thence west Fourteen (14) rods to the first place of beginning, containing Seven (7) acres, more or less, being a portion of the James Barker Land Claim.

Also the following described property; being a strip of land lying by and adjoining above described tract of land, directly on the East side thereof, being Eighty (80) rods long and Three (3) rods wide, containing one and one-half (1 1/2) acres, more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at the South-east corner of the tract of land above described; thence North, along the East line of the said tract Eighty (80) rods, more or less, on the Northeast corner of the said tract; thence East Three (3) rods, thence South and parallel with the East line of the said tract, as above described, Eighty (80) rods, more or less; thence West Three rods to the place of beginning.

and all rights, interest and equity of defendants in, to or upon said premises and every part and parcel thereof, save and except the rights of the defendant George Francis Rowe to redeem the same on or before a certain date fixed by the Court, and not exceeding sixty (60) days from the date of the decree herein, upon payment to the plaintiffs of the sum of $2185.02 plus interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the 29th day of May, -1933, until paid and the costs and disbursements incurred in this suit.

2. That said decree provide that upon failure of defendant, George Francis Rowe to pay to plaintiffs said sum with interest, costs and disbursements as aforesaid on or before the date fixed in and by the decree herein said agreement of sale dated June 27, 1927, be held cancelled, set aside, void and of no effect; that defendants and all of them and all persons claiming or to claim by, through, or under them or either of them either as purchasers, assignees, encumbrancers or otherwise be forever barred and foreclosed of any and all right, title, interest or claim in, to or upon said real property and every part and parcel thereof; and that plaintiff's title thereto be confirmed and forever cleared from the effect of said agreement.

3. For such other and further relief as to the Court may seem just and equitable in the premises. This summons is served upon you by publication thereof pursuant to an order made by the Hon. George R. Bagley, Judge of the above named Court, which said order was made and entered on the 29th day of August, 1933, directing that the publication of this summons be made in the Beaverton Enterprise not less than once a week for four consecutive weeks.
