Scouts last Friday met and enjoyed some methods of stalking, wherein scouts approach a blind folded leader without him detecting them. Quite a silent game!

Saturday afternoon several scouts—Jim Thompson, James Miller, Lisle Walker, Russell Huett and William Graham, went into the northwest woods. The hike started just before noon and lasted about four hours.

This week scout reregistration is being completed for the year just started.

In February during the national Scout Anniversary Week, the scout troop will hold a parent's night meeting which all scouts, parents and leaders are requested to attend. Definite date will be known next week.

Lisle Walker, Asst. S. M.

HISTORY OF SCOUTING

XIV Court of Honor

Only recently the Court of Honor system has been changed.

Boys who have passed a rank or merit badge before an examiner—puts in his Court application. Few new scouts court is the first Thursday in the month; for advanced scouts it is the third Thursday.

He appears on that night in uniform before a board of review, who passes on his ability and knowledge. If he is going up for ranks or honor awards he appears before the court and the friends of the court and is awarded the badge. If he is applying for merit badges he returns home and is given them at a coming meeting in his local troop. This allows less sameness and monotony, and makes it easier for parents and friends to attend.

Rovers, Surveyors and Sea Scouts, as well as the regular boy scouts go to the court for advancement.
