Church Services

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

George F. Gordon, Minister

Friday evening of this week we will have our monthly pot luck dinner and church family night with a fitting program. Dinner at 6:30.

We are changing our worship and Sunday School hour during the winter months to 2:30 Sunday afternoon. The nine o'clock hour was well enough for the summer months but it seems to be early for the winter months. A cordial welcome awaits you. Worship with us.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

G. W. Springer, Pastor

We are greatly encouraged by the increased attendance at all church services. And the splendid interest that is manifest in every department of the church.

The young peoples society had charge of the evening service last Sunday, there were a large number present (between 25 and 30 young people). We rejoice in the interest these young people take, not only the Sunday School and Church services, but the prayer meetings as well. Roy Shipman, president of the young peoples society led the mid-week prayer service this week, giving us one of the most spiritual services we have ever had.

In view of the fact that the pastor of this church underwent a tonsil operation the first of the week, services will be somewhat altered. In the morning at 11 o'clock Mrs. Springer will bring the message. The topic of the sermon will be "Peace in Chaos." In the evening at 7:30 Dr. Hazlett, student of the Baptist seminary in Portland, will preach on the subject "Enemies of the Cross of Christ." Dr. Hazlett needs no introduction to members of this church.

At the last regular meeting Bill Sidden won the game of observation. This was called a "Kim's game," and was prepared by the senior patrol leader who led the meeting. Apparently none who attended were prepared to go to the court of honor for merit badges this Thursday; but there are two candidates for advanced ranks.

Tomorrow shortly after 4 p. m., scouts will leave with the assistant scoutmaster for an overnight hike. It is for all, but patrol leaders are especially urged to attend so that work on the "Bob Cross" program can be done. There will probably be a diamond hunt Sunday after breakfast. Scouts should bring plenty of bedding and food for two meals—carried in model packs, etc.

Next meeting is planned for the 24th Friday evening, at 7:45.

The historical articles are continued in this issue.

HISTORY OF SCOUTING

(IV. Later Accomplishments)

The Lone Scouts of America, an organization for the boys on remote farms, and homesteads, etc., was merged with the boy scouts in 1923.

Procedure was approved by which scouts with insurmountable physical handicaps can qualify for merit badges through the achievement badges which takes the place of second or first class ranks.

Outstanding service by scouts was given in connection with the California earthquake, Louisiana fire, Illinois tornado, Florida hurricane and Arkansas flood of 1925 and 1926. Also in the St. Louis tornado and the Mississippi and Vermont flood disaster of 1927.

On the Borden-Field Museum Expedition to the Bering Sea eight sea scouts were taken as sailors and were highly praised.

The handbook for boys was thoroughly revised and was issued in 1927 along with the "How Book" and the winter camp manual.

67th Session of National Grange Meets in Idaho

to use public funds toward the redistributing of this population and toward finding for unemployed industrial workers an opportunity to produce part of their income from small tracts of land, so located that they can be employed part time if the opportunity is afforded. Nevertheless, to avoid a spurious "protection" in the obligation to protect agriculture in this new program by making sure that undesirable groups are not moved from the city to rural areas, and that undue burdens are not placed on farm communities to demand greater educational facilities and welfare relief.

Five Essential Steps

In recommending a program for the future, National Master Taber points out that five essential steps must be kept constantly in mind—

1. Prices. A high standard of living cannot be maintained on a low price level and a democracy such as ours cannot endure unless it gives to the average man a reasonable chance to secure a fair start toward success in the race of life.

2. Wages. Well paid labor and satisfactory conditions are essential to prosperity. Men who are unemployed or on the dole are not good customers for beef-steak, ham or dairy products.

3. The tremendous increase in debt calls for the most serious consideration and unless the debt structure of the nation, both public and private is brought under control grave trouble is ahead.

4. Taxes. The increase in the real estate tax burden is still more than 240% of the pre-war level, and the base of taxation must be still further broadened. Privilege, income and luxury contribute to society. There must be no tax dodgers in America.

5. Money. An honest dollar is more than a name. The justice and honesty of our monetary structure affects the morality, the patriotic ideals and the lives of all our people.

Give Recital

The piano pupils of Miss Fern Haines entertained their mothers at her home with a recital Wednesday evening. "Little Gray Owl" and "Drifting" were played by Norma Pentz; "Hallowe'en," and "Christmas Bells" Jack Siddens; "Blue Iris Waltz" and "Blue Bell March," Lewis Emmons; "Tick Tock" and "March of the Wee Folks," Virginia McGuire; "Dreamland of Play" and "Mountain Streams" June Boswell; "Goodbye, Old Year" and Robert Schumann's "Joyous Pheasant," Ortha Pulphier; "Etude No. 12," June Boswell; duet, R. Schumann's "A March of Soldiers," Lewis Emmons and Virginia McGuire; "Etude No. 11" and "The Song of the Paper Dolls," Grace Hupy; "Violin" and Edward E. Menges' "Spinning Wheel," Betty Hanson; duet, Schobell's Op. 68, "In Knightly Array," Ortha Pulphier and Betty Hanson.

After the recital a few games were played and refreshments were served by the hostess, with Miss Katherine Denney assisting.

It is estimated that 13½ billion cords of wood have been used for fuel in the United States since 1630. During the same period, the equivalent of only one-third of this amount has been manufactured into lumber.
