Small Hope for Will's Hopes

While flying over Hoover Dam on a recent air trip from Chicago to the Coast, Will Rogers dropped off his daily message to newspapers. One of his remarks was: "Hope they don't irrigate more land so they can raise more things they can't sell, and will have to plow up more rows, kill more pigs to keep 'em from becomin' hogs." Our politicians still talk glibly of pouring new millions into irrigation schemes to make more farms out of waste land and deserts, thus boosting over-production of agricultural crops which another group of politicians will expect the taxpayers to pay for, to bring about farm relief.

Farm Cooperatives Render Public Service

The most apparent reason for the existence of a farm cooperative is to sell, as profitably as possible, the products of its members.

But the co-ops have another vitally important function—and one on which the accent has been placed in late months. That function is to act as the farmer's representative in formulating and advocating social and economic policies. The new farm bill, for example, was tremendously influenced by cooperative leaders, who were consulted by government officials when it was written. The progressive cooperatives have and are seeking the stabilization of international exchange, and the promotion of international trade. They were among the earliest advocates of monetary reform, which is one of the most burning subjects of the moment.

The cooperative is, as a result, much more than a dealer in produce. That is something every farmer, whether or not he is a cooperative member now, should realize and appreciate.

By all means marry young. By the time you reach 35 your selfishness has been jelled.

Fortunately the awful gas bombs that can destroy an entire city were invented by writers.

Labor's objection to a woman boss is understandable. No laborer really needed another one.

You can tell where any American was born. He does not mispronounce the places in that region.

MISINTERPRETING WHAT THE FARMERS NEED

Not More Loans or "Relief" But an Actual Income Increase

The latest proposal of President Roosevelt to bolster up the price of farm commodities is to create a non-profit corporation to purchase and distribute the necessities of life to the needy. Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator, is charged with the duty of setting up the proposed corporation and getting it to function with the least possible delay. The President is represented as believing that in many states and municipalities relief allowances are now inadequate, and that they should be substantially increased as rapidly as possible.

While the declared purpose of the Agricultural Adjustment Act is to place farm commodities on the same price level as commodities that farmers must buy, during recent weeks agricultural prices, as reported by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, have stood at 64 per cent of the pre-war level, while industrial prices have risen to 112.

At prevailing prices, the best that government statisticians have been able to do is to indicate that the total farm income for 1933 will be slightly in excess of $6,000,000,000, or about $1,000,000,000 more than in 1932, one of the most disastrous years that the farmers of the country ever experienced.

Nothing short of a $12,000,000,000 a year income will put the American farmer back on his feet, enabling him to pay his debts, interest and taxes, besides consuming his share of the products turned out by our industrial establishments. Any further increase in prices of manufactured commodities, without a corresponding increase in the market value of farm products, will simply prolong and aggravate the conditions from which we have been suffering during the past four years.

POLAND'S DRESSES PICKED BY THE HARD TO FIT WOMEN

When a store is able to satisfy the most exacting demands of all classes of women, then it must be acknowledged that it has reached an enviable position in its trade. Such is the case with POLAND'S. Whatever your size, you will find YOUNG FASHIONS here. The reason women not slender like to shop at POLAND'S is because here they have dresses that will meet the demands of all and yet, every dress is moderately priced. Then too . . . when you place yourself into the hands of their salesladies you know that you will receive a dress that will best fit your own individuality.

We suggest, the next time you're in town drop in at 947 S. W. Broadway, between Taylor & Salmon Sts., and see them if only to say Hello. Phone BE. 5248.

Pruning Method Increases Yield

DALLAS—Harvest records on the Andrew Verclar prune orchard near west Salem on which County Agent J. R. Beck conducted a "thinning out" pruning demonstration this year for the sixth time, showed that the plots pruned by this method yielded 50 per cent more prunes than did the check plots. Dry-out and size figures are not yet available on this demonstration.

"COUGAR PASS" OFF PRESS

With the publication this week of "Cougar Pass" the boys and girls have another thrilling wilderness story with its setting in the Oregon Cascades. The author, Elizabeth Lambert Wood, knows the Oregon country as few, either men or women, know it. She has traveled by wagon and horseback over its mountains, has lived in the sagebrush sections and has enjoyed many months along the coast. "Cougar Pass" takes its title from the adventures of three boys who go hunting in the Cascades and are pursued by a cougar. Many adventurous incidents take place, all making for a fascinating story of the great out-of-doors. This book is cleverly illustrated by Louise Hosh and was published by the Metropolitan Press, Portland.

Complete coverage of the eastern end of Washington county and the southwestern part of Multnomah county, that is why our want ads pay.

SUCCESS OR FAILURE?

Is your child given low grades at school? If so, have you ever stopped to realize that it may be your fault and not his. Care of the eyes of times earlier in life assures a growing child a fair opportunity to store away a firm foundation of knowledge, to assure him success in later years.

Dr. Wheat, an optometrist of high repute, is able to make an eye test, without distressing the child with numerous questions as he has been closely allied with children since 1911, and uses a scientific manner to determine the exact condition. Dr. Wheat is the chief operator at the Wheat Optical Co., at 524 Morgan building. He gives personal attention to all children. Call BEacon 4834 for an appointment.

DISABLED INDIVIDUALS NOT UNDER NRA RULING

Aged, infirm, crippled or mentally deficient workers may be paid less than the minimum NRA wage scale if employed at light duties, for longer hours than authorized under the Blue Eagle code, providing the employer obtains a certificate from the state labor commission authorizing their employment in such a manner, the National Recovery Administration ruled today. This ruling will allow many aged men to accept employment as night watchmen and in other jobs they can fill. The ruling will keep this class of workers from becoming public charges, it was held.
